

BROWN - ALLEN
MOTOR CO.
OLDSMOBILE
SALES - SERVICE
"Where satisfaction is standard equipment"
2400 Texas Ave.

More troops to be withdrawn soon

SAIGON (AP) — The United States made three new moves Tuesday to disengage its men and machines from the war, including completion of the transfer of a big combat base to the South Vietnamese army.

It was the 57th American installation to be turned over to the Vietnamese since the U. S. withdrawal started just over a year ago.

The other disengagement moves announced by the U.S. Command were the further reduction in U.S. troop strength by 2,565 men and the transfer of 40 jet attack bombers to the South Vietnamese air force, next Thursday.

In war action, a South Vietnamese armored column engaged North Vietnamese troops along the Cambodian border and reported killing 21 while listing their own losses as six dead and 14 wounded.

The U. S. Command also signaled a forthcoming disengagement move. It announced that three units of the 1st Marine Division and an Army artillery battalion have been pulled out of action and are preparing to depart.

The combat base that was turned over to the South Vietnamese is at An Hoa, 20 miles southwest of Da Nang. It was set up four years ago by U.S. Marines and was once one of the largest bases for the Leathernecks in the northern sector.

The newly announced troops reduction lowered the current American strength to about 391,000 men and this figure will be cut by another 7,000 during the coming weeks.

JOE'S HOBBY CORNER

FEATURING: A complete line of tropical fish, aquarium supplies and pet supplies.

Gas powered model airplanes and supplies from 1/2 A U-control to multi-channel radio control now at discount prices.

Located in the Rear of Redmond Terrace Drugs
1402 Hwy. 6 South, College Station, Texas
call 846-5701 for further information

J. C. (Jim) Harris

THE BUG SHOP, Inc.

1911 So. College Ave.
Bryan, Texas 77801
Phone 822-5383

Bryan's Leading Independent Volkswagen Service

GOLF GARDEN

19 Hole Miniature
Golf Course
2002 E. 29th Bryan, Texas
Next To Skyway Twin

MONDAYS

Ladies Free
With Escort
SATURDAYS
10:00 to 3:00 Play All
The Games You Want
For ONLY $1.00

55c PER GAME

Mon. Thru Fri. — 4:00 to 11:00 P. M.
Saturday — 10:00 A. M. to 11:00 P. M.
Sunday 12:00 to 11:00 P. M.

This Add Worth 25¢ Off Reg. Price — 1 Per Group

Campus Briefs

Six veterinarians receive degrees

Seven veterinarians in the College of Veterinary Medicine received master's or Ph.D. degrees in veterinary pathology during the past six weeks.

Awarded doctorates from A&M were Dr. P. S. O'Hara, Dr. K. M. Kerr and Dr. K. M. Charlton. Dr. O'Hara, who taught at Texas A&M the past five years, has returned to New Zealand.

Dr. S. E. Hunt, veterinary pathology instructor, received the Ph.D. degree in clinical pathology this month from the University of Queensland, St. Lucia, Australia.

Dr. Hunt is a native of England. He went to Australia in 1954 and recently joined the A&M faculty.

A&M awarded M.S. degrees in veterinary pathology to Dr. W. L. Schwartz, serologist at the Texas Veterinary Medicine Diagnostic Laboratory here; Dr. J. R. Joyce, assistant professor of veterinary medicine and surgery, and Dr. D. M. Sells, who has joined the Veterinary Pathology Department, University of Illinois School of Veterinary Medicine.

Four retired faculty designated emeritus

Professor emeritus designation was approved Tuesday for four A&M faculty members who retired this summer after service totaling 82 years.

Named professor emeritus were Spencer J. Buchanan, W. E. Eckles, Dr. E. J. Dyksterhuis and Joe A. Orr.

Buchanan joined the civil engineering faculty in 1946 and was head of the Soil Mechanics Division from 1950 to 1968.

Orr, also a civil engineering professor, has been a member of the faculty since 1928. He headed the department's surveying program several years and assisted in development of its academic work in municipal administration.

Dr. Dyksterhuis, a range science professor, joined the Texas A&M faculty in 1964 after careers with the U. S. Forest Service and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Eckles had served since 1960 as a management professor and director of the College of Business Administration's Executive Development Program.

Dean Prescott to head A&M's United Drive

Dean of Science J. M. Prescott will head A&M's "United Drive," announced Acting President A. R. Lueddecke.

The one-week university drive opens Monday, corresponding with the start of United campaigns in College Station and Bryan.

"Dean Prescott has demonstrated that he can provide the leadership, organization and enthusiasm to make this campaign a success," Lueddecke said.

"There's no question that this is a worthy cause which deserves all of our support," he added.

