Langford receives memorial award

Jim Langford, a junior shortstop from Texas City, is the recipient of the first Steve Hillhouse Memorial Baseball Scholarship. The scholarship was donated by a group of local businessmen in memory of Steve Hillhouse, former Aggie pitching great who died Oct. 29, 1969, of injuries suffered in an automobile accident. The donors are A. W. (Head) Davis, attorney; Dick Peacock, owner of Shipley Donuts; Travis Ryan, Jr., president of First National Bank; W. C. (Bill) Davis, district judge; Frank Litvick, rancher; and B. D. Moore, owner of Bryco, Inc. Hillhouse was known as the "Texas Killer" in his years as an Aggie hurler. From 1964-66, the left-handed Hillhouse defeated Texas six times against one defeat. One of the victories was a shutout, the first pitched against Texas in 199 games. He was named Sophomore Player of the Year and Player of the Year in the Southwest Conference. Langford transferred from San Antonio Junior College and will start his first varsity season at A&M next spring.

A&M sports news and notes... DeNiro's number retired this year

By CLIFFORD BROYLES
 Battalion Sports Editor
 No. 89, one that for the past two seasons identified one of the outstanding defensive players in the country, the late Mike DeNiro, will not be worn by a Texas Aggie this season. This would have been the two time All-Southwest Conference defensive end's senior season with the Aggies. He was killed in an auto accident last January.

Coach Gene Stallings gives credit to Assistant Head Coach Elmer Smith for the fact that the Aggies usually have an outstanding punter each year. The list of great punters includes Phil Scoggin, Steve O'Neal and now Jimmy Sheffield and Mitch Robertson. Although both have been punting exceptionally this fall, Sheffield will probably do most of the punting.

Defensive guard Van Odom claims that sophomore running back Brad Dusek is harder to tackle than Steve Worster of the University of Texas at Austin, but added that Worster was a powerful blocker.

"Blocking is my big weakness, something I'm going to have to work on and improve," Dusek said. Dusek, being issued the no. 44, last worn by Heisman Trophy winner John David Crow in 1957, said, "I feel greatly honored. Maybe someday I can do justice to it."

Jack Kovar, starting center for the past three years on the Aggie football team and winner of the Aggie Heart Award last year, came to A&M without a scholarship. Now that he has gone another non-scholarship athlete, is a top candidate for his position. Mike Park is a sophomore from Huntville who was red-shirted last year.

Bruce and Boice Best, sophomore brothers on the Aggie football team, are not twins as has been often publicized. Bruce, a candidate for the defensive line or linebacker, was born March 28, 1950, and Boice, the number one left defensive guard, was born May 23, 1951.

There may be little home town flare in the fight for two positions on the A&M squad this fall. Max Bird and Barb Hinnant, who are battling for the right defensive end spot, are both from Amarillo Tascosa High School and Joey Herr and Tommy Goodwin, both split ends, are from Fort Worth Eastern Hills.

The Fightin' Texas Aggie Band directed by Col. E. V. Adams will be on hand for nine of the 11 Aggie games. Only the Ohio State and Michigan games will miss the pure version of the "Aggie War Hymn" this fall. They will be making their first trip to LSU in several years this season.

Dave Elmendorf, the Aggies prize defensive back and baseball player can't really decide on which sport he likes best. "In the fall I like football and in the spring I like baseball."

The Aggies will go to the airways tonight and Friday night as two area television stations will present their one-hour shows on the Southwest Conference football. KCEN-TV, Channel 6 in Waco will have its hour long special tonight at 9 p.m. and KTRK-TV Channel 13 in Houston will have its show at 9 p.m. Friday. Coach Gene Stallings' weekly radio show will be heard on radio station KORA in Bryan locally each Saturday at 11:45 a.m.
