

Powderpuff play slated Thursday

A rematch of last month's powderpuff football game will be played Thursday at 5 p.m. on field 2, the intramural office announced Tuesday.

The Ramp 10 women of Law hall won the last meeting with the team from University Women by a 6-0 score. The game was viewed by over 100 people and more are expected Thursday for the second powderpuff game ever played at A&M.

The handball championship games for Class A and Class C will be held Wednesday at 5 o'clock. The semifinals were held Tuesday with K-1 playing H-2, Squadron 2 meeting E-1, Puryear playing Keithley and Davis-Gary playing Hughes.

Class C horseshoes finals begin Wednesday with the championship game Thursday at 5 p.m.

The third week of class B football is continuing with several teams still undefeated. They are Squadron 2, B-1, G-1 and F-2 with 3-0 records and Squadron 6, Squadron 9, B-2, and C-2 all with 2-0 records.

The teams looking strong in Class A basketball so far are Squadron 2, Squadron 9, B-1, L-1, A-2 and F-2. All have 2-0 records.

Smith named chairman of training group

Chief Instructor Henry D. Smith of the Firemen's Training School has been named chairman of the Fire Service Training Committee by the National Fire Protection Association's Board of Directors.

Smith replaces Chief Francis J. Sweeney of the New Haven (Conn.) Fire Department.

The 20-year A&M employee was elected chairman of Texas' nine-member Commission on Fire Protection Personnel Standards and Education earlier this year. He was named to the new commission by Gov. Preston Smith.

He joined the Firemen's Training School in 1950 and became chief in 1956.

Among his many honors is the $1,000 Distinguished Achievement Award presented by the Texas A&M Association of Former Students in 1964.

Police division conducts seminar

A&M's Police Training Division will conduct a three-day seminar for justice of the peace and constable officers Nov. 18-20 in Arlington.

Chief Instructor Ira E. Scott expects approximately 100 North Texas office holders to attend.

A&M received $31,568 from the Texas Criminal Justice Council to host five seminars throughout the state.

The purpose of the seminar, Scott said, is to give the JPs and constables an up-to-date understanding of their responsibilities and authority.

everything ever written at your fingertips."

He said this would solve the traffic problem since man could do 99 per cent of his work at home and would solve the problem of the city since there would no longer be any need to congregate physically. Man could congregate by communications. Many of man's pressing problems can be solved by space technology, he said.

If man can change his mental attitude, Clarke said, the year 2001 can mark the great divide between barbarism and civilization.

Approved texts said to be Marxist

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Board of Education approved Monday three world history and four biology books that were criticized for their treatment of communism and evolution.

The seven books were on a long list of texts in numerous subjects approved by the board for use in Texas public schools.

Local school boards may select books from a list of five in each subject.

Five board members voted against the book that most protested most vehemently, "A Global History of Man," published by Allyn & Bacon.

Mrs. Charles Baker of Sanger, textbook chairman for the Daughters of the American Revolution in Texas, and Mrs. Mel Gabler of Longview spoke against the book.

Both appeared at the state textbook committee's hearing in September.

Mrs. Baker directed most of her criticism against "A Global History of Man."

She said her fellow DAR's "stare and gasp" when they read it.

"I am amazed the state textbook committee and the commissioner of education have recommended a book such as this with its Marxist overtones," she said.

Mrs. Baker objected to a statement in the text that the "Monroe Doctrine remains a dirty word south of the border."

"I've lived on the border for 47 years, and they think it (the doctrine) is 'Yankee imperialism,'" commented board member Paul Greenwood of Harlingen.

Mrs. Gabler, her voice quivering, said biased textbooks are "the reason our young people are revolting on campus — because they are confused."

She said "A Global History of Man" is "completely unfit for American schools."

Mrs. Gabler also spoke against a seventh grade life science book, "Life: Its Forms and Changes," published by Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, and said her remarks also extended to three other life science books.
