

Former Students Convene Saturday

Leaders of the university's 50,000-member Association of Former Students meet here this weekend to chart the course for the coming year.

Executive Director Richard (Buck) Weirus estimated that 162 association officers and 100 wives will be at the Ramada Inn for the winter council meeting, class agents conference and club officers and councilmen conference.

Association president James L. Sewell of Dallas heads his first official program after election to the post last fall. Sewell replaces Ford D. Albritton Jr. of Bryan.

Melvin Maltz of Houston, vice president for activities, will preside at Saturday afternoon's 24th annual Councilmen and Club Officers' Conference. A panel presentation by association program vice presidents is scheduled at that time.

A second panel discussion on programs will include members of the association board of directors and Texas A&M staff members Oscar Dorsey, director of admissions; Auston Kerley, associate dean of admissions; Bob Logan, director of student aid; Maj. Ed Solymosy, assistant commandant, and Howard Perry, director of civilian student activities.

Ag to Marry 1967-68 Aggie Sweetheart

2nd Lt. Harold (Bud) T. Welch III and 1967-68 Aggie Sweetheart Kathy Heldman will wed Saturday at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, College Station.

Welch, a 1969 A&M graduate, was senior class vice president and executive officer of Squadron 10. He is now in pilot training at Williams AFB, Ariz. He is the son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Harold T. Welch Jr. of Sheppard AFB.

Miss Heldman is a senior at Texas Woman's University and was 1968 Cotton Bowl Queen. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold W. Heldman of Bryan.

Senate

He spoke out, saying that he had seconded Fitzhugh's motion, Geistweidt maintained that he did not hear a second.

After another senator spoke, Bob Fried called for a vote on the amendment, and his motion was passed.

Senators then defeated the amendment 34-26.

Fitzhugh moved to table Jackson's proposal which was still on the floor, but Geistweidt said the motion died for lack of a second.

The senate then approved the new procedure.

There are two choices, people who wear this button will tell you. You can run around clucking fearfully about disaster, or you can do something constructive to keep it from happening.

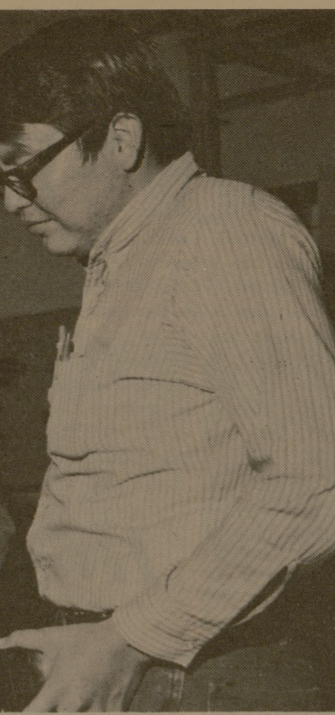

Constructively, there's life insurance. It's not just something for your beneficiaries. It's for now, a solid foundation to any enduring financial structure—and at least one sturdy bulwark against disaster.

Provident Mutual designs programs specifically for college men and women. So give us a call. Or stop by our office and visit with one of our trained professionals. You'll find him pleasant, informative, and refreshingly low-key. Do it today. Don't be a cluck.

INSIDE A PHONE—Chief instructor Charles Whitaker, center, points out the wiring of a household telephone to Bobby Miller, left, of Round Rock, Ariz., and Bobby Jones, of Chinle, Ariz., both bull-blooded Navajo Indians attending a telephone technicians training school at A&M.

10 Navajo Indians Here For Telephone Training

Ten Navajo Indians have begun an eight-week basic telephone training program that for the first time guarantees the graduates a job on their Arizona reservation.

Chief instructor Charles Whitaker of the Telephone Technicians Training Department of the Texas Engineering Extension Service points out "it is our first attempt at pre-employment training. In the past, our courses have been for men who are sent by a company for upgrading or special technical training after several years employment."

The Navajo Nation, 28,000 square miles in Arizona, New Mexico and Utah, was serviced by the Bureau of Indian Affairs until growth in the area showed operation of a telephone company could be profitable to a private company.

Whitaker explained growth on the reservation has been about 40 per cent each year, with major companies building plants on the reservation to use Indian talent in the production of their products.

C. J. Wimer of Grandview, president of the Texas-Midland Telephone Co., purchased the telephone system from the Bureau of Indian Affairs and will begin operations under the Navajo Communications Co. in April. Twenty per cent of the new company is owned by the Navajo Nation.

Government telephone technicians will transfer to other federal systems, leaving an urgent need for trained employees, Whitaker reports.

Wimer and the Tribal Council at Window Rock, Ariz., decided training young Navajo men was the best solution to filling the employ shortage. Texas A&M, which for many years conducted the only telephone technician school in the United States, agreed to train the Navajos in A&M's multimillion dollar facilities.

Nine of the Navajos have high school educations or higher and six of the ten are Vietnam war veterans—several with Purple Hearts and Bronze Star Medals.

Whitaker reported the young men receive $184 a month allowance and travel expenses from the Bureau of Indian Affairs. The subsistence allowance pays for room, board and laundry while at the A&M school.

They will return to the reservation for three months on-the-job training, return to A&M for five weeks of schooling, back again to the reservation for three months OJT and return to A&M for five additional weeks of training.

"We expect to be training about 30 young Navajo men by the end of 1970," Whitaker predicted. "Each of the men selected by the tribal council for the first school come from a different part of the reservation."

"They did not know each other until they met to come to classes here," he mentioned. However, two of the young men are brothers.

The trainees are Damon and Irving Toledo of Cuba, N. M.; Jerry Smiley of Window Rock, Ariz.; Leroy T. Sam of Gallup, N. M.; Larry House of Thoreau, N. M.; Jim Charley and Bobby E. Jones of Chinle, Ariz.; Howard E. Tsosie of Flagstaff, Ariz.; Bobby A. Miller of Round Rock, Ariz., and William Begay of Shiprock, Ariz.
