Teer Named Head Of Wildlife Science

Dr. James G. Teer, who has gained national prominence as project leader for the Caesar Kleberg Chair of Wildlife Science, is the new head of the Wildlife Science Department.

Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of the College of Agriculture, said the appointment was effective this week. Teer, previously an associate professor at A&M, will receive a full professorship Sept. 1 through previous action by the Board of Directors.

Teer was named holder of the Kleberg Chair of Wildlife Science and leader of the Caesar Kleberg Foundation Research Program in 1967. Caesar Kleberg who died in the late 1940's, was an associate of the famed King Ranch.

The Kleberg project deals with the biology and ecology of plant-animal communities and the population dynamics of vertebrates. "In this position, Dr. Teer has developed a strong research program, both in Texas and at Africa's Serengeti Research Station in Tanzania. The Department of Wildlife Science has developed an international reputation in vertebrate systematics.

A 1950 graduate, Teer joined the staff in 1962 as assistant professor of wildlife science and was made an associate professor in 1966.

Laundry Plans Announced for Easter Break

Changes in the bundle turn-in and pick-up dates for student laundry bundles, in effect for the Easter break, have been announced by George Hartsock, laundry manager.

During the week of March 23-27, laundry will be picked up on Monday and Tuesday for the entire alphabet so long as bundles are placed in the laundry drops by 9 a.m. either day. These bundles will be returned to the substations by 5 p.m. March 25. There will be no out-of-place charge during this week.

During the week of March 30-April 3, Mondays schedule, Mc-R, can be turned in on Tuesday by 9 a.m. without an out-of-place charge. The regular schedule will be in effect for the remainder of the week.

At its last meeting, the laundry committee decided on a procedure for students who turn in their laundry on either Thursday or Friday and who must have their clothes for previously approved weekend work. These students will be allowed to turn their laundry in on Wednesday and pick it up on Thursday.

Affected students should complete a form, obtain a letter from their employer, and submit them to the laundry committee for review.

If approved, the letter "E" would be placed on the student's laundry slip by the student himself along with his assigned number. Upon arrival at the plant, the tag would be compared with a master list of excused students.

The committee asked that interested students contact their respective representative, whose name is posted at the students particular substation.

New A&M Department Is Approved By Board

Creation of a Sociology and Anthropology Department here has been approved by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

Dr. Horace R. Byers, academic vice president, said the new department will be part of the College of Liberal Arts.

The university currently operates an Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department within the College of Agriculture.

Dr. Byers said the new department will be staffed by faculty who currently teach sociology in the existing department. The Agricultural Economics Department will continue to function as part of the College of Agriculture, the vice president added.

Airport

board could lease the airport "undersuch terms and conditions as may be determined by the said (A&M) Board," provided that the agreement be for no more than 40 years.

The A&M Board was also authorized "to enter into agreements with any of such lessees whereby the said airport may be operated under the supervision of said Board of Directors under such terms and conditions as may be determined by said Board, and said Board may do any and all things necessary or convenient in connection with the leasing of said airport and the operation thereof. . . ."

Examples of the designer's work will be on display in the building's foyer.

In other action, the coordinating board authorized A&M to offer a new bachelor's degree in technical education, a bachelor's in environmental design and five new options for the master of architecture degree.

Festival 70 Ends Friday

Crawford Dunn of Crawford Dunn & Associates of Dallas will highlight Festival 70 presentations here Friday.

The Japanese film, "Woman and the Dune," will conclude the Contemporary Arts Committee's spring project at 8 p.m. the same night in the MSC Ballroom.

Dunn, one of the nation's leading consultants in corporate design, is sponsored by the Forum for Environmental Studies, student chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

He will give a presentation on "The Architecture of Communication" from 9 to 11 a.m. in Room 208 Architecture, according to Joe Flores, FES-AIA president.

Flores said that Dunn will also conduct a general lecture seminar in the labs on the second floor from 1 to 3 p.m. and will present a slide show, "A Europe People Never See," in the auditorium from 3 to 5 p.m.
