Che Battalion

the Age Vol. 65 No. 23

TALIO

Jim Piper

rries by thes CU defense

LUBS

tions.

O Aggiela scheduled blications

Wednesday, October 22, 1969

Telephone 845-2226

Cutting Area Secured For 1969 Bonfire

Bonfire activities for the year re underway, beginning with the nisition of a cutting area near e Texas International Speedway uth of College Station.

Head Yell Leader Sam Torn of ouston said that Leo B. Marolian, TIS general manager, has onated his land near the auto ace track for use as a cutting Torn said he contacted Marolian and arranged with him to e the land for a cutting area. he agreement was confirmed by ter with J. Malon Southerland of the commandant's office, he

the campus, about seven miles,

Torn noted.

'We are aiming for a 105-foothigh stack this year," he said, "the tallest ever. The current record is 101 feet."

Torn explained that he has overall responsibility for bonfire construction and emphasized that all groups working on the project should coordniate with him.

He said that senior yell leader Bob Harding of San Antonio will be in charge of the cutting area, and David Fisher, the third senior yell leader, will command the stacking area, west of Duncan Dining Hall.

Garry Mauro, Civilian Student Council Bonfire committee chairreases the possibility of the man, will be the overall coordi-

Ski Group Plans Preview Thursday

rea of France, for those intersted in the ski trip planned for semester break in January, ill be shown Thursday from 11 m.-1 p.m., announced David layfield, ski trip committee chairman.

Two color films of the area the be shown continuously during the wo hours in the lobby of the emorial Student Center, May-Done field said, and an information booth will be set up near by to swer questions that people might have about the trip.

"Ski the Alps—1970" is align-ERS ed with the Memorial Student nter Travel Committee but is t a university-affiliated activty, Mayfield pointed out.

Scheduled during A&M's 1969backed by a faculty member, his prominent A&M xes furnishes chartered jet sportation for 150 persons to eneva, Switzerland, and skiing one of the world's famed re-

> Group Travel Associates Inc. artered the 250-seat Transntinental Airlines jet, which vill be shared with 100 "Ski the lps" participants from the Uniersity of Houston.

Travel Committee chairman

University National Bank "On the side of Texas A&M."

Previews of the Courchevel Paul Scopel of Seguin announced that further information and registration forms for the $308 round trip are available at the MSC Student Finance office. Deposits are required by Nov. 17.

The $308, which includes Swiss and French tax, provides roundtrip travel, eight nights lodging ys Win A&M group will be skiing in will at the condominium apartments at Courchevel, eight days ski tow ticket, chartered bus travel from Geneva to and from the resort area 20 miles northeast of Grenoble, France, ski races and 12 hours of ski lessons by Englishspeaking qualified instructors.

Called by "Skiing Magazine" the "skiing supermarket of France," Courchevel's 75 miles of ski slopes are located in three valleys below the foot of the Glacier de Gebronlaz, 83 miles southsemester break, the program east of Geneva in France's Savoie province.

area where the A&M-UH group will be located, has 12 ski lifts with long areas of gentle, open slopes perfect for the beginnerto medium-type skier.

"Some A&M students plan to go though they don't ski nor plan to," commented Scopel. "The cultural enrichment and broadening experience of the trip are also worthwhile features.

Provision has been made for those not interested in skiing being furnished a rent car and the first tank of gasoline for travel. (See Ski Trip, page 8)

Weston, YMCA general secretary and reliigous life co-ordinator, explained when the system was

PAYING HER FARE

Marilynn Redford, A&M coed, gives her $308 for the January ski trip to France to Dave Mayfield, trip committee chairman, in the Student Finance Office in the Memorial

'69 bonfire being the largest ever, nator of the civilian effort, Torn lit the night of Nov. 26, Torn said.

Equipment of all types is still needed, Torn noted, and he urged all persons having access to equipment that could possibly be used on the Bonfire to contact Chuck Hollimond or Dudley Vickers.

Chain saws are especially needed, Torn emphasized, and said that those who have one or know contact Ray Dabney.

oil, and maintenance for equipment is provided by the student body, not by those who own the equipment.

Larry Schilhab, CSC president, and Mark Satterwhite, Torn said. He also said that the two have access to safety instructions and first aid films and will be holding safety meetings soon.

University Women will be helping out in the first aid tent and in other areas, Torn said.

turn out to work on this bonfire," Torn commented. "We really need manpower, and the more we have

A phone announcement system to inform students of events on campus is now in operation. Howard S. Perry, civilian student ac-

He said that the service, handled by the YMCA, is especially useful to day students in keeping

To get the day's announce-

Announcements that apply to a ments students may call 845-6311.

majority of the students are made on the system, Logan E.

them posted on activities.

tivities, announced.

installed last year.

