

POLITICS AS PROFESSION

LUCKNOW, India (AP) — The leader of the rightwing Swatantra party, M. R. Masani, wants politicians to undergo special training before they "are allowed to enter the field."

"If training could be imparted to teachers, doctors, engineers and journalists, why not politicians?" says Masani.

Past Director Of Aggie Band Dies In Waco

A former Texas A&M band director, Alois Slovacek, died recently and was buried in Waco. Aggie bandmaster from 1917 to 1920, Slovacek, who was 86, had the present A&M director as a cornet student in the former Bryan Junior Band.

Lt. Col. E. V. Adams played in the private organization with several other local youths, including present Bryan residents Sam Knox, Charles Edge, Hendricks Conway, Harry Dishman and Louis Nedbalek.

Slovacek was a longtime resident of Waco where he owned and operated a music company opened in 1927. He organized and directed several Waco area bands, collected rare musical instruments and invented small appliances and parts for instruments.

He came to the U. S. from Czechoslovakia at the age of six and taught himself to play various instruments. He played with the famed bands of Bohumir Krejl, Frederick Innes, Jaroslav Cimerka and the Royal Scotch Highlanders before appointment as A&M bandmaster.

Among survivors is a son, Alois Jr. of La Habra, Calif. The younger Slovacek is a trumpet soloist and director of orchestras and musical groups for Hollywood film studio recording.

Superfish Here To Stay, Reports Florida Official

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — They're not as big or as vicious as early reports indicated, but Florida's walking catfish are here to stay.

John W. Woods, chief of the fisheries division of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, said Tuesday the weird fish can move over land on fins that propel them in a snake-like motion.

"It's impossible to get rid of them. All we can do is hope it won't be too bad," Woods said.

Woods said a survey led to the capture of 4,000 specimen and showed that the catfish infest most of the canals in Palm Beach and Broward counties, and have moved into the Miami area.

EQUALLY at home in fresh and salty water, the fish are believed to have been introduced by Floridians who bought them for household tanks, tired of them and then dumped the fish into canals.

"They will be with us now as one of our fish," Woods said. In Florida the fish are growing to a maximum of about 15 to 17 inches long, much smaller than fish experts predicted.

WOODS SAID shrimp, snails, tadpoles and smaller fish have been found in stomachs of the catfish, raising the possibility they could offset the balance of nature by devouring desirable game fish.

Longley Resigns Position From Consol School Board

A&M Consolidated Independent School District Board of Trustees accepted the resignation of John B. Longley this week.

In a communique to the board Longley said, "I consider it a real privilege to have served on the Board of Trustees for the past eight and one half years."

Longley, a vice-president of an insurance company, explained that "beginning on or about December 1, 1968, my business activities will require me to be out of town a major portion of the time. It appears that my schedule for the next six months or so will prevent my attendance at regular meetings."

"For these reasons I respectfully request that you accept my immediate resignation from the Board of Trustees of the A&M Consolidated Independent School District."

Greer Scholarship Aids Four Aggies

The D. C. Greer Scholarship Fund is helping four civil engineering students advance their academic careers at Texas A&M this year.

The five recipients include two seniors and two juniors. The seniors are Fahri Y. Baskurt of Ankara, Turkey, and Darrell Boethel of Beeville. Michael G. Hogan of Tomball and Randy J. Rector of San Angelo are the juniors.

The Civil Engineering Scholarship Committee recently named the scholarship winners. Chairman is M. Drahm Jones, associate professor of civil engineering.

Baskurt and Boethel received $500 each with $400 going to both Hogan and Rector.

The civil engineering endowment fund totaling more than $62,500 was established here last year in honor of State Highway Engineer Dewitt C. Greer. It was raised by statewide public subscription.

Proceeds from the endowment will be used to provide undergraduate scholarships for civil engineering students interested in careers as highway engineers. Greer, who has retired after 40 years with the state highway department, is a 1923 graduate of Texas A&M.

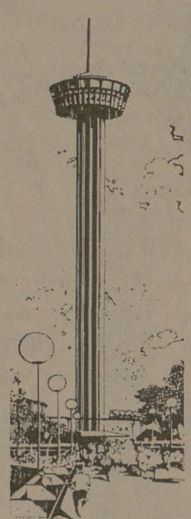

Longley served as secretary of the board in 1960 and as the president of the board from 1963 to 1965. "I feel the A&M Consolidated Board has a lot of important work and that they will need a full time member to function properly," commented Longley Wednesday night.
