machinery," Fisher said, "and we have had real good mechanics."
"There has also been pretty good weather, except for the rain this weekend," he noted. "At least we have good predictions for Wednesday and the game."
Fisher said that small core logs would still be loaded today, but most of the work would be done in the stacking area. These logs will be used around the center-pole on each stack.
Tom Condry, one of four senior stack bosses, said that when the crews were at full strength he had 500 men working 12 hours at a time and had everyone busy all the time.

"I'm sure we'll have five stacks by morning," Condry said. "Civilians have put out more this year than in many years, Bob Tuseth, senior from Walton Hall said. "We're anxious for a big bonfire this year and we're willing to work as much as possible. I just hope that this brings better corps-civilian relations. This should make the spirit of A&M grow."
Security around the perimeter, the Fish pond, Sully and Kyle Field was very effective this year according to Fisher.
One perimeter guard noted that security was so tight that A&M President and Mrs. Rudder couldn't even get in.

Only two serious accidents were reported this weekend, said Bob Nicklin, first aid worker. Gary Beckom, a freshman, has a triple compound fracture of his right leg, and Francis Glick, a junior, has a deep cut over his left knee which severed cartilage and tendons.
St. Joseph Hospital in Bryan reported that both boys were in satisfactory condition following surgery Sunday.
"There were also about 45-50 minor accidents," said Nicklin. "We've had about seven or eight volunteers manning the first aid tent and we're kept busy treating blisters and splinters."

B-CS Schools Get Instruction On Atomic Energy This Week

Atomic energy and its uses is being demonstrated in Bryan and College Station schools this week.
An Atomic Energy Commission-designed presentation titled "This Atomic World" will be at E. A. Kemp high school Tuesday and A&M Consolidated high school Wednesday.
Billy Charles Mikeska will conduct the 40-minute program being presented in Texas schools by Texas A&M and Oak Ridge Associated Universities.
Using student terms, Mikeska will describe the structure of atoms, nuclear reactor operation, radiation, fission and fusion.
He will use special electronic equipment to demonstrate sources of radiation. Student participants will be involved in aspects of the presentation, which also will show how nuclear energy is harnessed for generation of electricity and use of radioisotopes for study of life processes, diagnosis and treatment of diseases. Blackboard talks to science classes will furnish students more detail on atomic structure, radioactivity, radiation biology and nuclear science careers.
Mikeska trained with the AEC at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

A&M Wins Shoot Out With UT Marksmen

Texas A&M ignored previous scores and upset the University of Texas at Austin rifle team for the Aggies' third win in three Southwest Rifle Association matches.

The 1,347 A&M score—80 better than UT—was the team's highest point total in three years, according to Army Capt. Robert D. Whittington, team sponsor.
Bob Felder of Dallas fired 279, including an outstanding 93 in the standing position, to lead the Aggie assault. Pat Bailey of Trona, Calif., contributed 270; Tom Mayes, Fort Worth, 273; Wayne Jordan, New Boston, 271 and Danny Huddleston, Falls Church, Va., 254.
Johnny Snider of Ropesville also fired in the weekend match at Austin.

Laundry Committee To Meet Tuesday

The 1969-70 Student Laundry Committee will meet with University officials at noon Tuesday at Sbisca Cash Cafeteria.
The Committee, acting as a communication link between students and the university laundry, discusses problems arising from laundry operations. Students having suggestions concerning the operations and policies of the laundry should contact one of the following committee members:

Allan Byrd, Schumacher 408, 5-2506; Allen Mikulencak, Mitchell 83; Eugene T. Fisher, Hart 183, 5-4406; Robert A. Harding, Dorm 2, Room 114, 5-23350; Jack C. Holliman, Dorm 6, Room 301, 5-3240; Albert Kinhead, Dorm 2, Room 110, 5-1950.
