High school students may enter contest

High school students from throughout Texas have been invited to compete for awards in the 29th annual all-state drawing contest sponsored by A&M's Engineering Design Graphics department.

Dr. R. F. Vogel, associate professor and contest chairman, has announced that first through third place winners will be selected in five divisions.

Competition areas are first year drawing, second year working drawing, isometric pictorial drawing, architectural drawing, and hardware design. A student may enter in as many as four of the categories. Contest problems will be mailed shortly after January 1.

Vogel said the contests have drawn upwards of 15,000 entries in past years. High school teachers screen the local drawings and submit the top three in each division for final judging by twelve faculty members of the department.

"Friends" should contact the A&M Library, College Station, 77843.

The organization is a tax exempt, non-profit one, so dues and contributions are deductible for tax purposes.

Food services helps local needy family

The employees of the Department of Food Services, with the assistance of the Bryan City Mission, have selected a needy family to support for Christmas.

A committee has been formed to place containers in each dining hall and the Memorial Student Center cafeteria. These can be filled with candies, toys, clothing, canned goods and money.

The employees plan to collect items between Dec. 14-18 and present them to the family Dec. 19.

Fred W. Dollar, Food Services director, said, "This is a project the employees wanted to undertake. We all hope to make it successful."

fornia debates during the Christmas class recess.

The four-member team will debate in tournaments Dec. 23-Jan. 10 at UCLA, the University of Redlands and the University of Southern California, announced Debate Coach Robert C. Leitz of the English Department faculty.

A&M debaters won five trophies at the Southern Connecticut State College Tournament in New Haven in late November, taking the third place negative team trophy in the novice division.

A&M, the only representative from the Southwest among 67 teams at the meet, defeated Columbia, Massachusetts, Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Penn State, New York, Wesleyan and Maryland teams.

Marzec, forestry major, receives scholarship

Steven Marzec of College Station, freshman forestry major, has received a $200 College of Agriculture scholarship in recognition of academic achievement and activities in high school.

Presentation of the award was made by William T. Sistrunk, Brazos County Agricultural Agent.

In high school Steven was a N.E.D.T. Award winner, in the Order of the Arrow, second place in district wrestling, and in the camera club.

The freshman is among recipients of scholarships in a program in its second year supported by A&M faculty, staff members, and alumni to attract outstanding young men and women to the university.

Firemen's school starts Jan. 18

The Texas Firemen's Training School will begin its second recruit firemen school Jan. 18, announced Chief Instructor Henry D. Smith.

The six-week program will be conducted at Brayton Firemen Training Field on the A&M campus.

Texas Firemen's Training School is a division of the university's Engineering Extension Service.

"This course is designed especially for the recruit and includes basic fire-fighting techniques and apparatus operations," Smith noted.

Classes are limited to 16 students. Advanced registration is necessary.

Debate team meets California schools

A&M's debate team takes recent success into a series of California debates during the Christmas class recess.

The organization is a tax exempt, non-profit one, so dues and contributions are deductible for tax purposes.

Friends of Library new organization

Formation of an organization known as Friends of the A&M Library has been announced by John B. Smith.

The library director said "Friends" will function as a body of interested bibliophiles, scholars and laymen who will assist the library in obtaining support for book and materials purchases and gifts.

"Friends" also will serve as good will ambassadors, bringing in other individuals interested in books and libraries, Smith said, pointing out that most large academic libraries have such organizations.

Membership is available in several categories. A student may join for $2 per year; contributing member, $5; associate, $10, sustaining, $25; patron, $100 or more per year, and life member, $1,000 or more.
