

IN THE STANDS—Aggie pole vaulter Harold McMahan soars over the bar at 14-8 here Saturday to stay in the midst of the event. Eventually McMahan closed out at 15 feet to finish third. It was his best effort of the year. Larry McIntyre was awarded a slot over McMahan at the same height on fewer misses. (Photo by Mike Wright)

May the fox and coyote live happily ever after.

Fox: girl. Coyote: boy. They meet, they mate, and suddenly responsibility becomes a much more important word. So it's a good thing to plan now—before foxy and family make the scene.

One way is by investing in a life insurance program that can provide the foundation for a solid financial structure. The earlier you start, the less the coverage costs. And the more security you'll have a chance to build.

Phone our office today. Or stop by. We can't promise happiness and bliss ever after, but we can help keep the wolf from the door.

Thinclads Better Season's Records

By Mike Wright Assistant Sports Editor

The Aggie tracksters have not been sitting around this spring and admiring their past records. In most events, the Ags have bettered their previous marks each week.

The 440-yard relay team composed of Scotty Hendricks, Curtis Mills, Marvin Mills, Rockie Woods owns the best mark in that event with a 40.1 clocking. This was the first time that this team had ran due to injuries to team members. Sam Skinner ran his best mile last Saturday with a 4:22.3. Donny Rogers owns the best mark in the 120-yard hurdles at 14.5. Curtis Mills scooted to a 47.8 in the 440-yard Saturday for the season's best time.

Woods and Marvin Mills are tied at the top for the 100-yard dash. The duo finished in a dead heat and were both timed at 9.7 seconds Saturday. Willie Blackmon, the first Aggie to finish in the top three in the 880-yard dash at the Border Olympics in many moons, ran a 1:54.1 for his best this year.

Don Keller owns a 51.8 clocking in the 440-yard hurdle from the opening outdoor meet in Fort Worth on February 28. Keller may have come close to bettering the mark last Saturday as he led the field coming into the finish, but lost his stride as he knocked down the final two hurdles.

Rogers also holds the team record in the 220-yard dash with a 21.6 rating. Bill Johnson zipped to a 15:08 in the three-mile run at the Fort Worth Meet. The mile-relay team of Harold McMahan, Marvin Mills, Blackmon, and Curtis Mills have ran the distance in 3:13.5 twice, at the Border and here Saturday. Marvin Taylor owns the high jump mark with a 6-9 leap. Ronnie Lightfoot owns both the shot and discus with 57-5 and 168-2½ respectively. Marc Black also has tossed the javelin 211-5½.
