LSU scouting report... Tigers tough as usual

By JOHN CURYLO

A&M's opponent Saturday night is 12th-ranked LSU, who has fielded 62 winning teams in its 77-year football history.

Last year, the Fighting Tigers opened against the Aggies with a score of 35-6, and then they went on to finish 9-1, the only setback being against Mississippi.

The Bayou Bengals have lost 18 lettermen from last year, including fullback-punter Eddie Ray. However, 32 lettermen return, and LSU is expected to be a contender for the Southeastern Conference title.

The offensive hopes of LSU are based on tailback Tommy Casanova, who was all-SEC as a sophomore cornerback last year. Casanova used his 9.7 speed last year to carry 24 times for 108 yards in limited offensive action. He also returned five kickoffs for 126 yards and 23 punts for 263 yards.

Taking Ray's fullback slot will be converted tailback Allen Shorey, who gained 485 yards on 118 carries for four touchdowns last year. At splitback will be Andy Hamilton, last season's No. 2 man at that position. Hamilton, a 6-3, 195-pound junior, caught 16 passes for 271 yards and three touchdowns last year. As a ball carrier, he scored four times, having gained 68 yards in 13 attempts.

The Tigers have two quarterbacks competing for Mike Hillman's vacated post. Senior Buddy Lee is a polished passer and played behind Hillman last year. Sophomore Bert Jones, 6-3 and 207, supposedly has the best LSU passing arm since Y. A. Tittle.

Ken Kavanaugh is the split end this year. He is the son of the LSU Hall of Famer and present assistant coach for the New York Giants. At tight end, lettermen Randy Toms and Jay Michaelson will share playing time with sophomore Jesse Truax, the younger brother of former Tiger great Billy Truax, who now plays for the Los Angeles Rams.

Depth is a problem in the offensive line, but there are seven returning lettermen. The only sophomore starter is left tackle Tom Besselman.

On defense, LSU sets up in a 4-3 basic alignment. A successful year depends on a steady performance by the front four, replacement of last year's big three at linebacker, and the secondary playing up to its capability.

The line consists of sophomore Mike Doyle and senior Arthur Davis at the ends, and senior John Sage and junior Ronnie Estay at the tackles. Depth and experience are no problems in this department for the Tigers.

AP picks... Tigers favored by 7

NEW YORK (AP) — Texas Southern California and Notre Dame, three of the leading candidates for No. 1 football honors, get their cleats muddied this week — but not their records.

They should win, but Nebraska 25: The Trojans have size, the Trojans. Also watch featherers fly in the Houston-Syracuse game.

Southern California 32, Nebraska 25: The Trojans have size, a winning habit and a quarterback named Jimmy Jones, but the Cornhuskers have a scoring punch.

Notre Dame 38, Northwestern 14: Ara Parseghian can't afford to show too much mercy to his former associates.

Texas 25, California 14: The Longhorns are reported as big, tough and fast as last year's champions, so they can't be worse—not with Steve Worster.

Oklahoma 19, Wisconsin 15: Two teams on the rebound, but the Sooners must prove themselves in a hurry.

Houston 23, Syracuse 19: Moon Mullins spearheads the Houston offense which the Orangemen can slow down but not stop.

Penn State 27, Navy 8: The Nittany Lions extend their unbeaten streak to 31, but the midshipmen are on the way up.

UCLA 20, Pittsburgh 14: Dennis Dummit and his Pacific Coast mates will find Pitt big and strong — but still developing.

Baylor 18, Army 15: The Bears, with Si Southall, should eke this one out in an upset. Army looked ragged in its opener.

North Carolina 14, North Carolina State 9: These Dixie rivals give up little ground — the Tarheels get even for 1969.
