

AP's Grimsley Picks Hogs Over SMU Sports Cars Lose Rallye

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Oklahoma and Auburn are late bloomers capable of shaking up the Top Ten and further scrambling the bowl picture, but only one will do it.

The Sooners should add the Missouri scalp to that of Kansas, but Auburn may be caught looking over Georgia's head to hated Alabama. Upset bets: Michigan

State over Purdue, UCLA over Washington.

Last week: 44-15 for .746. Season: 322-96, .770.

Southern California 30, Oregon State 23: The Trojans stop Earthquake Enyart and avenge last year's only defeat.

Ohio State 27, Iowa 20: Two of the year's top offensive powers, but the Buckeyes have the stouter defense.

Georgia 19, Auburn 15: The Plainsmen have the muscle and imagination to win but their big effort will come Nov. 30 against Bear Bryant.

Arkansas 26, Southern Methodist 19: Bill Montgomery wins a passing duel with Chuck Hixson, the nation's leader.

Michigan State 23, Purdue 19: Duffy Daugherty figures to have a jest and strategem for the favored Leroy Keyes & Co.

Syracuse 21, Navy 14: The upstate New Yorkers have the fifth best defensive record in college football.

Yale 27, Princeton 15: If the Tigers couldn't beat Harvard at home, how can they top Yale at New Haven?

UCLA 17, Washington 14: Tommy Prothro pulls the Uclans out of the doldrums for one titanic effort.

Alabama 25, Miami 17: The Hurricanes are tough in their own backyard, but the Tide finally is putting the pieces together.

Tennessee 29, Mississippi 23: A job here getting the Vols up after last week's loss, but Doug Dickey should do it.

Dartmouth 18, Cornell 14: Bob Blackman takes it out on his old pupil, Jack Musick, to forestall a losing season.

The Texas A&M Sports Car Club's first night rallye ended in another victory for Detroit, with sports cars losing out 4-2.

The Rallye, run in two classes — one for experts, one for novices, was over a course of twisting, interesting roads, in the direction of Navasota, bringing out the best driving skills in all the entrants. In the experts' class, 4 cars were entered, while 19 teams of driver and navigator entered in the novice class.

First place in the expert class went to an MGB of the Gulf Team, 2nd went to a Citroen and 3rd place (out of 4) went to a broken-down Chevrolet of Weckerling's, lovingly referred to as "The Heap".

In the Novice class, first taken by a Plymouth roadster by Team Light, second went to Team Morgan in a classic Tin dberbird, and third went to Luhr in a Torino GT.
