

New look on campus—This artist's conception depicts the proposed Memorial Student Center-auditorium complex. The project is now in the final stage of design. The tower will be devoted to "continuing education" activities, such as conferences and short courses. The complex will include a major addition to the present Memorial Student Center, (right) as well as completely new auditorium facilities (left) on the site of the current auditorium.

Richter paper tops

Ronald L. Richter, dairy science graduate student, presented a first place paper during the American Dairy Science Association annual meeting just ended in Gainesville, Fla. His paper was judged tops in an event listed as the National Graduate Student Scientific Paper in Manufacturing. The student's presentation was titled "Purification of Bovine Milk Lipase By Ultrafiltration and Column Chromatography."

He received an engraved plaque and a check for $100. Richter is working toward his doctoral degree in dairy manufacturing. He is the son of Mrs. Fred Richter of Ledyard, Iowa. Frank Olivas of El Paso, a senior dairy production major, was elected 2nd vice president of the American Dairy Science Association's Student Affiliate Division.
