Regalia for the January 1970 Commencement Exercises
 All students who are candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy or Doctor of Education are required to order hoods as well as the Doctor's caps and gowns. The hoods are to be left at the University Exchange Store for delivery by a representative of the Exchange Store to the Registrar's Office no later than 1:00 p. m. Tuesday, January 13. The Ph.D. or D.Ed. hoods will not be worn in the procession since all such candidates will be hooded on the stage as part of the ceremony. Candidates for the Master's Degree will wear the cap and gown; all civilian students who are candidates for the Bachelor's Degree will wear the cap and gown; ROTC students who are candidates for the Bachelor's Degree will wear the uniform only. All military personnel who are candidates for the degree, graduate or undergraduate, will wear the uniform only. Rental of cap, gown, and hood for the Ph.D. candidate should be arranged with the Exchange Store 1500 S. M., Monday, December 15, and 5:00 p. m., Friday, December 19. Only Doctor's caps, gowns, and hoods will be available on a rental basis. The Master's and Bachelor's caps and gowns may be purchased at the Exchange Store after January 5, 1970. Rental fees and sale prices are as follows:
 Doctor's Cap and Gown (rental) $7.54
 Doctor's Hood (rental) $7.54
 Master's Cap and Gown (sale) 1.04
 Bachelor's Cap and Gown (sale) 6.34
 All prices include sales tax. Payment is required at the time of placing the order.

 Convocation Committee 48t12

Registration Procedures for the Department of Wildlife Science
 All students with less than 60 hours will report to their freshman advisor (exceptions are transfers from another school or from another department). Students with more than 60 hours or transfers from another school or another department will consult either Dr. Strawn (Fisheries Option) or Dr. Arnold (Wildlife Option). Graduate students will consult their appropriate advisor. ALL FINAL CLASS REQUESTS MUST BE SIGNED BY EITHER DR. STRAWN OR DR. ARNOLD. Appointments for Dr. Arnold may be made at the desk of the Departmental Secretary (Mrs. Karen Thorn).

OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF ADMISSIONS AND RECORDS
 To be eligible to purchase the Texas A&M University ring, an undergraduate student must have at least one academic year in residence and credit for ninety-five (95) semester hours. The hours passed at the preliminary grade report on November 10, 1969 may be used in satisfying this ninety-five hour requirement. Students qualifying under this regulation may now leave their names with the ring clerk, Room Seven, Richard Coke Building. She, in turn, will check all records to determine ring eligibility. Orders for these rings will be taken by the ring clerk between November 24, 1969 and January 6, 1970. The rings will be returned to the Registrar's Office to be delivered on or about February 20, 1970. The ring clerk is on duty from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, Monday through Friday, of each week.

Architecture students at A&M will host a Christmas party Wednesday for grade school children in the Bryan-College Station area.
 Mrs. Fredda King and Jay Belford, both graduate students in urban planning, anticipate more than 1,000 children will attend the 1-4 p.m. party.
 Toys designed by architectural students will be displayed and large playground toys will be set up for children to play on, Mrs. King said. In addition, Santa Claus will greet the children. There will be paper and pencils for the grade school students to write Santa or draw him pictures.
 Refreshments will be served.
 Mrs. King noted the playground toys will be presented to schools for play areas.

Off The Record by Gary McDonald

Your Saving Grace STEVE MILLER BAND
 While not equaling the excellence of his first two albums, Steve Miller has produced a pleasing, though not monumental new album. Since his band has been diminished to three from five men, much of their vitality has been lost, and the group often just seems to be going through the motions. However, with the help of Nicky Hopkins, the band's overall sound has not changed significantly.
 Like their last album, "Brave New World", they do several short and tight rock numbers like "Little Girl". Though they fail to show Miller's best guitar work, they are quite listenable, and danceable, an absolute must for that type song. In contrast to those songs are the epic-like compositions, "Baby's House" and the title tune. They tell the story of the album. They are adequate and even ingratiating, but not overwhelming. And, of course, there is the almost mandatory Lonnie Turner blues yarn of wombats, lear jets, and bulldogs.
 In the end, the album's subtle charm is its saving grace. In minute degrees, it grows on the listener until it is realized as an album almost having all the quality one expects of Texan, Steve Miller.

