State Capital Roundup

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — Gov. Preston Smith's first-state tax program fared unexpectedly well in its initial legislative test.

Anguished cries were raised at a House Revenue and Tax Committee hearing by beer, cigarette, coin-operated laundry and cable television interests at sections of a $175 million revenue bill directly affecting them. Of the four, however, the coin laundries appeared to make the most impression on the Committee.

Surprisingly, not a witness appeared against Smith's proposal, contained in a separate bill, to place a $10 state sur-tax on moving traffic violations. He estimated that would raise $38.5 million.

Also, it was a surprise that regular laundry, cleaning, dyeing, parking, repair and machinery rental concerns remained silent. This since they, too, would go under the three per cent state sales tax if Smith had his way. Naturally, this may or may not indicate consent. Extending the sales tax to include them would raise an additional $57.8 million during the next two years.

Cigarette distributors claimed that the $71 million bite they would suffer, if the per-pack tax is raised another four cents to a total of 15 cents, would drive away smokers and might result in a loss of state revenue. They also claimed that Smith's $6 million tax addition for cigars and other tobacco products would lower consumption and virtually kill the Texas cigar business.

Beer industry spokesmen centered their attack on the fact that they already pay $3.40 a barrel in state taxes, which is far more than most big beer-producing states charge.

Coin laundries argued they had no way to collect a sales tax in their washing machines' nickel, dime and quarter slots and therefore would have to have their machines revamped, at great cost, to take in pennies.

Cable TV spokesmen made no impression at all with their argument of discrimination.

Smith's proposed one half of one per cent chemical products tax is expected to draw heavy fire from that industry in an April 16 hearing.

Floor vote on the tax bill is expected to be delayed about three weeks.

WELFARE DEMANDS GROW — Texans will be asked again—and again and again, if necessary—to increase or do away with the constitutional ceiling on state public-assistance grants to the needy, commonly called "welfare."

And they'll get their chance sooner than they think. Speaker

Smith Urges Use Of Free Thought

AUSTIN (P) — Gov. Preston Smith called upon students and educators Tuesday to preserve an "atmosphere of free, academic thought."

Smith spoke at the opening of the University of Texas Round-up showcase, which includes 75 departmental exhibits.

"Let us determine to preserve this atmosphere of free, academic thought which seeks to provide the state and the world with new and refined knowledge," Smith said. "Let us preserve this freedom of opportunity in the search for truth and improvement."

The governor said the sources of greatness in a university included "encouragement of imagination, sensitivity, scientific and humanitarian interests . . . and a lively mental flexibility."

"Let us also remember that a framework of order is necessary to insure this freedom of each individual and to foster academic greatness," Smith said.

Gus Mutscher and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes have agreed to ask the Legislature to call a special election for Aug. 5 to vote on at least five proposed constitutional amendments . . . and possibly eight. In addition to expressing their views on increasing welfare funds, voters would give their

SENIORS

In 1965, we first offered graduating Aggies the popular plan of 100% financing at bank rates and other unique features. Now, for the first time by any dealer, we offer car leasing at even lower monthly rates than car payments.

See us about our plan now.

There's no mystery about leasing a Chevrolet. Just ask the man who sells them.

Why pass up a good idea because no one's bothered to explain it? If you're curious about leasing, see us.

As a Chevway/Chevrolet dealer, we now offer you a choice—buying or leasing. And we can afford to be objective—we just want you for a Chevy customer.

So we'll tell you if leasing is best for your life and pocket. And we'll show you the cars. And if you decide to lease, you can wrap up a good deal on the spot. Just ask your Chevway/Chevrolet dealer!
