

Yearlings bomb Fish with big second half

By JOHN CURYLO
Assistant Sports Editor
The Aggie Fish played even ball with the Texas Yearlings here Friday night, but they succumbed in the second half to the size and depth of the Shorthorns, as they dropped their fifth straight, 47-7, in a Shrine game before a crowd of 6,500 at Kyle Field. It looked, to many, like the end of the quest for victory by the Fish, who trailed at the half, 14-7, but who led in first downs 12-6, total offense 163-161, only punted twice, and were not penalized.

Going into the locker room, A&M led in all the individual categories.

On their first play from scrimmage Jim Moore sprinted 40 yards to the Aggie 29 for Texas on an end around. Seven plays later, Don Burrisk went over left tackle for the first of his three touchdowns. Louis Hart's conversion made it 7-0 with 9:29 left in the first quarter.

On their next possession on the first play, Burrisk exploded up the middle for 23 yards to set up a 38 yard scamper by Lonnie Bennett for his only score of the night. Hart's second PAT put the Fish down 14-0 with two-thirds of the opening period gone.

Pat Herring set up the Fish's lone score with a 20 yard punt return. Tim Trimmier hit passes of 12 to Mike Bruton, nine to Eric Elkins and seven to Roger Gaskamp in the drive that was completed when Herring scored from the one.

With that play, Herring was successful in scoring one TD in each game for the Fish. It was the fourth game in which he scored the only touchdown. Jeff Pollicoff made it 14-7, kicking his sixth extra point of the season.

Burrisk got his second touchdown on a six yard run with 11:46 remaining in the third period.

Another Fish fumble preceded Glenn Gaspard's first of two scores from the three, minutes later.

Burrisk then completed a 12 play drive for Texas getting his third touchdown on a three yard run.

Bud Trammell recovered at Texas fumble for the Aggies at the A&M 26 but the Fish were not relieved from the touchdown barrage, though, because three plays later, Dan Adams blocked a Bill Nutt punt and Gary Reissig returned it 24 yards for the score.

Billingsley lessened some of the hurt by blocking the conversion, his second of the season, having come close on numerous occasions.

Hart kicked off and the ball hit near the 15 and looked like it would roll out of bounds. However, instead of rolling out the ball spun backwards and Larry Dozier recovered for Texas at the A&M 20.

Gaspard eventually scored from less than a yard. Hart's kick was wide and the final score read 47-7.

Texas rips Ags

The University of Texas at Austin, behind eight goals scored by Bob Blodgett, defeated the Texas Aggies, 15-7, Saturday in a water polo match. Steve Henry scored three goals for A&M. Mike Hicks, Gordon Taylor, Tom Sparks and John Mcleary scored once each.

If General Electric can build an electric tractor, why can't they build an electric car?

General Electric is marketing a 14-horsepower rechargeable electric tractor capable of speeds up to 7 miles an hour.

We think it's a remarkable innovation. But an electric car it's not.

As a garden tractor for home use, Elec-Trak® can take advantage of characteristics that would be distinct disadvantages in an electric car.

The availability of fuel is no problem for Elec-Trak. It's designed for limited use near electrified structures, making overnight recharging possible.

The heavy weight of the battery, which would slow down a car, means greater applied traction for Elec-Trak.

Because Elec-Trak must travel at slow speeds to do its jobs, there are no aerodynamic energy losses to take into consideration.

Still, one might expect Elec-Trak to be the forerunner of a pollution-free automobile. Perhaps it is. But there are many crucial problems left to be solved.

The most important one, of course, is the development of a substantially better electric battery. Any car built today would be severely limited in range and performance, and probably prohibitively expensive.

General Electric is making progress on new batteries, but there's a long way yet to go.

We've experimented with zinc-air batteries. Sodium-sulfur batteries. Silver-zinc batteries. Lithium-halogen batteries. And others. There are problems with all of them. Problems of life-span, cost, practicality.

Despite the problems, General Electric scientists and engineers are working for the breakthrough that will make electric cars possible.

Maybe the breakthrough is closer than we think. But we'll continue to work and leave the predictions to someone else.

Why are we running this ad?

We're running this ad, and others like it, to tell you the things General Electric is doing to solve the problems of man and his environment today.

The problems concern us because they concern you. We're a business and you are potential customers and employees.

But there's another, more important reason. These problems will affect the future of this country and this planet. We have a stake in that future. As businessmen. And, simply, as people.

We invite your comments. Please write to General Electric, 570 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022.
