

Frogs, Aggies in same boat

By CLIFFORD BROYLES

Two football teams made up of quite a few sophomores will do battle this weekend as the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs visit Kyle Field.

The Horned Frogs will start six sophomores with a half dozen more seeing a lot of action, while the Aggies will have eight starting and 11 others who play regularly.

Aside from their youth, injuries also are similar to both teams, Coach Gene Stallings said at his weekly press conference Tuesday.

"I don't think they're as good as Tech. They've been hit by injuries just like us."

Two of those injuries, to running back Bobby Davis and offensive lineman J. R. Eubanks, came in the Arkansas game last week. Davis was the SWC leading rusher during the early part of the season and still ranked in the top five in the conference after the contest.

Stallings counted the injury list from the Tech game and noted there were no serious additions, although he added that five potential starters, Dennis Carruth, Steve Luebbehusen, Gary McCaffrey, Chris Johnson and Clifford Thomas were still unavailable.

Guard Lenard Millsap, who has not played since the Wichita State game because of an injury, returned to practice for the first time since then Monday, Stallings said.

Players who received less severe injuries in the Tech game were Ed Ebrom, a neck injury, Hugh McElroy, a hip pointer, Mike Lord, a toe injury, and Andy Phillee, a pulled muscle.

Brad Dusek, who had been at less than full speed most of the season, is almost back to full speed, he said.

"Dave Elmendorf always plays well. Doug Neill ran well and offensive tackle Benny DeWitt did a good job blocking but other than that I couldn't see much we did good," the coach said as he evaluated performances of the conference opener.

Stallings said he was most impressed by the way the Tech offensive line came off the ball, which was asserted by their 62 rushing plays for 362 yards.

"I was really impressed with the way they came off the ball. We got whipped at the line of scrimmage."

"I think he's a good quarterback. But I guess you hear the same thing every week. He did well against us last year and he's a year older," he said regarding TCU's junior quarterback Steve Judy.

He noted the Frogs' 6-7 240 defensive tackle, Larry Dibble as being a good one.

"They have good linebackers and I believe that after the Southwest Conference press tour this fall that many of the writers said their secondary was the best in the conference."

Stallings said he was not pleased with the Aggies' running game which has averaged only 124 yards a game.

The Aggies have gained only 620 yards in five games on the ground.

"Yes, I'm disappointed in that and also that we've been dropped for losses totaling 209 yards while attempting to pass.

"That 209 yards lost passing and seven interceptions takes away from the over 1,000 yards picked up by the passing game," he said.

Ag cagers begin work Thursday

Although the start of the season is still six weeks away, when the Texas Aggie basketball team hosts the Stephen F. Austin State University Lumberjacks Dec. 1, the Aggies and players on the other seven Southwest Conference schools will get going with officials workouts Thursday.

Coach Shelby Metcalf will have 13 prospects on hand for workouts including, six returning lettermen, five promising sophomores, one junior college transfer and one player who entered the service after his sophomore season at A&M and has come back to finish his eligibility.

Returning lettermen will be Bill Cooksey, Rick Duplantis, Pat Kavanaugh, Steve Niles, Chuck Smith and Bobby Threadgill.

The sophomores are Bob Gobin, Wayne Howard, Charlie Jenkins, Bill O'Brien and Jeff Overhouse.

Tim Teichelman, 6-6, transfer from Blinn Junior College, and Mike Hazel, 6-7, back to finish his eligibility round out the prospects.

Coach Jim Culpepper's Fish basketballers will also begin drills Thursday.

Lettermen lost off last year's SWC runnerups include Mike Heitmann and Byron Chandler, the only senior lettermen and Jeff Watkins and Frank Farnsworth who transferred to other schools.

Coach Omar Smith's freshman tennis team will try for its second win without a loss this season Wednesday when they travel to Waco to meet the Baylor Freshmen.

Danny Courson, Jeff Carter, Bill Pecor, Kermit Smith and Mitch Barker will play for the Fish who opened their season with a 6-1 win over Central Texas Junior College.

Among the 43,075 fans on hand for the A&M-Texas Tech game Saturday were Texas Gov. Preston Smith and former President Lyndon Johnson, who also took in the Oklahoma-Texas battle in the Cotton Bowl Saturday afternoon.

