$4 million given A&M during '69-'70

Gifts and grants to Texas A&M totaled more than $4 million in 1969-70, Dorsey E. McCrory of the university's Development Office has announced.

"It was the most successful year ever in the development program of Texas A&M University," the development director said.

Gifts and grants during 1969-70 reached $4,042,067.11, a 13 percent increase over 1968-69 and more than doubling 1963-64 giving.

McCrory said gifts to the Aggie Club and Association of Former Students are not included unless such monies have been passed to the university for final disposition and use.

He said the result is due, among other things, to the reputation enjoyed by Texas A&M, its students, faculty and staff in Texas and the nation.

Southerland is a civilian advisor to the Commandant's Office and Fish Drill Team advisor.

The meeting marks the beginning of the club's 49th year.

Mrs. Earl Rudder, honorary president, and Mrs. A. R. Lued-ecke, acting honorary president, both of College Station, will attend, Mrs. Dibrell noted.

Plans to aid the educational programs at the university will be discussed during the meeting, Mrs. Dibrell added.

Exes honored by armed forces

A new command, promotion and a decoration have been received by Texas A&M graduates in the U. S. Army.

The Bronze Star Medal was pinned on Maj. Richard R. Noack, 1959 grad of Waoc, at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. He earned the award with the 156th Aviation Company in Vietnam. Noack was 1st Battalion scholastic officer, a member of Battery "A" Field Artillery and a marketing major at A&M.

First Lt. Samuel R. Furrh of

Wills Point assumed command of the 406th Transportation Detachment of the 180th Transportation Battalion at Fort Hood. The 1966 grad who received the master's degree here last year studied agricultural economics and was in Company G-1.

Promoted to captain near Phuoc Vinh, Vietnam, was Carl H. Neumann of Houston. Captain Neumann is commander of Battery A, 2nd Battalion of the 1st Cavalry Division's 20th Artillery. He completed marketing studies in 1968 and was in Company E-1.

'68 grad receives new command

Army 1st Lt. Patrick G. Rehmet of Alice commands the 159th Ordnance Detachment at Fort Hood.

The 1968 Texas A&M graduate who held numerous key student posts as a senior has headed the missile maintenance support unit three months. Rehmet previously was the detachment shop officer and executive officer.

The former deputy corps commander and SCONA XIII chairman was at Redstone Arsenal after attending Ordnance Guided Missile School and the basic course at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

Six shows planned by cinema group

"Bridge Over the River Kwai" leads off six Aggie Cinema movies scheduled for the spring semester at Texas A&M.

The Memorial Student Center committee-sponsored series begins Jan. 23 with the feature starring Alex Guinness and William Holden, announced chairman David Anschutz.

All films in the Saturday series begin at 8 p.m. in the MSC Ballroom.

The spring schedule includes "W. C. Fields Night" on Feb. 6; "From Here to Eternity," March 20; "Zulu," March 26; "Science Fiction Night," April 17, and "Under the Yum Yum Tree," May 1.

A Jules Verne adventure, "Mysterious Island," and "Earth vs. the Flying Saucers" are to be screened for the April 17 special. "Zulu" was postponed to the late March date from the fall semester.

Admission to Aggie Cinema is 40 cents per student, Anschutz said.

Business college has guest prof

The College of Business Administration has announced that R. Warwick Dobson will be a Business Executive in Residence in the Department of Accounting for the spring semester.

Dobson is a consultant on management information systems with the management consulting firm of Urwick, Orr International, London, England. He is a Chartered Accountant of Scotland and a Fellow of the Institute of Cost and Works Accountants of England.

Dobson is the author of several books on cost accounting and management information and was awarded the silver medal of the Institute of Cost and Works Accountants for services to accounting education.

Sophomore named campus test driver

Orval Brown, sophomore pre-med student, has been selected as one of 523 student campus representatives in a national Vega test drive program sponsored by the Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corp.

Brown has been asked to display the car around campus and give test drives to fellow students in exchange for the use of a new Vega for three months.

A Chevrolet spokesman explained the purpose of the program is to "allow students the first hand opportunity of seeing and driving the Vega which they believe, because of its styling, price and size is of particular interest to today's college student." Youth Marketing, Inc., launched the Vega Test Drive Program for Chevrolet last spring, and drew over 150,000 entry forms from students across the country.

English mathematician to give lecture

L. M. Delves of the University of Liverpool will conduct a mathematics colloquium here Thursday.

Delves, computational science professor at the British university, will speak on "The Convergence of Variational Calculations." Math Department head Dr. G. R. Blakley said the 4 p.m. colloquium will be in Room 207 of the Academic Building. A coffee at 3:30 p.m. will be in Room 211 nearby.

Mothers' Clubs board meets here Saturday

Members of the Executive Board, Federation of Texas A&M University Mothers' Clubs, will hold their first 1971 meeting Saturday on campus.

Mrs. Carter M. Dibrell of Brenham, federation president, said activities will begin at 9 a.m. with

The Church.. For a Fuller Life.. For You..

TO TURN AGAIN

In winter the pond freezes over, and the old mill wheel is idle. But although the landscape appears dormant, there is hidden life beneath the surface. One day it will be spring again, with water rushing over the mill wheel and corn being ground into meal.

If you have been living in a winter of your own, why not take a lesson from the old mill? The winters of our life are bleak—they are hard to weather. But forever and ever there is the chance to start again. Spring will come and your church will sustain you through doubt and disappointment and give you promise of another chance—another life.