"We are hoping for large-scale participation from members of the university community," Prescott said. "As citizens of the Bryan-College Station area, it is important that we support the objectives of this fund-raising effort which contributes so generously to numerous community agencies which benefit all of us."

Record budget approved for A&M telephone center

A record $118,119 budget for 1970-71 operation of the Telephone Technicians Training Center at A&M has been approved by the Texas Telephone Association.

TTA Training Committee Chairman F. G. Withers of Houston, president of the Texas Telephone and Telegraph Co., said the new budget is up $37,279 for the nation's oldest and largest telephone technician program.

Operated by the Engineering Extension service at A&M, the school started in 1965 with a $16,696 budget.

Withers explained more than $89,300 of the budget is expected to be funded by telephone companies paying tuition of men sent to the center.

However, the entire program is underwritten financially by the Texas Telephone Association. H. D. Bearden, director of A&M's Engineering Extension Service, and Ed Kerlick, chief instructor at the center, said the budget anticipates telephone technicians will receive some 44,658 man-hours of training or 1,116 man-weeks from Sept. 1 through Aug. 31, 1971.

Bearden added that during the past five years the budget estimates have been exceeded by demands for the highly-specialized training offered in a wide variety of courses.

Kerlick said special classes last fiscal year resulted in 45,120

Nasser's death may ruin talks

CAIRO (AP)—Egyptians poured out their grief for Gamal Abdel Nasser on Tuesday as world capitals wondered what his passing may portend for peace in the Middle East.

Many feared that the Egyptian president's death may mean a new setback for the already stalled peace talks between Israel and its Arab neighbors.

President Nixon, however, said it was too early to know how Nasser's death may affect the troubled Mideast. He told newsmen accompanying him to the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean:

"It will contribute a new situation, but whether it contributes to more tension remains to be seen. I think it is much too early to say because we do not know whom his successor will be or whether it might be some kind of collective leadership."

Some diplomats at the United Nations said Nasser's death might spell the end of the U. S. initiative that laid the groundwork for the talks with a 90-day cease-fire between Israel on one side and Egypt and Jordan on the other. Gunnar V. Jarring, the U. N. peace mediator, disagreed, saying it was too early to tell, a U. N. spokesman reported.

Acting President Anwar Sadat received condolences from world leaders, some of whom began arriving for the state funeral Thursday.

There was little speculation among Egyptians in their hour of mourning as to a successor to Nasser, but they learned that some of his closest advisers had been at his bedside, among them Sadat. He was a fellow officer in the 1962 coup against the monarchy and was chosen by

Nasser to be his vice president. He is acting president until a new chief executive is chosen within 60 days.

With Sadat as chairman, the executive committee of Egypt's only political party, the Arab Socialist Union, and the Cabinet met in emergency session. It was presumed they discussed the date for a party vote on Nasser's successor.

One of Nasser's last official acts was to help frame an agreement Sunday between King Hussein of Jordan and the Palestinian guerrillas to end the Jordanian civil war.

"I will contribute a new situation, but whether it contributes to more tension remains to be seen. I think it is much too early to say because we do not know whom his successor will be or whether it might be some kind of collective leadership."

Some diplomats at the United Nations said Nasser's death might spell the end of the U. S. initiative that laid the groundwork for the talks with a 90-day cease-fire between Israel on one side and Egypt and Jordan on the other. Gunnar V. Jarring, the U. N. peace mediator, disagreed, saying it was too early to tell, a U. N. spokesman reported.

Acting President Anwar Sadat received condolences from world leaders, some of whom began arriving for the state funeral Thursday.

There was little speculation among Egyptians in their hour of mourning as to a successor to Nasser, but they learned that some of his closest advisers had been at his bedside, among them Sadat. He was a fellow officer in the 1962 coup against the monarchy and was chosen by

Nasser to be his vice president. He is acting president until a new chief executive is chosen within 60 days.

With Sadat as chairman, the executive committee of Egypt's only political party, the Arab Socialist Union, and the Cabinet met in emergency session. It was presumed they discussed the date for a party vote on Nasser's successor.

One of Nasser's last official acts was to help frame an agreement Sunday between King Hussein of Jordan and the Palestinian guerrillas to end the Jordanian civil war.

"I will contribute a new situation, but whether it contributes to more tension remains to be seen. I think it is much too early to say because we do not know whom his successor will be or whether it might be some kind of collective leadership."

Some diplomats at the United Nations said Nasser's death might spell the end of the U. S. initiative that laid the groundwork for the talks with a 90-day cease-fire between Israel on one side and Egypt and Jordan on the other. Gunnar V. Jarring, the U. N. peace mediator, disagreed, saying it was too early to tell, a U. N. spokesman reported.

Acting President Anwar Sadat received condolences from world leaders, some of whom began arriving for the state funeral Thursday.

