

59 Tee Off Today In News Media Tourney

Fifty-nine members of the news media are entered in the third annual Texas A&M News Media Golf Tournament at the University course today.

Tee-off time was 12:30 p.m. The news media group represents some 31 newspapers, 11 radio stations, and nine television stations. Some 44 of the radio-TV corps have indicated they'll be in the press box Saturday afternoon for Texas A&M's Maroon-White spring football game.

Conceived by A&M coach Gene Stallings, the tournament was set up on the eve of A&M's spring game in an effort to get more coverage. And it has been successful in that it attracts more news outlets than does a regular-season football contest.

All tournament entrants get a dozen new golf balls and a cap prior to teeing off. A complete set of new golf clubs go to the winner and the next four places get a new set of irons, the next four a set of woods and the next 10 a new pair of golf shoes.

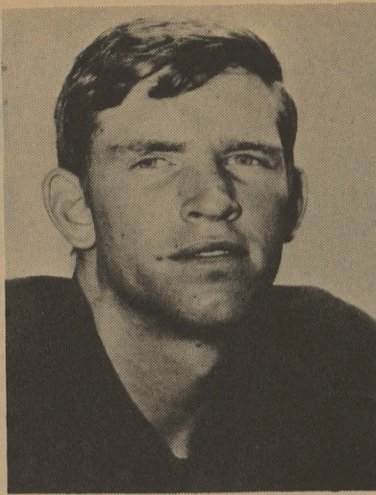

The wives of the entrants are being entertained with a luncheon and bridge this afternoon by Mrs. Gene Stallings in her home. Then everyone gathers for a steak dinner tonight in the Lettermen's Lounge of G. Rollie White Coliseum.

Local newsmen entered are John Platzer of the Battalion, Jim Butler of the Bryan Eagle, H. E. Pflaughaupt, Ulman McMullen, and Ron Birk, all of KBTX-TV.

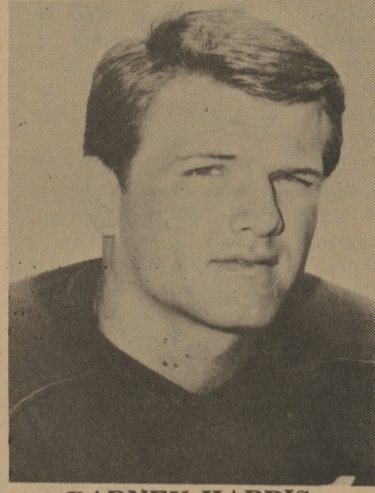

Members of the A&M football team act as caddies for the tournament.

Maroon-White Game Signals End To Ags' Spring Drills

By JOHN PLATZER
Battalion Sports Editor

It will be final exam time for the Aggie footballers Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in Kyle Field as spring training comes to an end with the annual Maroon-White game.

Coach Gene Stallings has divided the teams as evenly as possible to insure a hard-fought, competitive match. The Aggies will enter the 1969 season next fall with more positions up for grab than at any time in the past several years. Performances in the Maroon-White contest could go a long way in determining who plays where.

Students will be admitted to the game on their spring activity card and date tickets will sell for $1.50.

Coaching the Maroons will be Dee Powell while Bud Moore will have control of the White forces. Assisting Powell will be Loyd Taylor, Lide Huggins, Bobby Marks and Jim Keller plus student assistants Edd Hargett, Mark Weaver, Larry Lee, Robert Cortez, Grady Allen and Harvey Aschenback.

Moore's aides are Don Watson, Jake Helms, Jack Hurbut, Jack Pardee and Ralph Smith plus student assistants Dede McLean, Curley Hallman, Rolf Krueger, Charlie Riggs and Leroy Hauerland.

The game will mark the first true varsity test for the members of last season's undefeated freshman team. Many of these players are making big bids for starting jobs next year.

This year's contest is being treated as if it were a regular season game by everyone involved including the players and coaches, which should make it one of the best in years.

