We're a diversified company. A big one. Our sales will run more than half a billion dollars this year.

They'll come from computer service, education systems, helicopters, farm equipment, space systems, all kinds of technical services.

And airplanes. Airplanes turn us on. We've built them for going on sixty years.

Our planes scored the nation's top kill ratios against Zeros and again against MiGs.

We've won the Thompson Trophy, the Collier Trophy, and the Doolittle Award.

Our chief exec is a reconstructed test pilot. We've got more fighter jockeys in management than any other company in the country.

Besides our attack airplanes, we're involved in the 747, S-3 and the DC-10 and the SST programs to the tune of hundreds of millions of dollars.

Our simulators are the finest in industry. So is our schedule performance. And our titanium capability. And our record of coming up with growth designs.

This is where you ought to be if you're an AE, EE, ME, or IE with a thing about airplanes.

Talk with our campus rep when he comes to your school. He'll be the guy with the long white scarf.

Or sit down and write us tonight. Address: College Relations Office, LTV Aerospace Corporation, P.O. Box 5907, Dallas, Texas 75222. We're an equal opportunity employer.

Aggies Drop Conference Opener, 13-NT

By Richard Campbell
Battalion Sports Editor

Although stifled by the Texas A&M defense for most of the game Saturday night, the Texas Tech Red Raiders capitalized on an Aggie miscue late in the game to hand the Cadets their first conference loss, 13-9.

A shivering crowd of 49,000, third largest to see the Red Raiders play in Lubbock's Jones Stadium, saw the Aggies collect a pass interference call with 5:13 left to lead to the Raiders' winning drive. It was a penalty-marred game as the Aggies collected 103 yards via miscues with the Raiders adding 73 of their own. It was the first conference win for the Raiders who now have a 2-2 overall mark and lowered the Aggies' record to 1-3.

Danny Hardaway, the do-it-all sophomore from Lawton, Okla., was kept pretty well in check by an inspired Aggie defense which gave up but two Tech field goals in first 58 minutes of the contest. They held Hardaway to 60 yards in 24 carries and a 2.5 average but they couldn't stop him when they really needed to. Hardaway flew into the end zone from the one with 1:11 of playing time left to put the Raiders on top to stay.

The Raiders began their winning drive on their own 31 yard line with 7:27 left after Aggie Mike Bellar had put A&M ahead 9-6 with a 37-yard field goal. The Aggie defense stiffened but the mistake on third and 13 gave the Raiders new life as rover Mike Bunger let Hardaway get behind him down the left sideline and Tech quarterback Joe Matulich heaved a long pass. Bunger lost the ball and tried to play the man but bumped him as the ball came down and the official called pass interference and the Red Raiders were in business on the Aggie 29. The penalty play covered 43 yards.

It took Tech 11 plays covering 4:50 to score as Matulich mixed his plays up for the first series and handed to Hardaway for the first down on a fourth-and-one at the Aggie 19. Matulich then lost his imagination as he gave seven straight to Hardaway including another first down on fourth-and-one and the touchdown.

Costly mistakes again told the story as Aggie quarterback Rocky Self faded back on the first play after the kickoff from his own 13 as the clock ticked away looking to the left where he wanted to loft a screen pass. But the receiver was covered and he changed his objective and fired a bullet far downfield over the head of tight end Ross Brupbacher where Tech half-back John Howard intercepted it and returned it to the A&M 26. Matulich fell on the ball twice and ran the clock out along with the Aggies' hopes.

For the second straight game, the Aggies won the statistical side as they piled up 200 yards rushing against a good Tech defense. However, the Raiders showed why they are the best pass defenders in the conference as they shut down the Aggies' aerial game. Self finished with 5 completions in 16 attempts for a meager 48 yards and had three picked off by the wary Raider secondary.

Larry Stegent put in another fine bid for All-America honors with his second consecutive 100 plus rushing performance, this time with 127 yards on 29 carries for a 4.5 average. Last week against Army he rolled up 106 yards and now has 257 total rushing yards in three games.

The leading receivers for the Aggies were Brupbacher, who caught two for 26 yards, while Barney Harris also snagged two for 16.

Marc Black complemented Stegent with 39 yards on 10 carries and Self added 34 on eight.

Jimmy Sheffield put on another great kicking performance as he punted six times for a 45.5 average and even got off a 54-yarder against the wind.

Basketballers Begin Drills

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southwest Conference basketball teams begin fall drills Wednesday and defending champion Texas A&M and runnerup Baylor appear the preseason choices to battle again for the crown.

Aggie coach Shelby Metcalf is looking for replacements for departed Billy Bob Barnett and Ronnie Peret, but he's got a good nucleus to start with—returning starters Mike Heitman and Steve Niles, a 7-foot center.

Baylor, which has finished second four of the past five years, returns five lettermen, including two-time All-SWC forward Tommy Bowman and the No. 4 scorer in the conference last year, Larry Gatewood.

The Aggies won the marbles with a 12-2 conference record last year and Baylor was second and at 10-4.

Gene Phillips, the 1968 sophomore sensation from Southern Methodist and defending scoring champion is back to help the Mustangs but the Ponies need to find more scoring punch. Five lettermen return.

Bob Bass has checked in as the new coach at Texas Tech and hopes to come up with a winner in his first season. He'll have four lettermen and two junior college transfers to help.

Texas adds some outstanding freshmen to a young team. The Horns have five lettermen back including Wayne Doyal, the No. 9 scorer in the league last year.

TCU returns two starting guards and four other lettermen and also hopes for help from junior college transfer Steve Smith.

Rice has four starters back from last year's 6-8 finish. Arkansas has three returning starters and two promising transfers.

Twins' Martin Sees Axe Fall

NEW YORK (AP)—Tempestuous Billy Martin, who won battles on and off the field in his first year as a major league manager, lost a war Monday when he was fired by the Minnesota Twins.

Twins President Calvin Griffith, citing Martin's refusal to follow front office "policy and guidelines," announced the dismissal in New York, where he is attending the World Series. Griffith broke the news to Martin in a phone call to the manager's Minneapolis home.

"It was the hardest decision I've ever had to make about a manager," said Griffith, who dropped the axe on Sam Mele and Cal Ermer in successive years before Martin, extremely popular with Minnesota fans, piloted the Twins to the American League West Division title.

Although Griffith would not talk about a possible successor, several names have been circulated as prime candidates.
