I heard on the news yesterday about your "Petition" with 4,000 signatures in support of our country in Cambodia. I wish to express my relief and gratitude to . I am so pleased to see that "not all" of our college age students are following the belief's of a minority group who, in my own opinion, are a paid communist front to divide this country and destroy our educational

Dear Sirs:

I applaud all of you who signed "Petition" and am very proud. I was beginning to believe that all college age students had been brain washed. . . . I do not believe in communism and will not let it be imposed upon

I have been writing letters all week to every representative I could think of in an attempt to let them know that I am one of the millions in this country who is a member of the silent majority. I am opposed to students being allowed to burn, destroy, deface and use our American Flag as a kleenex. I am opposed to the ignorant people of this country who have given a reaction that makes the communists feel that they are winning over us. This is America and I am not going to stand idly by and let "direct" communism be imposed on me or my country.

I am 26 years of age, married and have one child. I am a legal secretary of nine years and work five days a week. I do not have time to demonstrate and make noise to be recognized. Demonstrations in this country have gotten out of hand . . . the right of peaceful assembly and freedom of speech have been used as an excuse to the very LIMIT of my patience.

Again, I wish to thank you for showing me that you care about your country. The whole world has to be shown that WE ALL est football season with nine halftime appearances scheduled for 1970 games.

Aggie Band faces nine appearances

The renown organization directed by Lt. Col. E. V. Adams will initiate the year Sept. 12 and help break in the new Astroturf surface on Kyle Field at the Texas A&M-Wichita State game.

Four out-of-town appearances beginning with the A&M-LSU contest in Baton Rouge Sept. 19 and an unusual windup to an 11game season also are being

"In addition to making more appearances than the band has made in a single season before, we will, for the first time, have to get a drill ready for seven straight weekends," Colonel Adams commented. "It's an unusual situation."

The Aggie Band will march at the Texas Tech game here Oct. 10; TCU here, Oct. 17; at Baylor Oct. 24; Arkansas here, Oct. 31; !and blazes under tasteful reat SMU (Corps Trip), Nov. 7; straint."

The Aggie Band faces its busi- Rice here, Nov. 14, and at Texas (Corps Trip), Nov. 26.

The band's only respite will be a three-week period after the LSU game, when the Aggie football team will be at Columbus for Ohio State (Sept. 23) and Ann Arbor for Michigan (Oct. 3).

Colonel Adams, who will be embarking on his 25th season as Aggie bandmaster, will operate the band from a sparkling new band hall when the fall semester begins Aug. 31. Bandmen will have little time to become acquainted with the new facilities, however. Only two weeks are available to prepare for the Wichita State game halftime ap-Adams began directing the Aggie Band in 1946. He has the longest tenure among Southwest Conference band directors. The Wichita State game drill will be the 185th he has devised for the organization known for intricate, precision performances and sound described by one fan as "thunder
