Folk singer Mary Smith to perform at Basement

Mary Smith, a pensive-mien folk, rock and blues singer with "a strong, crystal clear voice," will perform Nov. 12-14 in the Basement Coffee House.

A 20-year-old coffee house circuit singer working out of New York, Mary Smith offers a totally natural, honest performance that has caught the fancy of listeners and reviewers alike throughout the U. S.

She has sung at the Bitter End Cafe of New York, at universities from Rhode Island to Washington and Montana and has a Julliard scholarship to her credit.

The recorder of a Kappsingle, "Summer Go Slow," has been heard in the Southwest at Texas, SMU and Arkansas.

Miss Smith does Donovan's "Sunny Goodie Street," "What

Will We Do With The Child?" by Nicholas Holmes, Rick Studer's "Wouldn't It Be Nice To Make It?" and songs by Gordon Lightfoot, Tom Paxton and James Taylor.

While the music is not her own, the sound is strictly Mary Ellen Smith's. The thraarty contralto reared at Flint, Mich., goes full and mellow at times and then thin and ready, matching voice texture to needs of the song.

"Powerful and then poignant was one reviewer's description.

Miss Smith began her career at Flint when she was 11 years old. Big-time stardom came through the Sound of Youth U. S. A. national talent hunt, which she won at the NYC televised finals.

Mary was singing at the Bitter

End Cafe's Hootenanny when circuit directors heard her. She debuted on the circuit a few weeks later at Oneonta, N. Y., and has rarely stopped working since, either in coffee houses or concert.

Another Decca-labeled recording will soon be forthcoming.

Her November appearance at the Memorial Student Center Basement will coincide with the Rice-A&M football weekend.

Nov. 14 deadline for AF scholarship

Nov. 14 is the deadline for applying for the Air Force Scholarship Program for the 1971-72 school year.

Applications and further information can be obtained in room 205 of the Military Sciences Building.

Caughfield addresses economics seminar

Roy E. Caughfield, a 1965 Agricultural Economics graduate from Texas A&M, has advanced from a Management Trainee with the Bank of the Southwest in Houston to Vice President and Manager of the Correspondent Bank Department in only five years. Tuesday he returned to A&M to address the Senior Seminar in Agricultural Economics.

The 27 year old native of Harlingen joined the staff of the Bank of the Southwest in 1965 upon graduation from A&M. In 1967 he moved to the Correspondent Bank Department as a Representative and was named Assistant Cashier. In January 1969, Mr. Caughfield became Assistant Vice President. In early 1970, he was transferred to the Commercial Loan Department as Commercial Loan Officer. Then in March 1970, less than five years after graduating, he took over management of the Correspondent Bank Department and was named a Vice President of the Bank of the Southwest.

Article by Laverty to be published

An article by Dr. Carroll B. Laverty of A&M's English faculty has been requested for a future issue of "American Literature Abstracts."

The publication reviews current scholarship in American literature and presents abstracts of superior articles for the benefit of national and international scholars.

Laverty's article, "Some Touchstones of Hawthorne's Style," appeared in the summer, 1970, issue of "Emerson Society Quarterly." The Laverty article deals with several basic characteristics of the literary style of Nathaniel Hawthorne, considered by many as the originator of the American short story form.
