The Texas Aggie Fish football team hits the road tonight seeking their fourth straight victory of the season as they meet the Texas Tech Picadors in a 7:30 p.m. clash in Lubbock.

The Fish will take the field on the wings of a 14-7 victory over the Rice Owlets last week in Kyle Field. A&M pounced on two fourth quarter Rice fumbles and then scored with lightning speed to shut down the Houston visitors.

Quarterback Joe King led the last period comeback with his pin-point passing, completing four of his last six passes on the winning drive. He finally found Joey Herr all alone in the end zone with 22 seconds left in the game for the 11-yard score and the Fish picked up their third win against no losses.

A fired-up defensive unit led by Van Odom, Wayne Wheat, Tom Evans, Steve Luebbehusen, and the defensive secondary came back in the final stanza to play their finest game of the year. After three quarters of mediocre football, they smothered Rice Quarterback Mike Kramer time after time as he attempted to pass the Owlets back into contention.

Steve Burks of Dumas remained the leading rusher through three games for the Fish although he carried only once for one yard in the Rice game. He now has 116 yards on 34 trips for a 3.4 average. King upped his passing effectiveness with a 5 completions for 12 attempts showing in the Owlet game. He is nine for 27 for 173 yards and two touchdowns for the season.

Herr, from Fort Worth (Eastern Hills), became the leading Fish receiver with a fine demonstration against the Owlets. He caught four aeriels for 77 yards and the winning touchdown. His record for the year shows seven receptions for 128 yards and one score.

The big guns for the Tech Picadors are Brenham's Miles Langhennig at halfback and quarterback Dale Rebold, signal caller for last year's AAAA state champs, Austin Reagan.

Coach Jim Keller's undefeated charges will line up in the same spots with King expected to get the nod at quarterback over Mike Bunker, the starter last week. Others in the backfield will be Burks at tailback, Doug Robbins at fullback, and Billy Joe Polasek at wingback. On the line will be John Gardner (WE), Barb Hin-nant (WT), Robin Davis (WG), Ted Smith (C), Leonard Forey (SG), Tom Eilers (ST), and Herr (SE).

Gametime in Red Raider Stadium is 7:30 p.m. and the game will be broadcast over KORA

Elmendorf Equally At Home In Classroom Or Athletic Field

If you're searching for an all-around performer with brains and brawn, you need to contact Dave Elmendorf, a sophomore on the Texas A&M football squad.

Elmendorf, from Houston, was the city's outstanding high school athlete his senior year at Westbury High. He was a wingback and safety in football and an outfielder in baseball. He was all-city, all-state and all-America in football and his baseball feats had the pros making him tempting offers.

Too, he was president of his junior class, vice president of his senior class and had a grade average of 4.83 on a 5-point system. He graduated Magna Cum Laude.

He played both ways on the A&M freshman football team, a halfback on both offense and defense and he played leftfield on the varsity baseball team (freshmen were eligible) and he made the all-SWC team. Meanwhile he posted straight "A" in the classroom. He was all-SWC on the league's freshman football selections, too.

This season he first filled in for the injured Wendell Housley at fullback and against Florida State he scored two touchdowns and rushed for 129 yards. Later, when Housley returned to action and Bob Long was hurt, Dave took over at the wingback position.

At 6-1 and 190, Elmendorf has good speed, good receiving hands and he's smart.

The two touchdowns against Florida State rank along with the three home runs he hit in one game against Texas Tech last spring as his greatest athletic thrill.

This past summer he played for the Cessna Aircraft baseball team in the Victory League and led the circuit in hitting with a .514 average.

Elmendorf, with a brilliant collegiate athletic career still ahead, is undecided about his major although he is in Liberal Arts at the present time. If the offers are right he likely will lean toward professional baseball once he has finished his education at Aggieland.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Elmendorf of Houston, Dave has proven to be a great utility man for the Aggie football squad this season. Don't be surprised to find him lining up at another position before the season closes. He has the versatility to play anywhere.

Sayers Rambles For 205 Yards And Bears Win

NEW YORK (AP) — On the theory that a man who runs for 205 yards against Green Bay rates the nod over a field goal kicker, even if the latter does win the game, the Associated Press has named Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears as the offensive player of the week in the National Football League.

Sayers even outdid himself Sunday in Green Bay with 205 yards on 24 carries, his best day since he gained 284 yards as a sophomore at Kansas against Oklahoma State.

"We won," said Sayers after the Bears' 13-10 victory. "That's the main thing. It doesn't make any difference how many yards I make. We're leading our division tied with Minnesota. That's what counts."

In addition to piling up the yardage, Sayers was used as a decoy while others carried the ball. One Chicago score came when the Packers keyed on Sayers who ran right while quarterback Virgil Carter bootlegged for two yards to the left.

Of course, it was Mac Percival's 43-yard field goal in the final 26 seconds on a free kick that won the game. Percival's streak of 10 consecutive field goals was broken earlier in the game but the former school teacher made it 11 out of 12 with the game-winner.
