Irish, Buckeyes, Hogs Get Nod

By Will Grimsley
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The magic number is one this week for Notre Dame's Irish.
"As an independent, if we lose an early game our season is shot as far as rankings are concerned," says coach Ara Parseghian. "Teams in conferences can build back and go to bowls."

Notre Dame 19, Purdue 17: Both teams have lost their red-hot pistols, must slug it out with their bare hands.

Watch a boy named Glenn Doughty, a running back who looks like a tackle on wheels.
Arkansas 40, Tulsa 10: The Razorbacks have thick defensive hides and Bill Montgomery can pick a team to pieces.
Stanford 25, Oregon 7: Quarterback Jim Plunkett is the Coast's hottest preseason candidate for the Heisman Trophy.

avenger that first loss in 1889, six goals to four.
Georgia 25, Clemson 15: At least, Clemson's Frank Howard can spit a jaw of tobacco farther than Vince Dooley.
Navy 30, Boston College 15: Rick Forzano has the pieces at Annapolis, and he puts a few together.

NFL Rookies Are Offensive

NEW YORK (AP)—When the Dallas Cowboys passed over Paul Gipson, Terry Hanratty and Bill Enyart and used their No. 1 draft choice to pick Calvin Hill of Yale, there were some arched eyebrows in the room.
Coach Tom Landry abandoned original plans to play the 6-foot-3, 230-pound Hill at tight end, and moved him into the backfield where he beat Craig Baynham out of his job during the exhibition season.

Southern California 37, Northwestern 14: With no more O. J. (orange juice), the Trojans feed their foes only arsenic.
Tennessee 27, Auburn 20: The Volunteers derail the point-a-minute Plainsmen, who rolled to a 57-0 victory last week.
Michigan 28, California 24:

Penn State 25, Colorado 18: It's a long haul from the mile-high Rockies to the bottom of the Penn State pile.
Vanderbilt 26, Army 18: The Commodores are on the move under young Bill Pace, and Army's flanks are vulnerable.
Princeton 23, Rutgers 18: It's taken the Tigers 100 years to

O'Neal Hazed

Steve O'Neal survived an awful hazing by New York Jets veterans before ousting popular old-timer Curley Johnson as the punting specialist. "Go home, rookie, nobody wants you around here," chanted the Jets. Coach Weeb Ewbank said, "They rode the kid out of the kid. A lot of kids would have gone home, but he stuck it out and I admire him for it." . . . O'Neal justified Ewbank's decision to keep him by averaging 47 yards on six kicks against Minnesota. . . .

Player Of The Week

MIKE DeNIRO

Mike DeNiro, the Aggies' All-Southwest Conference defensive end last year but playing linebacker this season, is the Battalion's pick for Player-Of-The-Week.

A junior from Youngstown, Ohio, DeNiro was credited with 13 unassisted tackles in the Aggies' 35-6 loss to the Louisiana State Tigers at Baton Rouge Saturday night.

The 6-0, 205-pounder was picked on the first team All-SWC team in 1968 and was named defensive sophomore of the year. He has received constant praise from coaches since he took to the gridiron for the first time for A&M in 1967.

Coach Gene Stallings said of his performance in the LSU game, "He was all over the field, he was really hitting people."

Doug Taylor got his B.S. degree in Electronics Engineering in 1967.

Doug is already a senior associate engineer in Advanced Technology at IBM. His job: designing large-scale integrated circuits that will go into computers five to ten years from now.

The challenge of LSI

"Most of today's computers," Doug points out, "use hybrid integrated circuits. But large-scale integration (LSI) circuit technology is even more complicated. I have to design a great many more components and connections onto a tiny monolithic chip."

"I'm one of a five-man team. When we're assigned a project, we look at the overall problem first. Everyone contributes his ideas. Then each of us takes over his own part of the project and is responsible for designing circuitry that's compatible with the system."

Computer-aided design

Doug regards the computer as his most valuable tool. "It does all of the routine calculations that could otherwise take hours. I can test a design idea by putting all of the factors into a computer. And get an answer almost instantly. So I can devote most of my energies to creative thinking. It's an ideal setup."

Eve's wardrobe costs a little more these days—a factor that bears directly on every young husband's financial security. True, you may not be a young husband. Yet. Statistically, however, the odds are heavily against the permanency of that condition. And it's smart to plan now—before the wife and family make the scene.

Here's one way. Invest in a life insurance program that can provide the foundation for a solid financial structure. Remember, the earlier you start, the less coverage costs, and the more security you'll have a chance to build.

So phone our office today. Or stop by and let's talk about it. In the meantime give a thought to the figleaf—and how comfortable it feels to be covered.