Coach Gene Stallings said after the game Saturday Texas Tech has done a good job of convincing people (their foes) they were better than Tech.

"Tech has a fine football team, loaded with veterans, and I think behind Texas and Arkansas you have to figure Tech as next best."

Tech's Charlie Napper, who completed 12 of 14 passes in the encounter and converted successfully on 14 of 17 third down plays, said that the Aggie defense wouldn't let me throw anything but the short pass. They have a great secondary and with a couple of breaks could have had two more interceptions."

Napper was selected as the SWC offensive player of the week by the Associated Press, who's weekly poll moved the Raiders into the top twenty for the first time (17th), for his efforts. His favorite receiver Johnny Odom, who caught five passes for 64 yards, was second in the balloting. Tech defensive tackle Wayne McDermand and linebacker Mike Lord of the Aggies received votes for the defensive award, which was won by linebacker Randy Brahand of the University of Texas at Austin.

Student ticket sales for the TCU game ended Tuesday and for the Baylor game began today according to Business Manager Wally Groff.

Groff reminded students ticket sales for the game of each week end on the Tuesday of that week and ticket sales for the next game begin on Wednesday with graduates and seniors being able to buy them; Thursday for juniors; Friday for sophomores; Monday for Freshmen and Tuesday for any students who missed their day.

Hog offense red hot; Owl defense tops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
DALLAS (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks, running up over 40 points for the third week in a row in their 41-7 victory over Baylor Saturday, have taken the Southwest Conference total offense lead with 456.4 yards per game.

Rice, idle over the weekend, still holds the lead in total defense in allowing opponents only 202.0 yards per game.

Texas leads in rushing offense with a 355 yards per game average while the Hogs took over the passing lead, hitting for 214.8 yards per contest.

The Razorbacks are best against the rush limiting opponents to 96.2 yards on the ground while the Owls head the pass defense category in keeping their foes to 85.3 yards a game.

Individually, SMU's Gary Hammond leads all rushers with an average of 96.0 yards per game and is also tops in tandem offense with 136.8 yards per contest.

The Mustangs' Chuck Hixon leads in passing and his favorite receiver, Raymond Mapps, is first in the receiving category with 4.8 receptions averaged per game.

Arkansas' Bill Montgomery, with 180.6 yards per outing, is best in total offense while teammate Bill Burnett has 60 points on 10 touchdowns, double that of the next best in the scoring category.

Ed Marsh of Baylor, last year's national punting champion, has moved into the conference lead with a 40.5 yard average per kick.

Dave Elmendorf of Texas A&M leads in punt returns with a 13.1 return average and Horned Frog sophomore Raymond Rhodes is out front in kickoff returns with a 29.1 average.

Texas Tech's Bruce Bushong got one interception in the Red Raider victory over A&M to push his league leading total to four.

Bowling finals Wednesday night

By MIKE STEPHENS
Battalion Sports Writer

Intramural bowling playoffs are continuing with the final game slated Wednesday night at 7:30. All other sports are finishing their regular season schedules this week.

Class A football has four teams still undefeated. D-2 and Squadron 11 have 4-0 records with Squadron 2 and A-1 having 3-0 records. Class C shows McInnis having the best record at 4-0. Tanglewood, Tropicana, Phi Delta Sigma and Hughes each have a 3-0 record.

Class B basketball heads into its final week of league play with B-1, C-2, A-1, I-1, and M-1 all undefeated.

Results of bowling playoffs which have been continuing all week are as follows: Monday night, Squadron 13 beat D-2, Squadron 10 beat G-1, Squadron 5 defeated K-1 and A-1 drew a bye. Tuesday night showed Squadron 13 playing Squadron 10 and Squadron 5 playing A-1. Winners will play Wednesday night in the final game.

Several new classes of sports will be starting. Class C horse-shoes begin Oct. 19. Class B bowling will start Oct. 15.

A new sport for A&M will begin soon. Powder Puff football will begin as soon as two teams are organized. Any girl wishing to organize a team is invited to contact University Women as soon as possible.