Performing at halftime will be the National champion Fish drill team. The Aggie Band will play at the game but will not march.

Coach Stallings and his staff have generally been regarded as doing the best job of recruiting this year than any that has been seen in the Southwest Conference in many seasons. The result of the recruiting war, all the top schoolboy prospects signed by the Aggies, will be introduced to the crowd at halftime.

The divisions for Saturday's game are:

Prince Tuned For Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—Majestic Prince, the penny-colored colt with the million dollar value, turned in a sensational final workout Thursday before being entered for Saturday's Preakness.

Frank McMahon's Kentucky Derby winner blazed over a half-mile in 45 seconds, just one-fifth of a second off the world record set by Tam Ran's Jet in a race at Sunland Park in New Mexico last April.

Trainer Johnny Longden then entered the colt for Saturday's second leg of the Triple Crown where he will be opposed by seven other 3-year-olds, including Rokeby Stable's Arts and Letters, and Top Knight, owned by the estate of Steven B. Wilson.

LL Manager Takes Dispute To State Court

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—Little League baseball is serious business—especially among some parents of the players. So serious in fact that a Long Island man has gone to court to fight being dismissed as manager of a team.

Louis Castellano, Jr., a 42-year-old lawyer from Valley Stream, charged in State Supreme Court he was "arbitrarily and unlawfully dismissed as the manager" of the Orioles of the American League of the Hempstead Little League.

The board of directors said Castellano allowed his son, David, 7, to play despite league rules prescribing that the children must be between 8 and 12.

Castellano said it is common practice to have managers' sons playing despite age. The lawyer said Thursday he had been critical of the league's fund-raising activities, such as selling candy, which he said had become more important than playing baseball.

"Last April," he said, "before we had a practice or uniform, they called me up and said, 'We have got the candy.'" Another factor in the case, according to the court papers, was 9-year-old Christopher Leite, son of Joan Leite of Hempstead.

Mrs. Leite kept Christopher out of the opening game as "punishment" for a school problem. She said Castellano told her mother, who had taken the boy to a practice, that this was not right.

Mrs. Leite wrote to the directors, saying Castellano insulted her and "verbally shouted down her mother. Castellano denied this.

The age of Castellano's son became an issue when the board received Mrs. Leite's letter, which pointed out that David was too young to play. The directors then dismissed him.

Castellano filed papers in Supreme Court Wednesday asking that he be reinstated. Justice Theodore Velson has reserved decision.

Before I had a chance to say, "Guess who," Jack knew it was I. We're like that—maybe it's because we're twins.

We've always been close. When we were small, we had a private adventureland out in our back woods. Hardly a day went by that Jack didn't help me out of some scrape. He was the one who was able to entice me down from that tree when I fell halfway from the top—and lay paralyzed with fright between two branches. I bailed him out of several misadventures, too.

When it came to college—we chose the same one. And it's been nice. Every now and then we get together and talk out our problems, just as we always have. We go to church together, too.

We're glad Mom and Dad made the Church an important part of our lives. When we think of graduation and the inevitable parting of our ways, it's good to know that each of us has an ever-present source of strength and guidance in God and His Church.

SENIORS

In 1965, we first offered graduating Aggies the popular plan of 100% financing at bank rates and other unique features. Now, for the first time by any dealer, we offer car leasing at even lower monthly rates than car payments.

See Jim Haynie, Chevway Lease Manager

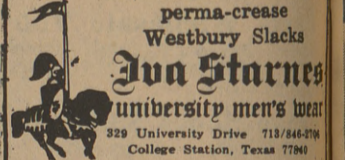

look before you lease

Maybe you've thought it's a smart idea to lease your next car—but you're not sure where to go from there. No problem. Just see your Chevway/Chevrolet dealer. Walk into the Chevway showroom, just as you've always done. Check out the new models, and take a demonstration ride. You needn't depend on catalog sheets or imagination—we specialize in leasing Chevroslets and other fine GM cars.

Car leasing isn't so different from buying. Either way, we'll give you top value in a new Chevrolet.
