

Aggies Fall To Potent Tiger Attack, 35-6

By Richard Campbell
Battalion Sports Editor

Louisiana State's fiery Tigers made the Texas Aggies' trip to the bayou country Saturday night about as pleasant as a draft notice by walloping A&M, 35-6, before a partisan crowd.

Tiger Stadium reeked of humidity and 67,501 fans as the Bengals of Coach Charley McClendon put on both an offensive and defensive show. Their inspired defense held the Aggies to 37 yards on the ground and 172 total.

For the tenth consecutive year the Aggies came away from Baton Rouge without a victory. McClendon has only a 7-7 tie to mar his perfect record against A&M and that was in 1966.

The Tiger coaches used an unusually high number of gridders for an opening game and eventually sent four quarterbacks to the firing line. Senior Mike Hillman started but Buddy Lee, Butch Duhe, and Johnnie Donohue all played.

The first quarter was the only bright spot for the otherwise stymied Aggies as they got a couple of chances to capitalize on Tiger miscues and couldn't. Midway in the opening stanza, Hillman rolled to his left and fumbled and defensive end Jimmy Piper recovered for the Aggies at the Tiger 15. But after three unsuccessful running attempts, kicker Mike Bellar tried a 31-yard field goal but it was slightly wide to the right and the game was scoreless.

It was here that LSU started their momentum as the second quarter opened and they took over in Aggie territory when Sheffield was trapped behind his goal line trying to punt after a high snap from center. Arthur Cantrelle, a sophomore standout for the Tigers all night, returned the hurried boot nine yards and the Tigers were in business on the Aggie 43.

Hillman, sampling the airways for the first time for the Tigers' new vaulted passing game, connected with split end Lonny Myles for eight and then hit split back Jim West for 12. Lefty Hillman then floated a flat pass to tailback Cantrelle on the 22 and he weaved his way into the end zone and LSU was ahead 6-0. Mark Lumokin booted the first of his five conversions to make it 7-0, and the Tigers were never headed.

It appeared that the Bengals would score again when they came right back and recovered a Marc Black fumble on the Aggie 37. Hillman hit Allen for 21 yards but on the next play he tossed the ball into Aggie Dave Elmendorf's hands in the end zone to end the threat. Moments later, however, the Tigers scored on a 62-yard drive highlighted by several short Hillman passes and climaxed by sophomore end Andy Hamilton's 14-yard reverse touchdown run.

LSU also dominated the third period as sophomore Del Walker also scored to make it 21-0 after Lumpkin's PAT. Jerry Kober recovered a Sheffield fumble at the Aggie 30 a few plays later and the Bengals had a chance for their fourth score.

Hillman connected with West for 15 yards, then hit fullback Eddie Ray for eight and a first down at the one. Two plays later Cantrelle scored his second touchdown of the night with a one-yard plunge. Lumpkin converted and LSU led 28-0. They scored again late in the third period with a 50-yard punt return by junior Craig Burns. Steve Burks tackled him on the eight but Hillman scored on a five-yard keeper two plays later and the Tigers were through with their scoring for the night.

The Aggies finally mounted their only scoring drive of the night as they rode the arm of reserve quarterback Rocky Self. Self came in with 12:57 left in the final stanza and completed three passes and reeled off some timely runs of his own, capped with a seven-yard touchdown pass to tight end Ross Bruppacher. He overthrew Barney Harris for the two-point conversion and the scoring ended 35-6.

The remainder of the game was all Aggie aerials as Self flooded the air with passes to try to pull the Aggies closer. He moved them well with several fine throws but it came too late to help the Aggies.

Fullback Marc Black finished as the leading Aggie rusher with 30 yards on seven carries. Self also picked up 23 yards on four carries and Burks had 18 on 10 carries. Cantrelle was the leading rusher in the game with 34 yards on eight totes.

Hillman ended as the most effective passer with 13 completions in 19 attempts for 139 yards and one touchdown. Self finished with seven of 18 for 83 yards and a touchdown.
