

Clay May Return Against Joe Frazier In Tampa Bout

By Hubert Mizell
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI (AP) — A Cassius Clay-Joe Frazier heavyweight title fight, bringing the undefeated former champion back to the ring, appeared Tuesday to be headed for 48,000-seat Tampa Stadium.

"It looks like Tampa is in," said Clay's New York attorney, Bob Arum. "I'm flying to Florida to work out the details."
Meanwhile, a Miami promoter who thought he had the bout locked up, promised a "blockbuster announcement, no matter what they are claiming."

Arum said Murry Woroner, who is licensed to put on fights only in the city of South Miami, is no longer involved in the negotiations.
"Frazier's attorney wired Woroner's lawyers Tuesday and said terms proposed by him were not acceptable and that talks were eased," Arum said.

Woroner, said his attorney received no such wire and said Clay's legal counsel refused to answer or return his telephone calls.
Gov. Claude Kirk jumped into the ring and said, "I would like to see it accomplished for the state of Florida. He (Clay) lost his title legally, not by fist-cuffs."

Tampa promoter Ron Gorton, working in behalf of American Leisure Corp., said he had contacted authorities regarding renting Tampa Stadium and said negotiations for closed-circuit television were well under way.

"I wish we had 100,000 seats," said Gorton, "because people will come from everywhere to see this one."
Arum said he speaks for Clay and that "all seems in line for a match in Tampa."
Gorton said the Frazier-Clay fight will be under the auspices of Tampa Boxing Enterprises, a wholly-owned subsidiary of American Leisure Corp.
