

Chapel Service Set

An all-faiths Thanksgiving worship service again will be held in A&M's All-Faiths Chapel at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 25.

Campus minister Ron Birk will deliver the special emphasis message during the traditional observance. Thanksgiving services have been held in All-Faiths Chapel since it opened in 1957.

Several civilian and Cadet Corps students will be on this year's program, Logan L. Weston said. Weston, religious activities coordinator, noted the interdenominational program will include Civilian Chaplain Larry Schilhab, a junior from Conroe, and Corps Chaplain Ray Dillon, Kilgore senior.

Schilhab will lead the invocation and Lord's Prayer. Dillon will voice the benediction.

Call to worship will be by sophomore student Ross Oliver of San Antonio with music by Sinton junior Mark Satterwhite.

Special music has been planned by A&M's Singing Cadets.

David Howard, Houston senior, will read a portion of Psalms, and San Antonio senior Clarence Daugherty will read Scripture.

Prof Lauds Program

Taking a look at the academic year, Texas A&M's Dr. A. W. Wortham feels his integrated educational program is paying off dividends.

"The industrial engineering department has one of the best integrated educational programs in the country," said Wortham, department head.

He attributes achievement to a combined "development of students, faculty and staff, and facilities."

Wortham feels his department's responsibility is the training of "modern industrial engineers capable of fulfilling their role in an industrial, governmental, or educational environment."

To accomplish this objective, Wortham and his faculty-staff members offer seven major programs in operations research, computer science, maintainability engineering, planning and control, industrial operations, human factors and information science.

WORTHAM HAD high praise for his 200 undergraduates and 251 graduate students, the largest in the department's history.

"The quality of the student can best be described by his achievement," Wortham noted, pointing out papers placed first, third and alternate in Oklahoma University Technological Paper contest for undergraduates.

He also disclosed graduate students won first and second place in the Houston Chapter of the Operations Research Society of America.

During the year, the first Ph.D. in industrial engineering was granted. Four additional students have since received their doctorate.

Wortham added, "Department growth has been highlighted by the expansion of the computer science curriculum, graduation of first and second classes of maintainability program, and development of human factors and information science programs."

WORTHAM disclosed that the human factors program is "one of the first where human factors in engineering is offered."

Discussing needs for these programs, he said the information science program resulted from the increased "installation of computer systems."

He pointed out, too, that the maintainability program offers students opportunity to earn a graduate degree while studying in the maintainability area.

The department has kept pace with student growth with 28 faculty and five staff members.

Mother Asks Federal Court To Help Son

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Palo Alto mother asked a federal court writ Thursday banning punishment of her 18-year-old son for refusing to register for the draft.

If the government demands penalty, Mrs. Evelyn Whitehorn declared, she and not her son should be punished.

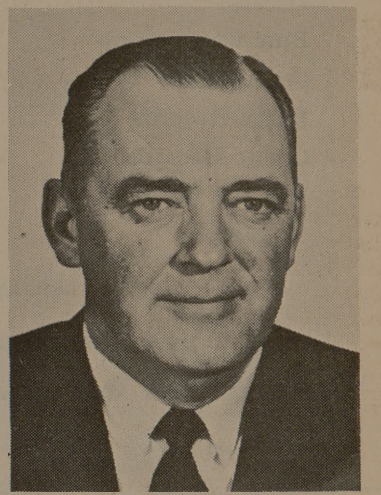

Mrs. Whitehorn said she instructed her son, Erik, to refuse Selective Service registration. As a minor, Erik is required under law to obey his parents, she insisted.

Mrs. Whitehorn and Erik were with their attorney, Aubrey Grossman, when he filed the action challenging the constitutionality of the Selective Service law.

Mrs. Whitehorn said she acted on conviction that the Vietnam War is immoral.

Mrs. Whitehorn and Erik declared their refusal to register before Selective Service Board 62 in San Jose Oct. 23.

The draft board has ordered Erik's case turned over to the U.S. attorney for prosecution if he fails to register by Nov. 12.

