Whites Off Quickly In Student Sparring

The Whites jumped ahead of the Maroons yesterday in the first sparring among the Aggie student body in preparation for Saturday's big spring football game.

The game, which signals the end of spring training, is set for 2 p.m. in Kyle Field. In order to insure as competitive a game as possible, Coach Gene Stallings has divided his squad as equally as possible.

To The Battalion office.

"We (the yell leaders) are really taking this game seriously," Harding said, "and we'll be pulling all stops to insure a White team victory."

Harding explained that this competitive spirit was essential among the student body "because the football team has it and we need to keep it going."

In keeping with the competitive flavor of the game, the A&M student body has also been divided into Maroon-White factions by the yell leaders.

The division is: White — First Brigade, First Wing, Hotard Hall, Hughes Hall, Fowler Hall, Keathley Hall, Moses Hall, Hart Hall, Milner Hall and the day students with yell leaders Bob Harding and Barrett Smith.

Neutral — the Band and Sam Torn, head yell leader.

Maroon — Second Brigade, Second Wing, Davis-Gary Hall, McInnis Hall, Moore Hall, Crocker Hall, Schumacher Hall, Law Hall, Leggett Hall, Mitchell Hall, Puryear Hall and Walton Hall with yell leaders David Fischer and Keith Chapman.

Harding and Smith gave their White side the early lead in creativeness last night with a call

All White team supporters were urged to sit on the north side of the 50-yard line in the student section with the Maroon fans sitting on the south side of the band.

"The division of the student body is purely arbitrary and is designed merely where the support will be basically even," Harding explained.

"However," he added jokingly, "now that the rosters have been announced we feel it would be foolish for anyone to root for the Maroons against the Whites and so anyone who would like to join the winning side ahead of time should feel free to do so."

There will be a combined yell practice tonight in front of Hensler Hall for both Maroon and White fans.

Intramural Roundup

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Coon won the open intramural badminton tournament by defeating Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cass and then Billy Mathews and Anna Bell Young.

The Class C softball schedule suffered last week, raining out all the games from Tuesday through Thursday. However, the regular league games will be completed by Wednesday with the first round of playoffs beginning Thursday.

The Chemistry Department team are the only ones who have their league clinched. They went undefeated in four games.

Law Hall remains undefeated in League A, and the Math Dept. will face the Outsiders to decide the championship in League B. Both teams are 3-0.

Hensel Apartments need one more win to wrap up their league title as well as Crocker Hall and Milner Hall in their respective leagues.

In Class C golf, Fowler Hall will meet the Masters, an off-campus team, for the championship. Both teams have 6-0 records.

Sports Car Club Hosts Last Rallye

George Martin and Len Scott in Randy Barnett's Mach Mustang demonstrator took first place trophies in the Texas A&M Sports Car Club 1968-69 "It Was A Very Good Year Rallye" held Saturday.

The route was 126 miles long and it wound around the area north and east of Bryan, including the Navasota river bottoms. The four check points were well placed and well co-ordinated by rallymaster Alan Weckerling. The average speed for the event was 47 miles per hour.

The first place total of 960 penalty points was only 17 less than Tom and Margaret Gorman's total of 977. The Gormans drove a '67 MGB. Third place went to Kent Givens and Henry Cruz in a '66 MG Midget, they were well back 1441 points. Gas hog trophies went to Eddie Bolsh and John McAuley who were off the course more than on it.

The last meeting of this semester will be in room 107 of the Military Science Building at 7:30 tonight and all club members are urged to attend.

Slump Not Serious, Cardinals Contend

By CHARLIE BAROUGH Associated Press Sports Writer ST. LOUIS (AP)—For all those asking "what's wrong with the Cardinals?" all the players can say is: Nothing that hasn't been wrong before.

"We haven't been able to get the timely hit," Lou Brock, the wheelhorse of the Cardinal offense, observed. "We've been in the game all the way to the eighth or ninth inning, but the way we once won games is the way we now are losing them."

The Cardinals, National League champions for three of the last five years and world champions twice during that time, are spending the first part of the 1969 season fighting off last place in the National League's Eastern Division.

"This is nothing new to the club," Brock added, "it's happened before. It seems to go in cycles. Last year the club had a couple of streaks where we couldn't do anything wrong and there were times when we couldn't do anything right."

"It just happens that we started out this way," Brock added. "People seem to think that what happens now dictates the outcome of the season."

Some people also think the Cardinals are reading their press notices and waiting for the rest of the National League to lay down and die.

"No," Manager Red Schoendienst said, "the players know if they do well they're going to make money. And besides, they have enough pride to want to win."

Bob Gibson, the only Cardinal starting pitcher with a winning record, thinks the fans are more self-satisfied than any player. He mentioned the recent pennants and the Cardinals' first division finishes and added:

"Everybody expects us to do it all the time. You can't do it. Sure we've got the talent, but a lot of teams have a lot of talent and never won a pennant. "Times like these happened last year and the year before," Gibson added. "Every year since I've been here it's happened; and it will happen every year. You don't look for excuses or reasons."

With both horses and jockeys virtually the same color because of the muddy track, three horses battle at the wire in the second race at Garden State Park in Cherry Hill, New Jersey. Craig's Date, right, with Karl Krite up, was winner, with Misty Wave, left, in second, and La Victroienne, center, was third. (AP Wirephoto)
