

Wolverines' Johnson Saves His Talking For The Games

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Ron Johnson, Michigan's on-and-off-the-field double threat, could make a big difference when the Wolverines and Ohio State meet in Columbus Saturday for the Big Ten Conference football title and a bid to the Rose Bowl.

Leadership ability is a quality that is hard to pin down, but everyone agrees that the great tailback from Detroit can lead just about as well as he can run. And that is very well indeed.

Johnson's teammates recognized that ability last spring when they elected Johnson the captain. Wolverine Coach Bump Elliott spotted it when he saw Johnson's 346 yards in rushing and five touchdowns against Wisconsin last week.

"I just think it's instinct," Elliott said.

"He's a strong runner and has great instincts. And the men on the ball club like to block for him. That's the kind of guy he is," Elliott said.

Johnson is a quiet fellow and Michigan, as Johnson himself put it, is not a "scream and bang on the walls kind of team."

The Wolverines don't fire up for a game by being whipped into a frenzy. After a game, even after a big victory over Michigan State or Minnesota, the atmosphere in the dressing room is subdued.

Good leadership is at least half inspiration and Johnson seems to inspire by doing. After the Wolverines opened their season with a humiliating, 21-7 loss to California, they went down to North Carolina to play Duke.

Just before the game, Johnson stood up in the dressing room and said simply, "You bleed, I'll bleed and they'll bleed."

On the field, Johnson showed them what he meant. He picked up 205 yards rushing, more than three times the total of the Duke team, and led the Wolverines to a 31-10 victory that started them on the championship path.

NEAR RECORD TUNA
YARMOUTH, N.S. (AP)—Six experts from Mexico City amassed 1,160 points to win the five-day International Tuna Cup match in the waters off Wedgeport and off Cape St. Mary. Juan Posada boated an 860-pound bluefin after three hours and 40 minutes the first day.

The only other tuna caught was boated by Louis Devertel of Barbados. His catch gave the British Caribbean team second place with 856 points. Canada, Italy and the United States anglers failed to score.

ANOTHER INJURY FOR MEREDITH

Eagles' Kuharich Lifts Two Suspensions

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—General Manager Coach Joe Kuharich of the Philadelphia Eagles lifted the suspension of ends Mike Ditka and Gary Ballman Wednesday.

Kuharich set down both of his star pass catchers Tuesday for granting interviews and making statements he said he considered detrimental to the National Football League club.

The lifting of the suspensions was disclosed in a brief announcement from the Eagles, their first word since Ditka and Ballman confirmed Kuharich had dropped them from the squad indefinitely and placed them on waivers.

"After a discussion this morning with Joe King Eagles vice president and treasurer, the suspension has been lifted. Ditka and Ballman are in the same position as other members of the team," the announcement said.