Ballad of Easy Rider THE BYRDS
 This album falls a little short of being the vehicle for the Byrds to fly back into the upper echelons of rock. The chameleon Byrds, assuming a new identity with each new album, have produced an album with a far less distinct identity than it's predecessors. It is without the charismatic rock sound of their first two albums; it does not have the exploratory identity of "5D" and "Younger Than Yesterday"; it does not have the complex preciseness of "Notorious Byrd Brothers"; and more important, its own identity is altogether too vague.
 Trying to stick in a few country things, some things that a few years ago would have been called folk-rock, and some novelty tunes, it ends up not so much sounding eclectic, but more like a group caught in a styleless limbo. Harping on the lack of identity is being hyper-critical though; there are some excellent songs like the title tune, "Jesus Is Just All Right", and the moving ballad, "Deportee". It is interesting to see Roger McGuinn, the austere Byrd brain leader and only remaining member of the group that has been plagued by endless personnel changes, to continue as a space buff by recording a song about the first moon flight, called "Armstrong, Aldrin, and Collins."

 By no means the Byrds at their best, it does retain that sound that has pleased so many over the years, and that qualifies it as a fine album.
Dairy Science Club Selling Cheese
 The Dairy Science Club members have another batch of mild cheddar cheese for sale.
 Dr. C. W. Dill, dairy scientist, said the cheese is available in 4 and 6-pound wheels at $1 a pound in Room 110 of the Heep Building.
 Larry Lane of Stephenville, Dairy Science Club president, said the sale is to raise money for club activities.

bat operation near Cu Chi, Vietnam.
 The platoon leader's unit, Company B, 2nd Battalion, 12th Infantry, came under intense fire from a battalion-sized enemy force. After locating his automatic weapons, Lieutenant Adams and members of his platoon went into the open area to remove the wounded soldier to a safe place.
 Adams was commissioned at A&M, where he received a degree in geology. He was a member of Company A-1 and ran track.
Juan Ceballos Wins $300 Borden Award
 The first foreign student winner of the coveted Borden Agricultural Scholarship Award is Juan Ceballos of Higuey in the Dominican Republic, a senior in agricultural engineering who expects to graduate in May.
 The 23-year-old Dominican was selected for the $300 award on the basis of grades. He has the highest grade point ratio (3.88 on a 4 point system) in the College of Agriculture.
 The scholarship, provided by the Borden Company Foundation, was presented by A&M President Earl Rudder and Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of the College of Agriculture.
 The student came to A&M three and a half years ago and is now one of about 85 Dominicans attending the university. His education here is sponsored by a U.S. Agency for International Development - Dominican Republic program.
 Ceballos said he is anxious to return to his home country after graduation and go to work in agriculture. His special interest is soil and water engineering, and he says the Dominican Republic needs trained people in this field.

Students to Visit LSU On Expansion Study
 Students and staff members will visit Louisiana State University's student union during the Christmas holidays to assemble ideas for possible use in the expansion of the Memorial Student Center.
 Making the one-day trip will be Harry A. Snowdy, senior of Port Lavaca; Tom Fitzhugh, junior of Waco; Dennis G. Flannigan, sophomore of Bryan; R. Clark Diebel, controller of university accounts, and Hal W. Gaines, student program adviser of the MSC. Snowdy, Fitzhugh and Flannigan are on the MSC Council and Directorate.
 Snowdy said the LSU union is a prime example of adequate planning for student union facilities.
 "It's a beautiful building and very well appointed," he said. Attention will be given by the group to organization of student activities areas, space availability and utilization as well as other ideas that might be incorporated into the MSC expansion.
 Work on plans for the new structure are nearing completion. Bids will probably be taken, contracts let and construction is expected to begin during 1970.
