COLLEGE STATION MEN HONORED

Members of the College Station Kiwanis Club Tuesday honored three men for outstanding achievement during 1969. Texas A&M President Earl Rudder, who was not able to attend the luncheon ceremonies, was named the Outstanding Citizen for his accomplishments at the university. College Station Mayor D. A. (Andy) Anderson, left, was named the Outstanding Elected Official. Joe Sawyer, right, received the Outstanding Businessman Award. Pictured with Anderson and Sawyer is Walter Parsons Jr., who made the presentations for the club.

Mormon Astronaut To Speak Thursday

"Space, Science and Religion" from a Mormon astronaut's point of view will be on tap Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in the Bryan Ward Chapel of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, 101 N. Coulter Drive.

Dr. Don L. Lind, a physicist who received his Ph.D. in high-energy nuclear physics from the University of California at Berkeley, expects to be assigned to a moon mission in the next three years.

An expert on lunar surface operations from moon walking to experiments performed on the face of the moon, Lind was at a console in Mission Control in Houston during the moon walk of astronauts Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin to advise them of what to do if anything went wrong with the lunar experiment packages.

Lind's work takes him to research laboratories and firms working on the space effort all over the United States. He also travels widely outside the United States visiting laboratories and tracking stations.

On Man, Morality, Society Seminar Set Tonight

Investigation of modern man's major areas of concern begins tonight with the first presentation in the Memorial Student Center Great Issues Committee's "Man, Morality and Society Seminar."

Dr. J. Thomas Ungerleider of UCLA will speak at 8 p.m. in the MSC Ballroom on "Drugs: Use and Abuse."

Future sessions of the seminar will feature the Rev. Lester Kinsolving on "The Sexual Revolution and New Morality" and anthropologist Dr. Margaret Mead on cultural evolution and morality.

Great Issues chairman Tom Fitzhugh of Waco, whose committee presented the "Black America Seminar" last year, noted the Man, Morality and Society Seminar is designed to present A&M students, faculty-staff and interested townspeople enlightenment on moral questions.

No charge will be made for the seminar. Great Issues programs are supported by subscription and participating faculty-staff and local patrons are invited to make donations.

Dr. Ungerleider, assistant professor of psychiatry at the UCLA Medical Center, is involved with understanding drug use and abuse at the local, state and national levels.

He is director of Drug Abuse Research and Education Services (DARE), member of the National Drug and Sex Forum board of advisors, consultant to the California attorney general on drug abuse problems among California students and member of the Los Angeles Mayor's committee on narcotics and dangerous drugs.

Kinsolving, who will participate Feb. 9 in a panel discussion with Dr. Harold Osborne, sociology professor at Baylor, has written on the sexual revolution for "Newsweek," "Ramparts," "The Nation," "Playboy" and others. He is a syndicated columnist on religious and sociological questions, member of the Northern California Council of Churches committee on legislation and public morals and president of the Association of Episcopal Clergy.
