Go Out Of State

Eight A&M College of Veterinary Medicine faculty members will be 'off campus' this week for meetings in three states.

Dr. Merrill Ranck travels to Princeton University, Princeton, N. J., to present a paper entitled "Serologic Survey and Studies of an Avian Influenza A Virus Strain and a Paramyxovirus Strain." He will be accompanied to the Poultry Pathologist Conference, Nov. 19-24, by Dr. L. C. Grumbles and C. F. Hall.

Dr. M. Katada and Dr. R. W. Moore will participate in open discussions and confer with research workers in Lexington, Ky., at a meeting on "Immunity to Selected Equine Infectious Diseases." While there, Dr. Moore will present a paper entitled "The Immunological Properties Associated with Equine Infectious Anemia-Recent Findings." The conference is Nov. 19-21.

Dr. Moore also will present a discussion on swine diseases to the South Texas Swine Breeders Association Nov. 23 in San An-

Also during Nov. 19-24, Dr. Stewart McConnell and Dr. R. J. Hidalgo will be in Lubbock to participate in the annual meeting of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association.

Dr. A. I. Flowers will preside as president of the Long Range Planning Committee at the Texas Veterinary Medical Association meeting in Austin Tuesday.

ficials have expelled 25 of 34 San weeks, Barron said. Benito High School pupils who experimented with marijuana, Supt. John Barron said Thursday. Barron said the pupils will have to abide by strict rules in order to return to class. Barron told a news conference 25 of 34 pupils who "experimented" with marijuana have been expelled. He said the nine others were given "administrative warning and milder conditions of administrative probation."

The expulsions resulted from an independent inquiry conducted by school officials in this Lower

Brazos A&M Club To Meet Monday

The Brazos County A&M Club's monthly meeting has been changed from Wednesday to Monday, Nov. 25, President Joe Buser announced.

He said the meeting date was changed to avoid Thanksgiving Day football game travel con-

The 7 p.m. Monday meeting at the Ramada Inn will be a stag, unsponsored event, Buser added. Jim Keller, coach of the undefeated A&M freshman football team, will be featured on the program. The former Aggie quarterback will discuss the Fish season and the squad's varsity prospects.

The Fish conclude the season Friday in a 7:30 p.m. game with the University of Texas Shorthorns. The Shrine benefit game will be played at Kyle Field.

Barron said he has been aware of the marijuana problem for 15 years, but he said the problem was negligible until last spring.

Barron did not identify the pupils by name. He said they ranged in age from 14 to 19 and were pupils in grade 8 through 12. He said 19 of thtm were girls and 15 were boys. "From the investigation there emerged a repeated pattern of automobiles, money and unsupervised leisure time," Barron said. He said the pupils involved in the marijuana smoking had "too much of everything."

THE ATTITUDE of parents, he said, "has been one of shock, sorrow and complete cooperation. Expelled pupils must sign a statement with their parents agreeing to abide by special conditions in order to return to classes.

The pupils must surrender their drivers licences and agree to observe a curfew of 7 p.m. on school nights and 11 p.m. on Friday, Saturday or holiday nights. They cannot attend drive-in theaters, leave town, or go to South Padre Island without their parents. The pupils must also agree to "maintain acceptable hair style and dress" and agree not to attend dances at the school or at any location and must agree to join no musical group other than at church or school.

"There will be no second chance for any pupil who violates the special conditions," Barron said.
