

Texas Prison Head Slams Recent Crime Statistics

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' prison population has remained steady the past few years, and the man who runs the prisons says he has no confidence in statistics that show a booming crime rate.

Dr. George Beto was asked Thursday at a House Appropriations Committee hearing on the prison budget how he accounted for the static inmate population in the face of increasing crime.

"I am not convinced that crime is increasing so fast," Beto said. "I don't have any confidence in these statistics. I don't think there's been the increase in crime that they are crying about."

THE NUMBER of inmates has remained at about 12,500 for several years, he said.

He attributed the mounting crime figures to better crime reporting.

On another subject, Beto said "We are more concerned today than we ever have been" about drugs.

"We are noticing more and more young people from middle class families convicted of crimes associated with drug addiction," he said.

There are drug problems within the walls, he said.

"VISITORS attempt to drop it off on Sundays. . . . We don't allow inmates to have nasal inhalers because they can cut them up and boil them in water and get a life out of them. . . . We had to stop inmates from making model airplanes because of the glue," Beto said.

He said under questioning from Rep. Oscar Carrillo of Benavides that "It may be that we need some Spanish teachers" for Mexican-American inmates, whom he said make up 20 per cent of the prisoners.

BETO complained that some state college business managers are not following the law that requires them to buy dormitory mattresses from the prison factory. He said they claim they are not using tax money but are spending funds collected from dormitory fees, meals and athletic event tickets.

This is "worth investigating," said Rep. J. E. Ward, Glen Rose.

WIGGLING HUBBY THROUGH COLLEGE

Jennifer Albright, 19, a part-time belly dancer, performs at private parties in Bangor, Maine, to earn money to help her husband through Bangor Theological Seminary. Stephen, who always attends the performances, says proudly Jenny is a ball of fire. Beside dancing, she keeps busy cooking gourmet meals for her husband, training as a telephone operator, waiting on tables at a restaurant, and taking a night course at University of Maine. Three New Officers Assigned To A&M

Assignment of Army Lt. Col. Donald S. Ballard and three instructors to the Military Science Department has been announced by Col. Jim H. McCoy, commandant.

Colonel Ballard, 45, was assigned here following a year in Vietnam service with the 24th Army Corps headquarters.

New instructors are Capt. William C. Mattei of Houston, Capt. Harry N. Joyner III of Wichita Falls and SFC Cornelius D. Scott of Waco.

A 23-year veteran of Petoskey, Mich., Colonel Ballard has served in Germany, Korea and Vietnam. The infantry officer was commissioned from officer candidate school and completed degree requirements in education at the University of Georgia. He wears, among other decorations, the Combat Infantry Badge and Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster.

CAPTAIN MATTEI, 30, served with engineer units in France, Germany and Pleiku, Vietnam.

Before coming to A&M, the 1962 University of Texas graduate commanded the 102nd Engineer Company (construction support).

A 1965 U. S. Military Academy graduate, Captain Joyner, 26, was an 82nd Airborne Division company commander and battalion intelligence officer, assistant division operations planner and company commander with the 25th Infantry Division.

Sergeant Scott, 32, was with a 4th Corps area advisory team of the Military Assistance Command in Vietnam before assignment at A&M. The light weapons infantry man has 10 years service including a stint in Germany and wears the Combat Infantry Badge and Bronze Star.

A&M Chaperons Needed For Field Tour

Student chaperons are in demand for a summer bus tour sponsored by the American Field Service International and Aggies are being asked to help.

"I really hope that some Aggies will apply," said Kathy Gautesen, chaperon screening committee chairman, "because we are in great need of males for the trip."

Applications, Miss Gautesen noted yesterday in her announcement, may be obtained by writing her at Brown College, Rice University, Houston, Texas, 77001. She added that the applications should be returned to her by Feb. 23.

She also noted that applicants must be at least 20 years old and have three years of college. Those over 21, however, need have only two years. An interview, required of all who apply, will be held Sunday, Feb. 23, at 2 p.m. in Brown College Library on the Rice campus.

The 150 chaperons selected will accompany some 3,000 teenage students from over 61 countries as they tour the United States by bus before returning to their home country.

"This is the climax of an 11-month stay in the United States for these teenagers," Miss Gautesen commented. "Enroute, they will stay with families in towns around the country.

"The work is voluntary," she continued, "but all travel and living expenses will be paid by the AFS. This program gives those involved a chance to participate in a program whose goals are mutual respect, understanding, and peace among the peoples of the earth."

What's so exciting about working at Dallas Power & Light?

Listen to what these Dallas Power & Light engineers have to say.

John Dittmar, BSME, New Mexico State University, Class of '68. "At DP&L your engineering ideas are accepted and evaluated. Another thing, I progressed at my own speed, not at a predetermined step the company had set. DP&L has doubled in growth approximately every 10 years. If you're willing to accept responsibility, you can't help but grow with the company."

John Finneran, Master of Engineering, Texas A&M University, Class of '68. "The company is not so large it overwhelms you, yet it is large enough to offer excellent opportunity for advancement. The company has shown an interest in me, not only in my engineering ability, but in what I, as a young engineer, think and feel."

Lynn Blackwell, BSEE, Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Class of '68. "I was impressed with the ability and willingness of DP&L engineers to help the younger engineers. I was assured of receiving responsible assignments and I'm especially proud of the responsibility I've already been given in the operation of the underground distribution network of downtown Dallas."

These are a few of the recently graduated engineers who have found out that DP&L delivers what it promises. If you're interested in challenge, opportunity, responsibility and growth potential, we'd like to talk to you. DP&L representatives will be on your campus FEBRUARY 18-19 Or write to Grant Whit, Personnel Department, Dallas Power & Light Company, 1506 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas 75201.
