Wildlife Specialist Dies Monday

Richard E. Callender, 75, retired Texas Agricultural Extension Service wildlife specialist, died Monday morning at his home at 209 Lee Street in College Station.

Funeral services are set for 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in the Hillier Funeral Home, with Mr. Adrian Griffin of Bryan's First Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in Bryan City Cemetery.

Callender is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mattie V. Callender of College Station; a daughter, Mrs. Merle Smith of New Orleans, La.; two sisters, Mrs. W. P. Hassell and Mrs. J. E. Prescott, both of Port Arthur; a brother, E. E. Callender of Hempstead; and five grandchildren.

Callender was the first Extension Service wildlife specialist in the United States and retired in 1956. He had served in that capacity since 1936 and organized district 4-H Club camps for boys to study wildlife. He is generally credited in developing early interest in wildlife management by Texas landowners.

The Extension worker was born in 1892 in Grimes County. He served as superintendent of schools at Rosenberg from 1916-18, was a World War I veteran, joined the Extension Service in 1919 and was county agricultural agent for Austin, Caldwell and Hill Counties until he became wildlife specialist.

Callender was a Mason and Shriner, a former member of the Texas Academy of Sciences, and a member of the First Baptist Church of Bryan. He also was a member of the Brazos County Bar Association but never practiced law.

KATHY HELDMAN

Aggie Sweetheart To Leave On Tour Of Military Bases

Miss Kathy Heldman, 1967-68 Texas Aggie Sweetheart, will leave Oct. 18 on a tour of Military installations in the Pacific area, sponsored by the USO-NMC-Department of Defense.

She is a member of the Lass-O Choraliers, popular TWU vocal group, who have been selected for the fourth time as attractions to appear on overseas tours.

The group is directed by Dr. J. Wilgus Eberly, chairman of the TWU Department of Music and well-known concert pianist.

The Pacific area tour, scheduled from Oct. 18 through Dec. 12, will include Japan, Korea, Okinawa, Guam, Formosa, the Philippines and Hawaii.

She was selected the 1968 Aggie Sweetheart and the Cotton Bowl Queen in January of 1968. She is a member of the TWU Choir and was an assistant music director for Future Teachers of America as a freshman.

Miss Heldman, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Heldman, 2010 Echols, Bryan.

Students Wanted For Peace Corps

A&M students interested in Peace Corps volunteer service abroad have a new university organization to work through that puts them closer to their prospective tour.

The local Peace Corps advisory council appointed by President Earl Rudder has been given many of the functions previously carried out at the national level.

Dr. Manuel M. Davenport, Philosophy and Humanities Department head, chairs the council comprised of six faculty members and three students.

Other faculty members are Dr. J. E. Christiansen, agricultural education; Dr. I. O. Linger and A. R. Waters, economics; Dr. Bardin H. Nelson, sociology, and R. E. Vrooman, architecture. Student council members include Nelson Jacob of Goliad, campus Peace Corps Club president; Paul Ammons of Houston and Danny Ruiz, Austin.

Aggie-Ex Returns To A&M With Ph.D.

Dr. Ralph J. Vernon, former A&M student and staffer, rejoins the A&M faculty this year after a two year absence while working on a Ph.D. degree at the University of Iowa.

Dr. Vernon received his degree in preventive medicine and environmental health. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Clemson and his Master of Education from Texas A&M.

He will teach and do research in industrial hygiene and safety in Industrial Education Department of the College of Engineering.

Dr. Vernon first joined the A&M staff in 1951 to assist in the development of a curriculum known today as Industrial Technology. He later worked as a safety engineer with Liberty Mutual Insurance Co.