DR. JOHN DUNN

Juco Meeting To Be Opened By Californian

Noted California educator Dr. John Dunn will keynote Monday night sessions of the 25th Junior College Conference here, Dr. C. H. Ransdell announces.

Ransdell said Dunn's lecture will "scan the horizons of two-year college education," which is also the topic of his address.

Ransdell is conference chairman and A&M College of Engineering assistant dean.

The one and a half day conference is sponsored by A&M. Sessions will be held in the Memorial Student Center, starting with registration at 8 a.m., Nov. 11, and continuing through 11:30 a.m., Nov. 12.

Ransdell also noted that Dunn's evening discussion follows two earlier major addresses by Dr. Grant Venn, associate commissioner of education with the U. S. Department of Education, Health and Welfare, and Dr. John R. Guemple, assistant commissioner for tech-vocational education with the Texas Education Agency.

Conference theme is "The Challenge of Technician Training."

A native of Oregon, Dunn received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Oregon. He later earned his doctorate in educational administration from the University of Southern California in 1956.

Serving as superintendent of Peralta Junior College District since July 1964, he is a former president of Palomar College in San Marcos.

He has held positions of dean of students at Portland State College and dean of faculty at Oregon Technical Institute.

Dunn currently serves as president of the California Junior College Association and is chairman of Commission on Administration for American Association of Junior Colleges.

Librarian Directs Book Transfer

A&M librarian Sue Taylor of the College of Veterinary Medicine literally had her hands full this week directing movement of books and equipment into new quarters.

Transfer of the books into the college's partially completed Veterinary Medical Administration Building marked the first step in a long awaited move, Dean A. A. Price said.

Price noted several "earlier moves had been cancelled" in the past few months due to incompleteness of facilities.

Total occupancy is expected to take several weeks with Price's office staff now expected to move "sometime next week."

The new building will eventually house elements of pathology, parasitology, physiology and medicine and surgery.

Also scheduled is a renovation of all present structures "as soon as they are vacated," Price added. An estimated 90 days will be needed for renovation purposes.

Price indicated the library move will "take four days."

The total program will cost $4.2 million when completed.

One college does more than broaden horizons. It sails to them, and beyond.

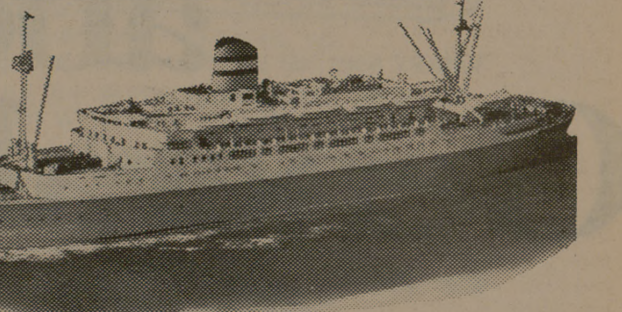

Now there's a way for you to know the world around you first-hand. A way to see the things you've read about, and study as you go. The way is a college that uses the Parthenon as a classroom for a lecture on Greece, and illustrates Hong Kong's floating societies with an hour's ride on a harbor sampan.

Every year Chapman College's World Campus Afloat takes two groups of 500 students out of their classrooms and opens up the world for them. And you can be one of the 500. Your new campus is the s.s. Ryndam, equipped with modern educational facilities and a fine faculty. You'll have a complete study curriculum as you go. And earn a fully-accredited semester while at sea.

Chapman College is now accepting enrollments for Spring '69 and Fall '69 semesters. Spring '69 circles the world, from Los Angeles through the Orient, India, South Africa, to New York. Fall '69 leaves New York for Europe, the Mediterranean, Africa, South America, ending in Los Angeles.

The world is there. Here's a good way for you to find out what's happening. Send for our catalog with the coupon at right.

Safety Information: The s.s. Ryndam, registered in the Netherlands, meets International Safety Standards for new ships developed in 1948 and meets 1966 fire safety requirements.
