

All Doug had to do was hang on

Doug Neill

Groups fail to agree; so no championship tilt

The so-called "Depository Bowl" never came off Monday as the corps champions and civilian champions could never agree on terms. The meeting would have decided the school intramural football champion for 1970.

Two championships were decided last week in Class B ping-pong and Class C bowling. L-1 beat I-1 in pingpong and Keathley won over Puryear in the bowling final.

The first week of Class B football and Class A basketball games ended with several teams beginning the season on a winning note.

Squadrons 13, 2, 6, 8, 9, and B-1, E-1, G-1, B-2, C-2, C-1, E and F-2 all recorded victories in Class B football. All teams are continuing play this week in basketball and football.

Finals in Class A handball will be starting Monday. Still to be defeated are C-2, 4-0; E-1, H-2, 4-0; Squadron 13, 3-0; Squadron 2, 4-0; and Squadron 3, 3-0.

All Doug Neill really had to do to win a starting berth as Texas A&M's fullback was to hold onto the football.

Ever since he's been at A&M, the 6-1, 191-pound junior has been a determined runner. But, he'd fumble the football and that wasn't good.

It was in the Michigan game that Neill really went front and center. He broke once for a 45-yard run and he finished the game with 17 carries for 99 yards against a rugged defensive team.

A lot of folks then wondered: "Where did Doug Neill come from?" Well, he played a lot of football at Houston Sam Houston High where he was a tailback and he competed in track, running the 440 and on the sprint relay team. That meant he had a little speed.

At Texas A&M he's been a tailback, a linebacker and a fullback. Perhaps it is fitting that now he is a fullback and wears No.

39, a number that one John Kimbrough wore when the Aggies won the national title back in 1939.

Doug is a sharp young man and he's one who doesn't think that playing LSU, Ohio State and Michigan all on the road and back-to-back was good for the Aggies. "Playing those three didn't help us, that's for sure."

Neill isn't large for a fullback, but he has quickness and he isn't easy to bring down. He has strong legs and he runs with great determination.

Thus far this season he has averaged 4.5 yards per carry, having gained 364 yards on 81 tries. And, he has been thrown for a loss only once. In addition, he has caught 9 passes for 48 yards.

There's still a lot of football ahead this season for the Aggies and if all are as determined as Doug Neill, they'll start making good things happen.
