

Paul Anderson To Speak Here

The world's strongest man—Paul Anderson of Vidalia, Ga., will exhibit his strength and speaking ability at Texas A&M on March 13.

Jerry Campbell, president of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes at A&M, announced the acceptance of Anderson to appear here and said that Anderson's act will feature driving a 20-penny nail through two one-inch boards with his bare hands and lifting a ton of live weight.

He also will discuss his philosophy of life and his secrets of happy living.

Anderson recently was awarded a medal by President Johnson in recognition of his goodwill ambassador efforts in France and other countries.

The exact time and place of the program will be announced later.

Staub Traded To Montreal

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Astros gave up their top hitter Wednesday by trading outfielder Rusty Staub to the Montreal club in the National League for first baseman Donn Clendenon and outfielder Jesus Alou.

Staub, former New Orleans schoolboy star who became Houston's first big bonus signee in 1961, led the Astros with a .291 average last season. In 1967, he finished with a .333 after having led the NL in batting a good portion of the season.

"This has been my toughest decision since I have been in baseball," said Astro Gen. Mgr. Spec Richardson. "Rusty is a great ball player and we hate to lose him but Mgr. Harry Walker and others on the staff agree in our feelings that the trade will help the club. We now feel we have a chance to challenge for our divisional championship."