Work on the bonfire will begin Nov. 17 in the cutting area, Torn said, and concentrate there until the weekend. Beginning Nov. 22, he said, the big effort will be in the stacking area, with most of the work being done that Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. The Bonfire, symbol of the Aggies' undying love for their school and their burning desire to beat Texas in the annual Thanksgiving Day game, will be of one that can be used should Those who donate equipment will be allowed to use it, the yell leader said, noting that gasoline,

First aid is being handled by

"I hope everyone who can will

WORKING TO HELP OTHERS

Center, urging him to contribute to a fund intended to help feed starving children in Biafra. The three are part of a 10-member student group formed to "do something" about

Judy Gassiot, Doug Smith, and Leon Dreyfus talk with an the Biafran situation. Durging the two-day stand in the A&M student Tuesday afternoon in the Memorial Student post office area the group collected over $300. They plan a

$1,000 Is Their Goal

Aggies Solicit Aid for Biafrans

By David Middlebrooke Battalion Managing Editor

A group of students on the A&M campus has organized an effort to fight starvation in Bia-

such as hometown club meetings,

dorm notices, and corps administrative notices are not accept-

The system, which was initiated by the Student Senate last year, is now being handled by the YMCA, said YMCA President Ed Donnell. The system,

Donnell said, is located in the room 102 of the YMCA building.

People wishing to make announcements may do so by filling out forms available in the YMCA

office Donnell said, adding that forms should be filled out legibly.

ments should be as brief as possible and will be for one day only.

in the morning, he said. Recordings for Friday, include announce-

Recordings are done first thing

Donnell noted that announce-

The Biafran Children's Relief Fund, as the group's project is called, was organized by Richard DuBois about a week ago for the sole purpose of raising money to help combat starvation conditions in a further effort to reach their thought is the relief of starvation in Biafra caused by its conflict with Nigeria.

"'In terms of statistics, loss of life, and displacement of persons," DuBois said, quoting from an article in the Oct. 4, 1969, issue of "The New Yorker," "the war has already taken a greater toll than the Vietnam conflict." The group, composed of about 10 students, obtained permission from Dean of Students James P. Hannigan to solicit funds on the campus, and, with the dean's approval, had a booth set up in the post office area of the Memorial ent Center Monday and Tues

"We collected over $300 during those two days," DuBois said. "The response was really great. About 50 or 60 per cent of the contributions came from people in the Corps.'

DuBois said that members of the relief fund organization will be collecting door-to-door Thursday night in the residence halls, goal of $1,000.

"I think the Corps will do its own collecting," he said, "so we will concentrate on the civilian dorms. All the people collecting for us have written authorization from Dean Hannigan and I urge people to ask to see it, because there has been one unauthorized solicitor that I know of. "This is a fine project, one I feel will bring credit to the university," DuBois continued. "The whole student body is rallying behind the project. I think it's more of a humanitarian thing than a Canadian Air Relief. war effort of any kind. Our main

WEATHER

Thursday-Partly cloudy. Wind Easterly 10 to 15 m.p.h. High 79, low 52.

Friday - Partly cloudy to cloudy, afternoon rainshowers. Wind Southeasterly 10 to 15 m.p.h. High 78, low 61. Kyle Field - Cloudy. Wind

Southerly 10 to 15 m.p.h. 72°

in Biafra." Funds collected, DuBois said, are being kept in an account in the Student Finance Office in the MSC. Once all students, department heads, and deans have been asked to contribute, he said, the money will be sent to Joint Church Aid, on the Portugese island of Sao Tome off the coast

The JCA is composed of several world relief organizations, Debois explained, including the World Council of Churches and

The JCA, he said, flys five planes a night into the area to deliver food, and each plane usually makes two or three trips. "I want to emphasize that the money we collect will be used only for food," DuBois said. "None of it will be used for war supplies of any kind. We are not war-oriented, but a humanitarianminded ad hoc committee of students who want to do something to help these people."

Student Center while Gary Martin, Travel Committee chairman, look on. (Photo by David Middlebrooke)

Kennedy Named to Head

On-Campus Activities Now Told

ByPhone Announcement System

Beverly S. Kennedy of Austin, political science major, has been named commander of the Fish

Kennedy was selected from 80 members of the unit, which will be defending two straight na-

ROTC cadet commanded the Reagan Buard at Austin's John H. Reagan High School. He is a member of Squadron 7. Kennedy will lead the team into its first competition Dec. 6 at the University of Houston. Senior adviser Richard Gonzalez of San Antonio said the unit's first public appearance probably will be at the A&M-SMU football game here Nov. 8.

Col. Jim H. McCoy, commandant, pointed out to Kennedy that he has "a big pair of shoes to fill in commanding the unit." The 1967-68 team won the National Intercollegiate ROTC Drill Cham- BB&L pionship at Washington, D. C. and the 1968-69 team repeated for an unprecedented second straight national title.

"After interviewing six candidates for the commander's post and in spite of last year's record, I'm convinced the freshmen can do it again," commented adviser J. Malon Southerland. "They want to defend the national championship."

The six candidates were selected by upperclass advisers headed by Gonzalez, and narrowed to three. Kennedy was elected by his teammates.

Interviews were conducted by Southerland, Air Force Maj. Eric E. Miller and Capt. John I. Anglin, Army ROTC adviser.

Bryan Building & Loan Association. Your Sav-ing Center, since 1919.

EVENING VIEW

As evening approached College Station Monday, this was the view from the east side of the A&M power plant looking out over the water cooling towers. A special filter on the camera helps dramatize the view. (Photo by Bob Stump) -Adv.