33 Texas Engineers Here To Judge Design Projects

Thirty-three engineers from Texas industries will participate in the university's Visiting Engineer Program this week announced Dr. James H. Earle, head of the sponsoring Department of Engineering Graphics.

The visiting professionals will evaluate design solutions and oral presentations of the 970 freshmen as the final phase of assigned planning problems in the freshman engineering graphics course.

Bargain Hunters 'Mistreated'

SANDY, Utah (AP)—First there was the mysterious want ad. Then people started lugging used Christmas trees into Dean R. Mitchell's front yard.

They wanted 35 cents a tree—the amount offered in an ad apparently placed by a practical joker.

The rush finally slowed after the Mitchell's spent the weekend turning away trees in singles, doubles and even truckloads.

A&M Receives $50,800 Grant

Texas A&M has received a $50,755 National Science Foundation grant for a 1970 summer chemistry institute, President Earl Rudder has announced.

Chemistry professor Dr. Fred Sicilio will conduct the eight-week program for updating and improving backgrounds of high school chemistry teachers.

Sicilio said institute instruction will stress fundamental concepts, such as atomic structure before molecular bonding.

Sicilio and the institute staff will select 35 participants from applications of high school chemistry teachers from throughout the nation.

The institute will run from June 29 to Aug. 21, 1970, A&M's NSF programs coordinator C. M. Loyd said.

Dr. Hedges Wins Faculty Vote

Dr. R. M. Hedges, A&M chemistry professor, was elected at-large member of the university's Faculty Evaluation Committee of the Faculty Development Leave Program, Dr. Horace R. Byers, academic vice president, announced Tuesday.

Dr. Hedges was the plurality winner by three votes.

Candidates included R. H. Balinger, English; A. R. Burgess, industrial engineering; David W. David, curriculum and instruction; Charles F. Hall, veterinary Beaumont; Richard A. Watson, Rowan Drilling Co., Houston; Noel C. Calkins, Cabot Corp., Pampa.

Others are J. R. Taylor, American Petrofina; Frank Jones and Robert Tribble, Cities Service Oil; Herbert H. Fisher, Ronald G. Turner, and William D. Myers, Baker Oil Tools, Houston; Randy M. Mayor Proclaims Arbor Day

Mayor D. A. Anderson of College Station has proclaimed Jan. 16 as Arbor Day, following statewide encouragement by Texas Gov. Preston Smith.

Anderson urged all citizens of College Station to plant trees and shrubs Jan. 16, the third Friday in January and the traditional Arbor Day.

Anderson said that planting trees and shrubs will encourage bird life and add to beauty of the community, making it a better place to live.

County Deputy Joins Training Division

Tim Max Kennedy of Bryan has joined the Texas A&M University Police Training Division as an instructor, announced chief instructor Ira E. Scott.

Kennedy, who has nine years of law enforcement experience, served as chief criminal deputy of the Brazos County Sheriff's Department from 1964 until the end of December.

The 31-year-old officer received the Outstanding Peace Officer Award for Brazos County in 1966 and the Liberty Bell Award from the Brazos County Bar Association in 1967.

He was born in Cameron and graduated from Bryan's Stephen F. Austin High School in 1957.
