to their gun Thursday afternoon in Kyle Field as they walloped strong Texas and Rice for their third meet win this season.

The Aggies totaled 67½ points while sweeping seven events. Rice followed with 56½ points and the Longhorns trailed with 46 points in the triangular action.

Ronnie Lightfoot, a 6' 3", 260-pound weightman from Copperas Cove, showed the Owls and 'Horns some of the Aggies' strength by sweeping both the shot put and discus. He flipped the iron ball 57-1¼ and got off the best discus throw of his career with a 171-5 mark. Oddly enough, he was using an old borrowed disc of former Aggie great Randy Matson who was on hand to see Lightfoot's performance.

Rocky Woods, a versatile sophomore from San Angelo, turned in his best performance of the year with a blistering 9.4 in the 100-yard dash for a first place, a 21.1 and another first in the 220-yard dash, and even a second place finish in the 120-yard high hurdles, an event he has not run in since February. He also anchored the Aggie 440-yard relay unit as they posted their best clocking of the year at 40.7.

Curtis Mills continued his mastery over rival Dave Morton of Texas by handing him his third defeat of the year in the 440-yard dash. The backstretch of the quarter was hampered by a mild wind which accounted for the relatively slow times. Mills was clocked in 47.7 while Morton was timed in 47.8.

The reason for the relatively easy Aggie win was the unexpected first place finish of A&M's Ben Greathouse in the high jump. He upset Texas' Bill Elliot on fewer misses after both cleared 6-6. The other first place for the Aggies was taken by Deward Strong, who took a 53.8 clocking in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles.

The Aggies also turned in one of their best non-winning performances in other events. Marc Black was second in the javelin with a 199-11, Deward Strong was third in the high hurdles, Steve Bancroft fourth in the 440, Scott Hendricks third in the 100, Bubba Vincent second in the discus, Richard Ball third in the 440 hurdles, Hendricks third in the 220, John Heffner second in the three-mile, and Robert Hoffman fourth in the pole vault.

A&M's top vaulter Larry McIntyre, a sophomore from Poteet, injured his shoulder in last week's Dallas Invitational and will not compete in the Texas Relays.

The Aggies are looking ahead to Saturday's Texas Relays in Austin when they meet possibly their strongest opposition of the year.

ROUND THE TURN

Irish Slip Past Aggies In Non-Conference Tilt

Notre Dame rallied for three runs in the seventh inning Tuesday to down the Aggies 5-2 in a non-conference baseball game in San Antonio.

A&M, now 11-3 on the season, entered the inning with a 2-1 lead but the Notre Dame surge put them on top 4-2. The visitors from Indiana added an insurance run in the eighth to put the game away.

The three run seventh was accomplished on only one hit as two Aggie errors paved the way. The Aggies outhit their opponents seven to four in the game but committed four errors compared to only one by Notre Dame.

Freshman Chris Sans, pitching in relief of starter Doug Rau for A&M, was charged with the loss.

The Aggies had opened their two game series in San Antonio with a 3-1 eleven inning victory over St. Mary's.

With the score tied 1-1 in the top of the 11th, Bob Long doubled for the Aggies and was singled home by Bob Arnold. Dave Elmendorf then reached base on a fielders choice and scored on double by Sans, who played first base in the game.

St. Mary's had broken open a scoreless pitching duel with a run in the bottom of the eighth.

The run was produced by a walk and a single.

The Aggies had knotted the count with a run in the ninth. Arnold walked, stole second and scored on a two-out error by the St. Mary's third baseman.

Dave Benesh started for the Aggies and allowed only one hit in seven innings while striking out eight. Dave Baldeschwiler opened on the mound for St. Mary's and pitched nine innings giving up two hits and striking out 10.

Charles Kelley picked up the win in relief for the Aggies as he pitched the final four innings.

The next action for Coach

Tom Chandler's baseballs Friday afternoon with a 12 doubleheader at Kyle Field against Texas Tech. The Aggies and Tech are both 4-2 in SW play.
