

Civilians to Offer Racing April 25

Texas International Speedway will not have a major race during Civilian Student Weekend but there will be a race — a go-cart race.

The race will be on the afternoon of April 25 and will involve a yet undetermined final course that will probably include streets around the Memorial Student Center, Hart Hall, the YMCA, All-Faiths Chapel, and Henderson Hall.

According to CSC member Balogh Cane, any on-campus or off-campus civilian housing unit may have an entry. Each entry will be composed of a single 7.5 cc. in. engine cart and a five man team composed of a driver and 4 pit crew members. Additional details when made final will be sent to all hall presidents.

There will be a registration fee of $5 and trophies will be awarded to the first three teams.

Contact is being made with TIS in an attempt to help professionalize the race which is similar to races that have been popular at East Texas State and Purdue.

Environment Group Meets Thursday

The Symposium for environmental awareness will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in room 206 Architecture, according to Bill Voigt, chairman of the symposium.

Voigt said the the symposium will discuss plans for working on environmental problems with the university-appointed ad hoc committee on environmental problems.

"We will discuss co-ordinating with the committee on ways to solve the environmental problems facing Brazos County," Voigt said. "Plus we work with them to secure speakers from the various departments of A&M to speak on pollution."

Voigt added that the symposium will also discuss the aspects of its various committees at the meeting. He noted that each committee was composed of approximately 10 members.

The committees are the television panel committee, committee on securing pollution speakers, committee on slide presentations for civic clubs, committee on assessment of environmental degradation, committee on opinion questionnaires for elected officials, and the committee presenting a resolution to the Student Senate Thursday night.

Prof to Exhibit Implements At Washington-on-the Brazos Dedication

Ingenious devices such as a walk-along wire stretcher, apple peeler and other tools used by Texas pioneers and early U.S. settlers will be exhibited by Dr. Leslie V. Hawkins of Texas A&M at the dedication of a new museum and auditorium Sunday at Washington-in-the-Brazos.

Festivities involving Gov. Preston Smith, House Speaker Gus Mutscher of Brenham, Attorney

General Martin Dies Jr. and other state dignitaries will be held Sunday afternoon. The Texas Aggie Band also will participate.

Texans met at the site 144 years ago Sunday to declare their independence from Mexico.

Many of the tools to be displayed by the A&M industrial education professor and his wife Helen pre-date that March 1, 1836, period in history. Hawkins said about 300 pieces from his large collection will be on special display, by invitation of the Washington-on-the-Brazos Association.

Among the items will be a Georgia stock plow, treadle lathe acquired at Georgetown and hand tools such as wooden planes, mallets and augers. Among Mrs. Hawkins' early American kitchen tools is a mechanical apple peeler that — to the delight of youngsters — is often put into operation.

Hawkins, whose collection has been exhibited in the A&M library, said recent purchase of a book enabled display of the walk-along wire stretcher, purchased at a blacksmith shop in Christman.

"I've had it 10 years and didn't know what it was," he smiled. A diagram in the book on barbed wire solved the mystery.
