team which is interviewing and testing prospective officers here this week. The team is operating an information booth in the Memorial

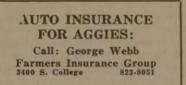

Student Center through Thursday.

Bryan, S/Sgt. Thomas Phillips and Sgt. R. L. Stephens, all of the Marine Corps' Austin office. Capt. Crane said he is particularly interested in explaining the Corps' Platoon Leaders Class (PLC) program to freshmen and sophomores.

The PLC program offers students an opportunity to earn a commission upon graduation by successfully completing two sixweek periods of summer training at Quantico, Va.

The team also will participate in the 7:30 meeting tonight of the Semper Fidelis Society in Room 146 of the Physics Building. The Semper Fidelis Society is the Corps' national collegiate organization.

Dr. Hobson to Give Physics Colloquium Dr. Arthur Hobson, physics professor at the University of Arkansas, will present a colloquium here Wednesday.

Topic for the 4 p.m. presentation in Room 146 Physics will be "The Foundations of Statistical Mechanics."

Funeral services for Dr. Charles H. Winkler, 91, of 200 Lee St., College Station, will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the A&M Presbyterian Church.

The retired professor emeritus of psychology at Texas A&M died Sunday night in a Bryan hospital.

The Rev. H. Bruce Fisher, pastor of the A&M Presbyterian Church, will officiate at local services and at 3 p.m. graveside services in The Grove, Texas, Cemetery. Hillier Funeral Home, Bryan, has charge of arrangements.

Dr. Winkler was born in The Grove on Dec. 5, 1878.

He graduated from Texas A&M in 1901, received a master's degree from the University of Texas, Austin, and the Ph.D. from the University of Missouri

Winkler was named dean of A&M's School of Vocational Teaching in 1923, dean and head of the Agricultural Education Department in 1925, professor and head of the Psychology Department in 1935 and director of the Summer School in 1938.

He retired from Texas A&M in 1946 after 23 years of active teaching.

Dr. Winkler is survived by his wife, Mrs. Adeline Winkler of College Station; three sons, Dr. Bruno O. Winkler of Sao Paulo, Brazil, Max Winkler of New Braunfels and Dr. Charles H. Winkler Jr. of Birmingham, Ala.; two daughters, Mrs. Betty Jane McEuen of Jackson, Miss., and Mrs. Mary Beth Walton of San Antonio.

Also, two brothers, Fred Winkler of McGregor and Albert Winkler of Davis, Calif.; one sister, Miss Louise Winkler of The Grove; 15 grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

dent of UT-Austin, said the administration had wrestled with the problem but decided the cure might be worse than the disease.

Frank Erwin, chairman of the board of regents, said it would be unfair to the generation of students coming up to limit enrollment. He said the school recently acquired a great deal more land adjacent to the campus through urban renewal and that commitments had been made for expansion.

Erwin predicted 4,000 to 5,000 students would be turned away next September if enrollment was frozen at 35,000.

"I certainly wouldn't want a situation like they have at Berkeley, where they let in only the top 10 per cent of the high school class," he said. "I think that's a big part of what's wrong with Berkeley."
