Swimmers to Compete Against Frogs, Hogs

Coach Pat Patterson's Aggie swimmers face Texas Christian University and the University of Arkansas this weekend, with both meets away from home.

Patterson will test some of his reserves in the 4 p.m. Friday match against TCU, but he'll be going all out against the Razorbacks Saturday night.

"The meet with Arkansas could be the key meet of the year for us," Patterson said. "On paper, every event appears about even. There should be some fantastic races. Diving could be the key event; if Eddy Grant and Larry Jones can sweep that event, we have a chance to win."

A&M's entrants, by events:
 TCU Meet
 400-yard medley relay—Joe Del Stevens, John McClary, Bill Brimberry, Gordon Taylor; 1,000-yard freestyle — Mike Hicks, Colin Dunn; 200-yard freestyle — Hank Paup, Steve Henry; 60-yard freestyle—Doug Carson, Bill Stewart; 200-yard individual medley — Bill Crosley, Eric Wolff;

'Big Six' Player of Decade

By Ted Meier
 Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Russell, who revolutionized modern pro basketball with his defensive wizardry and who was an inspiring winner in college, the Olympics and pro ranks, was named basketball's Player of the Decade Wednesday.

The long-time star of the Boston Celtics won the honor by a landslide in a special Associated Press poll. It was Big Bill, as a player, and later as a player-coach, who led the Celtics to nine National Basketball Association championships during the 10 years of the Sixties.

Russell retired a year ago after his greatest triumph. He polled 375½ votes in the balloting by 635 sports writers and broadcasters. Far behind in second place with 122 votes was Wilt Chamberlain of the Los Angeles Lakers, Russell's keen rival during the decade.

It was after Russell and the Celtics beat Chamberlain and the Lakers for the 1969 NBA title last May 5, when most every one thought the Lakers would win, that the 6-foot-10 Russell decided to retire as player-coach. He will celebrate his 36th birthday next week, Feb. 12.

Lew Alcindor, famed rookie with the Milwaukee Bucks after leading UCLA to three straight national collegiate crowns, was third with 31½ votes. Jerry West of Los Angeles and Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals round out the first five with 30 and 25 votes, respectively.

Bob Cousy, now coach of the Royals who retired in 1963 as a teammate with Russell on the Celtics, garnered 23 votes for sixth place.

Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles was seventh with 10 votes followed by Bill Bradley, a 1965 Princeton All-American now with the New York Knicks. Bradley, who still holds the NCAA championship tourney single game scoring record of 58 points, got five votes.

Pistol Pete Maravich of Louisiana State, the No. 1 scorer in the college game and the only current collegian to be mentioned, was next with four.

Bob Pettit, of the old St. Louis Hawks, Rick Barry of the Washington Caps in the American Basketball Association, and John Havlicek of the Celts, tied for 10th. Each received two votes.

Russell, sometimes called the Big Six because of his uniform number, had a fabulous career that brought him fame and fortune.

An unselfish player, the lean, 6-foot-9 center concentrated on rebounding, blocking and setting off a fast break. His presence near the basket intimidated shooters and forced them to change their style.

A graduate of McClymonds high school in Oakland, Calif., Russell became an All-American at the University of San Francisco. He helped the Dons win 60 consecutive games, an all-time collegiate record that still stands.

He kept his winning tradition going by playing on the United States team that won the basketball gold medal at the Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia, with an unbeaten record.

Adderly Could Go To Cowboys

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys' search for a defensive back has taken them to Green Bay for a possible trade involving the Packers' discontented defender Herb Adderly.

"We have talked to Green Bay about Adderly," said Dallas general manager Tex Schramm, "and we will probably be talking to them again."

Adderly has been displeased with his situation at Green Bay since he failed to make the Pro Bowl team. Adderly blamed Packer Coach Phil Bengtson for not making the team.

Adderly said he wanted to play for a team in the east "but if I was traded to Dallas, it would be to my advantage to go down there. I've got three or four good years of football left in me."

How to be a young chairman of the board without glancing twice at the boss's daughter.

Very simple. Be a successful insurance agent, who is, in effect, his own chairman of the board. He has his own loyal clients. He makes his own decisions concerning them. And since he is successful, who's going to argue?

Insurance counselling is a field in which income has no ceiling. It offers the opportunity to perform a highly useful service—to corporations as well as individuals. And consider this: 22% of this company's top agents began learning and earning while still in college.