There was little speculation among Egyptians in their hour of mourning as to a successor to Nasser, but they learned that some of his closest advisers had been at his bedside, among them Sadat. He was a fellow officer in the 1962 coup against the monarchy and was chosen by

Nasser to be his vice president. He is acting president until a new chief executive is chosen within 60 days.

With Sadat as chairman, the executive committee of Egypt's only political party, the Arab Socialist Union, and the Cabinet met in emergency session. It was presumed they discussed the date for a party vote on Nasser's successor.

One of Nasser's last official acts was to help frame an agreement Sunday between King Hussein of Jordan and the Palestinian guerrillas to end the Jordanian civil war.

"I will contribute a new situation, but whether it contributes to more tension remains to be seen. I think it is much too early to say because we do not know whom his successor will be or whether it might be some kind of collective leadership."

Some diplomats at the United Nations said Nasser's death might spell the end of the U. S. initiative that laid the groundwork for the talks with a 90-day cease-fire between Israel on one side and Egypt and Jordan on the other. Gunnar V. Jarring, the U. N. peace mediator, disagreed, saying it was too early to tell, a U. N. spokesman reported.

Acting President Anwar Sadat received condolences from world leaders, some of whom began arriving for the state funeral Thursday.

There was little speculation among Egyptians in their hour of mourning as to a successor to Nasser, but they learned that some of his closest advisers had been at his bedside, among them Sadat. He was a fellow officer in the 1962 coup against the monarchy and was chosen by

Nasser to be his vice president. He is acting president until a new chief executive is chosen within 60 days.

With Sadat as chairman, the executive committee of Egypt's only political party, the Arab Socialist Union, and the Cabinet met in emergency session. It was presumed they discussed the date for a party vote on Nasser's successor.

One of Nasser's last official acts was to help frame an agreement Sunday between King Hussein of Jordan and the Palestinian guerrillas to end the Jordanian civil war.

"I will contribute a new situation, but whether it contributes to more tension remains to be seen. I think it is much too early to say because we do not know whom his successor will be or whether it might be some kind of collective leadership."

Some diplomats at the United Nations said Nasser's death might spell the end of the U. S. initiative that laid the groundwork for the talks with a 90-day cease-fire between Israel on one side and Egypt and Jordan on the other. Gunnar V. Jarring, the U. N. peace mediator, disagreed, saying it was too early to tell, a U. N. spokesman reported.

Acting President Anwar Sadat received condolences from world leaders, some of whom began arriving for the state funeral Thursday.

There was little speculation among Egyptians in their hour of mourning as to a successor to Nasser, but they learned that some of his closest advisers had been at his bedside, among them Sadat. He was a fellow officer in the 1962 coup against the monarchy and was chosen by

Nasser to be his vice president. He is acting president until a new chief executive is chosen within 60 days.

With Sadat as chairman, the executive committee of Egypt's only political party, the Arab Socialist Union, and the Cabinet met in emergency session. It was presumed they discussed the date for a party vote on Nasser's successor.

One of Nasser's last official acts was to help frame an agreement Sunday between King Hussein of Jordan and the Palestinian guerrillas to end the Jordanian civil war.

Beware the Body Shirt Snatcher!

You're fair game
when you wear
a Van Heusen
Body Shirt.

Man, you'll just have to keep your shirt on! 'Cause if it's the new Van Heusen Body Shirt, you'll want to enjoy those physique-flattering lines for yourself. Your torso is even more so in the world's best fitting body shirt. In a terrific selection of bold stripes and solids, with the newest long point collar and 2-button cuffs.

PRIZES! Two big ones! Two round-trip flights via SAS SCANDINAVIAN AIRLINES to Copenhagen and Majorca for a swinging, expense-paid CLUB 33 vacation! Plus a box of Van Heusen Body Shirts for each of 25 runner-up entries. Easy to enter: just create your own slogans for our Body Shirt ad. Send entries to College Contest, VAN HEUSEN, 417 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10016. Contest void where prohibited by law.

FLY SAS SCANDINAVIAN AIRLINES jets to wonderful Copenhagen and Club 33 headquarters, then on to Majorca for two sensational weeks with your new friends and fellow swingers!

VAN HEUSEN® 417
Body Shirt

Baffle the Van Heusen Body Shirt Snatcher!

Buy two Van Heusen 417 Body Shirts. One for you to wear. Another for you to share with the Body Shirt Snatcher. This way, you'll always have at least one of the two best fitting body shirts in town. And Van Heusen makes both of them! See the Body Shirts now at...

THE EXCHANGE STORE
"Serving Texas Aggies Since 1907"

1971 AGGIELAND PICTURE SCHEDULE

FRESHMEN-

T-Z SEPT. 28-OCT. 2

MAKE-UPS OCT. 5-9

Civilians - Coat & Tie

Corps - Class A Winter

University Studio

North Gate
846-8019