

National Anti-War Committees Seek to Stop Disunity Reports

By Jerry T. Baulch
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The two national committees planning mid-November get-out-of-Vietnam demonstrations sought Tuesday to squelch reports that they are at odds over strategy by endorsing each other's plans.
And Sam Brown, leader of the Vietnam Moratorium Committee, took note of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's denunciation of the Oct. 15 Moratorium Day by saying: "It's sad when we have a man in high office so out of touch with the people of the country."
In response to Agnew's week-end speech that the demonstration only "served as an emotional purgative" in a prevailing "spirit of national masochism," Brown said "I don't consider myself a defective masochist."

At a news conference, Brown endorsed the demonstrations planned in Washington and San Francisco Nov. 13-15 by the New Mobilization Committee and then told of his own committee's plans for grass roots antiwar activity Nov. 13 and 14.
Shortly afterward, leaders of the New Mobilization Committee held a news conference in the same room endorsing the Vietnam Moratorium Committee plans. Then they detailed plans for their own demonstrations here—a 40-hour "March Against Death" to be followed by a mass march past the White House.

Stewart Meachan, one of half a dozen who spoke at the New Mobilization news conference and a co-chairman of the group, conceded there is a problem in having simultaneous demonstrations by two groups but he said "We have our offices together (we're working together) to smooth things out."
The New Mobilization Committee's formal announcement noted that the mutual endorsement was worked out at a four-hour meeting Monday night.
But the announced goals of the two organizations differ.
Brown said his committee merely wants President Nixon to order an immediate withdrawal of all American troops from Vietnam.

The National Mobilization Committee went further in a "position paper" which said the United States must "stop all military action against the Vietnamese, withdraw all troops and equipment and dismantle all bases and withdraw all support from the Thieu-Ky government."
These three points, the paper said, "are not capable of negotiation... they must be announced."

Remedial Writing Clinic To Commence Here Monday

A three-week six-session Remedial Writing Clinic will be conducted by the Continuing Education Office starting Monday, announced director Karl E. Elmquist.
"Purpose of the clinic is to teach participants to use methods by which they can improve in their writing without necessarily having further formal instruction," Elmquist noted.
Participants must be of college age or older whose first-learned language was English. Registration is open through 5 p.m. Monday at the Continuing Education Office, Memorial Student Center. The registration fee is $31. No academic credit is offered.
Classes will meet from 9:45 p.m. each Monday through Thursday through Nov. 12, Room 307, Academic building.
Elmquist pointed out that the clinic offers remedial help for those who have trouble with punctuation, grammar, diction and naturalness in their writing.
Each participant will be expected to write at least five effective papers. Individual appraisal and analysis of particular papers is an individual remedial package is given both during the clinic and the 12 months immediately following, the associate professor of English added.
