

3 to Attend Auto Congress

Two members of the A&M student branch of the Society of Automotive Engineers and their faculty adviser will participate in the international congress and exposition of that organization Jan. 13 in Detroit. Prof. Robert H. Fletcher, associate professor of mechanical engineering, has announced that Johnny Del Walker, senior in mechanical engineering from Dallas, and David M. Wilks, graduate student in interdisciplinary engineering from Pampa, will accompany him to the Detroit meeting which expects 30,000 persons. They will take part in an all-day panel on "Compatibility of Student, Professor, and Industrial Employer." Leader of the panel will be Al Campbell, sales director of Timken Roller Bearing Company. Several other industrial leaders and students from other engineering colleges also will be on the panel, Fletcher said. Walker is also member of several other campus organizations and has three years experience and a varsity letter in baseball. Wilks was president (1968-69) and chaplain (1967-68) of the Civilian Student Council, is an officer in a number of other Aggie activities, and is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges.

Convicts to Stage 'Spectacular' Here

Four inmates from the Texas Department of Corrections will highlight the first "Spectacular" program of 1970 Sunday night at the First Baptist Church in College Station. The convicts will present "Operation Teenager," an effort to steer teens away from the errors that end in prison life. "Spectacular" is held every six weeks during the regular 7:20 p.m. services. Operation Teenager had its beginning in the consciences of four inmates who came to the conclusion that serving a sentence doesn't repay a thing. The identity of the convicts is kept secret, yet their program will be scrupulously honest. "In every case, a decisive turn was taken during the teenage years, a turn that eventually brought us to the point of extreme crime and imprisonment," one of the speakers maintains. The convicts point out 40 per cent of the population of the Texas Department of Corrections will highlight the first "Spectacular" program of 1970 Sunday night at the First Baptist Church in College Station.

Physics Colloquium At 4 p. m. Today

Dr. J. Robert Wayland of the University of Maryland's Physics and Astronomy Department will present a physics colloquium today.

The 4 p.m. presentation, entitled "Two Temperature Statistical Model of Particle Spectra," will be conducted in Room 146 of the Physics Building.

BRINGING IN THE CATCH
Australian lifesaver Bruce Taylor demonstrates how he reels in his catch—people stranded in the surf—with a reel, line and fishing rod. He and fellow lifesaver Bruce Morgan devised the novel rescue method in which a light line is attached to the back of the rescuer who is reeled back to shore with swimming victim by helper on the beach. "Alphaville" Film Here Friday

"Alphaville," the next-to-last Fall Film Festival presentation of the semester, will be screened Friday in the Memorial Student Center Ballroom. Festival chairman Carlos Almaguer of Eagle Pass said the film will start at 8 p.m. "Alphaville" is Jean-Luc Godard's portrayal of a dehumanized society. The final series presentation Jan. 16 will be a W. C. Fields western comedy, "My Little Chickadee," that also features Mae West. It will conclude the series of eight award-winning film classics sponsored by the MSC Contemporary Arts Committee.

Chamber Announces Membership Meet

A general membership meeting of the Bryan-College Station Chamber of Commerce will be held Jan. 13 at 7:00 a.m. at the Ramada Inn. A budget committee of Joe Sawyer, chairman; George Blevins, and Ridley Briggs, was appointed to prepare a recommended budget for 1970.

Alaminos Announces Tour Schedule

Public tours of A&M's oceanographic research ship, the R/V Alaminos, are scheduled Jan. 17-18, at the Houston turning basin. The 180-foot craft will be open for tours from 2 to 6 p.m. Jan. 17 and from 1 to 5 p.m. Jan. 18 at the south end of the basin near 75th Street.

Industrial Foundation President Elected

H. David Butler has been elected president of the Brazos County Industrial Foundation.

Dr. Richard A. Geyer, head of the Oceanography Department, said the tours are being conducted to familiarize the public with the university's oceanographic facilities.

Exhibits featuring oceanographic equipment also will be displayed on the dock or in an adjacent warehouse. Geyer said the Alaminos will depart Galveston on a special cruise at 8 a.m. Jan. 16 and dock in the Houston basin at 2 p.m. the same day. Data collecting and other demonstrations will be given en route to dignitaries invited on the cruise. Texas Gov. Preston Smith and U. S. Senators Ralph Yarborough and John Tower head the list of dignitaries making the trip. In addition to the governor and two senators, A&M has extended cruise invitations to several Texas congressmen and state legislators.
