

Golfers Get Support From Sponsors

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Professional Golfers, top touring pro who broke with the Professional Golfers Association, announced Thursday the signing for 19 tournaments with a total purse of $2,305,000.

"Thirteen other sponsors have requested contracts with the APG for 1969," said Gardner Dickinson Jr., president of the APG. "These contracts have been mailed to sponsors, which should assure the APG of having a very representative tour schedule in 1969." Meanwhile, the PGA, fighting the new organization in the courts, also was busy dickering with sponsors. It reported three definite events, another tentative in addition to the annual PGA Championship, which has been left hanging in the air. The sponsor war is brisk, with the PGA threatening further court action if the APG sets a tournament in conflict with a PGA-sponsored event. Thus, the APG, in its announcement, declined to specify dates, although some leaked through the sponsors themselves.

The tournaments for which the rebel pros contend to have agreements include the following: Kaiser International Open, Los Angeles Open, Andy Williams-San Diego Open, Doral Open at Miami, Monsanto Open at Pensacola, Fla., Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, Atlanta Classic, Cleveland Open, Philadelphia Golf Classic, Haig Open, Heritage Golf Classic. Greater Jacksonville Open, Florida Citrus Open at Orlando, Phoenix Open, Tucson Open, Greater New Orleans Open, Colonial Open at Hartford, Conn., and the Memphis Open. The Monsanto Chemical Co. announced that the Pensacola tournament, raised to $100,000, would be played March 13-16.

HONORARY STARTER

Rec-Park Golf Awards Tonight

It's a long wait from the pin to the banquet for trophies, but Texas Recreation and Park Society golfers braved a headwind Thursday afternoon to determine who was king.

Weather was cool making the air clear and crisp in the early afternoon for the recreation and park planners and managers. Substituting for A&M head football coach and athletic director Gene Stallings was associate athletic director Marvin Tate who served as honorary starter.

The golf tournament has become an annual classic among members who played this year's tournament at Bryan Municipal Golf course.

Trophies will be awarded at Friday night's 31st anniversary banquet. Society members are hosted by A&M's Department of Recreation and Parks.

AGGIES FACE

Levias has grabbed 61 passes for 892 yards and 5 touchdowns while Fleming has caught 42 for 436 yards and six touchdowns and Richardson has grabbed 32 for 375 yards and one touchdown. RICHARDSON is also the Mustangs number one running threat. The number three rusher in the conference has gained 565 yards on the ground for a 4.6 average. Barney Harris, Tommy Maxwell, Bob Long and Larry Stegent have been Hargett's favorite targets although Long and Stegent have both missed a few games with injuries. Harris has grabbed 23 tosses for 418 yards and three touchdowns while Maxwell has caught 19 for 305 yards and 1 touchdown and Long has grabbed 16 for 257 yards and four touchdowns. Stegent is also the Aggies' top ground gainer with 306 yards for a 5.3 yard average and three touchdowns.

Levias leads the SWC in receiving with fellow Mustangs Ken Fleming and Mike Richardson second and third respectively.

Atkins Can Do Without Halas And Chicago

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Does Doug Atkins, the man mountain from Tennessee, have a grudge against the Cleveland Browns for trading him to the Chicago Bears 13 years ago?

The 38-year-old Atkins, a mainstay of the surprising New Orleans Saints defense, just chuckles when he's asked that question. But earlier this season, he made 13 unassisted tackles in a game against Cleveland, and although the Saints were defeated in the final minutes, Atkins was named the National Football League's defensive player of the week by The Associated Press.

"I'd like to get that many tackles and win when we play them Sunday," said Atkins Thursday. "But I don't care how many tackles I get if we win."

The Saints are 16-point underdogs for their Century Division game in Cleveland Sunday against the Browns. At an age when most defensive linemen have long retired, Atkins is having an amazing season. Last Sunday he decked Dallas' Don Meredith three times.

The 6-foot-8 defensive end, a college star at Tennessee, makes no bones about his dislike for the Chicago Bears and the team's owner, George "Papa Bear" Halas, the patriarch of pro football.

When Atkins was traded before the 1967 season to the expansion Saints, he said it felt "like I've got a new lease on life." He said he'd been trying to get Halas to trade him for years.

The Cleveland Browns drafted Atkins as their No. 1 pick in 1953 and three seasons later he was traded to the Bears.

SHORT OF A MIRACLE

Rome's Coliseum, partly tumbled into ruin, is considered one of the wonders of the world. It was built in 80 A. D.—and that is a long time ago, to be sure. Yet it is but a second when measured against the ages that have passed since God created the world.

The Coliseum—wonder that it is—is also visible proof of the limit of man's accomplishments. We consider it nothing short of a miracle that something built by man has endured that long. Yet those things created by God remain endless and eternal.

God's works should, indeed, fill even the wisest of us with wonder, with awe, and with gratitude. We tend to take them all too much for granted. We tend, at times, to forget them—and even to forget Him—entirely.

Discover God again, in the church of your choice and in the process, rediscover yourself.

Here is the 1968 season. The zany, unpredictable Southwest Conference season. Where underdogs become topdogs on any given Saturday. Where comparative scores, home field advantage and other prognostic devices are thrown to the winds. Where on the day of the game it's just us versus them and to hell with what happened last week or last year. Yes, the Southwest Conference has tradition—anyone can win, anyone can pull the big shocker of the season and fate doesn't play favorites.
