

Wallace Says Polls Rigged For Nixon

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — George C. Wallace charged Wednesday that Richard M. Nixon is in cahoots with the Gallup Poll and said the national public opinion polls are rigged.

Wallace called for a congressional investigation of the professional polltakers, who he said are controlled by the Eastern moneyed interests.

The third-party presidential challenger predicted the next major poll will show that he has lost ground to Republican Nixon. He offered this explanation at a rally of 5,000 in Scranton, Pa., elaborating at an airport news conference in Albany later.

"Mr. Nixon said in Michigan the other day Gov. Wallace is beginning to lose some of his support — and the reason for that is, Mr. Nixon knows what the Gallup Poll is going to say in advance.

"Because they are for Mr. Nixon. And we ought to have a Congressional investigation of these professional pollsters in the country."

A spokesman for Gallup said in Princeton, N. J., that there was no truth whatsoever to Wallace's charges.

"The Gallup Poll has never done any work for any party or candidate," he said. "We're fact finders. We report the facts as we find them."

It was not known whether Wallace had had a pre-publication look at the next Gallup or Harris polls. They are distributed to news media in advance of publication date and frequently the word gets out.

"In my judgment," Wallace complained as he arrived for a rally on the capitol grounds here, "this Eastern moneyed interest crowd has controlled the polls, and ought to be investigated in the next Congress, because they are trying themselves to elect candidates by molding public opinion, by trying to point out a winner."

"But they're not going to get by with that."

On questioning, Wallace identified the Eastern moneyed interests as the multibillion-dollar, tax-exempt foundations that he condemns in virtually every campaign speech.

McCarthy Makes HHH Sad, Refuses To Endorse Him

NEW YORK (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey said Wednesday "I feel a little sad" at Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's refusal to endorse him for the presidency.

Humphrey said, however, "I'm not prone to start meeting conditions. I state my own case."

The vice president's comment at an airport news conference apparently referred to McCarthy's statement Tuesday night that he would not endorse Humphrey at this time, but that there were conditions he hoped Humphrey would adopt.

McCarthy called for a shift in Vietnam war policy, a restructuring of the draft system and reform of the Democratic party machinery.

While flying from Boston to New York to accept the state's Liberal party presidential nomination Humphrey told newsmen he talked to McCarthy on the telephone Tuesday. He said the Minnesota senator was more concerned about the structure of a South Vietnamese government than about an immediate bombing halt.

In his speech prepared for delivery to the Liberal party, Humphrey turned his guns on the running mates of Richard M. Nixon

Architects Slate First Open House For Saturday

"Rods, gears and wheels" describes the theme of School of Architecture's first public exhibit of the academic season.

On display are a combination of 16 prints of vintage automobiles and steam tractors, relics of logging locomotives and a 1927 model of a Studebaker.

Open house Saturday will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The classic autos and tractors, eight of each, are "graphic in representation and are superb line drawings," Architecture Asst. Prof. John J. Exley and exhibit chairman said.

The "HO" gauge brass logging locomotives are of the type used in the Northwest at the turn of the century. They are wood and oil type engines.

The Studebaker model was made from a single piece of pine by Exley's uncle, Robert Exley.

"It is fully sprung with workable steering mechanism," Exley pointed out.

The committee expects to have changing exhibits weekly.

Other committee members include assistant professors J. W. Wood, Anthony Caporina and R. J. Bernard.

and energetic campaign director in Ed Fenner," Schleider emphasized.

Fenner in turn announced the appointment of Sawyer, Jack Bradshaw, W. Taylor Riedel and Dr. Luther Jones as associate campaign directors.

Sawyer, vice president of University National Bank, will head the drive among local business establishments. Bradshaw, an official of the state's Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Committee, will coordinate activities among federal agencies.

Riedel, superintendent of the A&M Consolidated Independent School District, will direct the drive in the school system and Dr. Jones, retired A&M agronomy professor, will be campaign representative for retired persons.

Sharing agencies and the amounts they are to receive from the 1968 College Station United Chest are:

College Station Community House, Inc., $2,500; College Station Recreation Council, $2,500; Boy's Club of America (Bryan), $3,000; Brazos Valley Rehabilitation Center, $3,000; Brazos County Counseling Service, $2,500; Salvation Army, $1,350.

Girl Scouts Area Council, $2,800; Boy Scouts of America, $3,000; American Red Cross, $3,500; Texas United Fund, $100; United Service Organization (USO), $300; Traveler's Aid of America, $50; United Cerebral Palsy of Texas, Inc., $200; Girl's Club of Brazos County, $1,500; and Texas Association of Mental Health, $450.

The last three organizations on the list are additions.

Remaining $750 in the 1968 budget covers campaign expenditures and is the same amount approved last year, Schleider pointed out.

He said the board unanimously approved the allocations as submitted by the organization's Budget and Admissions Committee headed by Dr. Charles Hall.

The board is fully aware of the substantial increase in the budget," Schleider noted, "and is confident that when the people of College Station become aware of the various agencies' needs, they too will feel that the requests are reasonable and necessary."

Security Chief Asks Students' Help To Ease Game Parking Problems

Students are urged again this year to help ease parking problems created at home football games.

They have been requested to remove their cars Saturday from several lots in the immediate vicinity of Kyle Field to help provide ample parking facilities for visitors attending the A&M-Tech game.

Security Chief Ed Powell asked students to remove their cars by 10 a.m. Saturday.

Parking lots needed for Saturday's game include Lots 9, 30, 31, 48 and 49, which provide nearly 2,000 spaces, Powell pointed out.

Students, however, will not be without adequate parking facilities. Powell said they may park in space available north of Ross and east of Houston, as well as along the streets in these areas.

Lots also available for students asked to remove their cars are 4, 5, 7 and 8.

While all cars should be removed by the 10 a.m. deadline, Powell added, "it does not mean that a student attending the game with his family or friends cannot compete for space later in the day."

Powell said home games demand "a lot of cooperation on the part of everyone" and called for "good sportsmanship both on the field and off."
