Two More Coaches Leave A&M

Gene Stallings, athletic director and head football coach, announced Monday that two of his coaches would not be with the Texas A&M organization next season.

Lide Huggins and Don Watson picked up their walking papers amid controversy concerning the coaching turnover at A&M. That followed an earlier resignation by Loyd Taylor, who accepted the job of athletic director and head football coach at Tarleton State.

Huggins, the Aggies' defensive backfield coach since he joined the staff in August of 1965, accepted a similar position at West Virginia University. He was a halfback at Mullins, South Carolina High and then a safety at the University of South Carolina for three years. He recruited in West Texas for the Aggies.

Watson, a former Aggie player himself, returned to his alma mater to coach in December, 1964 after being an assistant coach at South Carolina. He was a National Back-Of-The-Week and played in the 1956 Blue-Gray game after a brilliant schoolboy career at Franklin High School. He was a recruiter for A&M in the Houston area and has announced no plans for the future. There were, however, several versions concerning whether Watson resigned or was fired but the former coach insists that he resigned.

"I have resigned my position at A&M for personal reasons, he said. "I talked to Gene (Stallings) for about an hour and a half and I told him I was going to resign. I told him I'd look for another job and then I'd resign. He (Stallings) said that he would talk it over with Spec Gammon, A&M sports information director, about the best way to release it and then get in touch with me."

Watson, who acknowledged past differences with Stallings, said if he hadn't resigned, he would not have been fired.

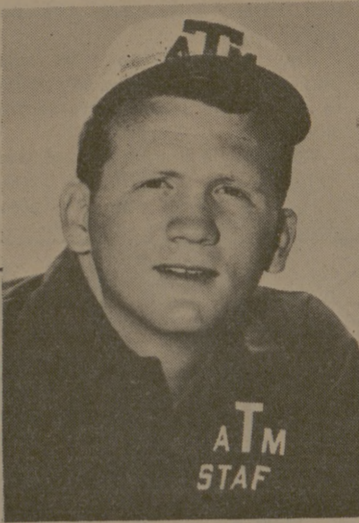

"I think I would have been given a lesser position on the staff just to embarrass me," he said.

Stallings, contacted later at Denver City, where he was to speak at a football banquet Monday night, declined to comment any further.

The latest departures leave five assistants from the 1969 staff still on hand. They are Elmer Smith, Dee Powell, Bud Moore, Jack Hurlbut, and Ralph Smith.

The Church.. For a Fuller Life.. For You..

Our line is always busy

Marilyn deserves an "A" in Communications. Unfortunately, that is not one of her courses.

Do you suppose when we were young we had less to talk about? Fewer opinions worth stating? Quieter friends? Anyway, home was never like this!

Still, apart from the inconvenience, I have no strong objections to Marilyn's monopoly of the wires. Indeed, it has served to remind me more than once of the tremendous need of this youthful generation for the right kind of friends and the right sense of values.

Fortunately, our church has been an important influence on Marilyn's life in both areas. Religious education has fostered moral and religious convictions which are shaping her character. Whether it's "girl-talk" or "boy-talk" that is keeping our line busy—it's just part of the normal, wholesome growing-up of a teen-ager.
