Ags upset Tech, face Longhorn challenge

By CLIFFORD BROYLES
Battalion Sports Editor

"We play well but we just haven't been shooting well," Coach Shelby Metcalf has been using those same words just about all season long, but Saturday afternoon his team played well and they shot well enroute to a 66-64 win over the Texas Tech Red Raiders in the Raiders' own back yard, Lubbock Municipal Coliseum, which was packed beyond its capacity of more than 8,000.

The Aggies shot 48.9 percent from the floor and gave the Raiders their first loss at home in conference play this season. Tonight the Aggies try to equal their longest winning streak of the year when they host the University of Texas at Austin at 8 in G. Rollie White Coliseum.

A&M had a six-game winning streak over the Longhorns snapped when the two teams met in the first round in Austin. The Aggies lost the first meeting at the foul line when Texas attempted 52 free throws, making 34. Four Aggies fouled out—Steve Niles, Rick Duplantis, Jeff Overhouse and Chuck Smith—leaving the team with no real rebounding strength in the fading minutes as it tried to overcome a UT-Austin lead. In the first meeting the Longhorns got outstanding work from Tyler Junior College transfer Jimmy Blacklock, who scored 21 and had 11 of 21 from the field, mostly on long jump shots.

Billy Black, who played in high school with the Aggies' Steve Niles, scored 15 in the first meeting and Scooter Lenox, who got 15, will be in the back court for UT-Austin. Lynn Howden and B. G. Brosterhouse, the two guns inside for Texas, are averaging 14.8 and 11.3 respectively and are averaging near double figures in rebounds.

In their last game, with the University of Arkansas, all five Longhorn starters scored in double figures, despite the fact they lost 88-87 in overtime.

That loss trims them to a 4-6 season mark, and A&M's win over Tech makes the Aggies now 3-7 and a win would tie the two schools with two games remaining.

The Aggies will start Charlie Jenkins out front against the Longhorns. Although not starting, Jenkins played well and hit a crucial bucket in the overtime period against Tech.

"Bob Gobin and Jenkins were really passing up the opposition coming down the floor," Metcalf said and noted that this gave the Aggies a 5 on 4 offense.

"We haven't been getting that," he added. Aside from Jenkins, the Ags will start the same four who played against Tech.

Jeff Overhouse, who has to be the league's top candidate for Sophomore of the Year, hit on 11 of 17 as he put on an impressive show before the television cameras of the regionally televised battle. He finished with 27 points and grabbed 12 rebounds, by senior Chuck Smith.

Smith, who had 14 points despite putting up only 5 field goal attempts and Niles, who snapped out of slump with 14 points and 7 rebounds, will round out the front court.

It was Niles who made the final difference when he netted a layup with one second to go in the overtime period to break the tie.

Both teams displayed a disciplined offensive style and the Aggies took advantage to take the measure of the Raiders, despite blowing a six point lead in regulation time.

It looked like another typical Aggie finish when they missed several late chances to break the game open at the foul line.

For once the Aggies took less shots than their opponent but once again the team that took fewer shots managed to win, and that's what counts.

Tech hit on 24 of 61, and was stymied by the Ag's zone defense. Greg Lowery, the leading outside gunner, hit only 5 of 17 and Gene Knolle was only 4 of 15.

"We started out playing a mixture of the man to man and zone and the zone worked pretty well for us so we stayed with it," Metcalf said.

The Aggies started slow and when the game was four minutes deep the score had A&M lead-gotten as the Aggies jubilantly celebrated their upset of the Raiders.

In the preliminary game tonight, the Aggie Fish, who have not played a game in 10 days and haven't won one in 20, play the University of Texas at Austin Freshmen at 5:45.

The Fish have dropped their last two starts and are 5-4 for the season. The Yearlings started that streak with a 96-62 romp on Feb. 9 in Austin as Lawrence Johnson and Larry Robinson of the Yearlings intimidated the Fish with a super show of blocking shots.

Coach Jim Culpepper will start Randy Knowles, the team's leading scorer with a 20.2 average, and Bobby McKey, with a 12.7 mark. Johnny Mayo, the leading rebounder, has a 12.2 mark and Jack Vest has a 6.9 average. Joe Arciniaga is also averaging 6.9.

"That was the first time I ever faced anything like that," the high school All-American from Ohio Knowles said, referring to the constant shot-blocking of Johnson and Robinson. "I guess I got a little shook up, but we know what we're facing this time and we'll be ready."

Ag netters blank St. Edwards, 7-0

The Texas Aggie tennis team won its third straight dual match without a loss Saturday afternoon as the Aggies defeated St. Edwards University of Austin, 7-0 on varsity courts.

A&M now owns wins over the University of Houston and Texas A&I as well as the Big State Conference team.

The Aggies played without their numbers one and two players, Jon Ragland and Dickie Fikes, who sat out the match.

"A couple of singles matches, Chastain's and Park's were real tough ones, but they came on to win in split sets and that's what counts," Coach Omar Smith commented of the match. "Our doubles team played well and didn't have any trouble."

The Aggies will have no dual matches this week but will be entered in the Corpus Christi Invitational tournament Thursday through Saturday, which will have five of the top seven teams in the country entered.

Results of the St. Edwards match are:

Singles: Mike Hickey, A&M, defeated Richard Poppe, St. Edwards, 6-1 6-3.

Tommy Connell, A&M, defeated Ricardo Castillo, St. Edwards, 6-2 6-1.

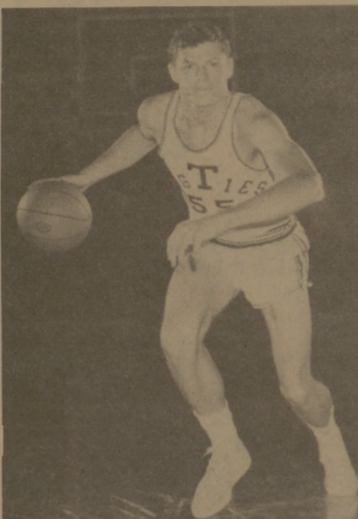

Lawton Park, A&M, defeated John Waddell, St. Edwards, 1-6 8-6, 6-4.

Dan Courson, A&M, defeated Mark Goulais, St. Edwards, 6-2 6-2.

David Chastain, A&M, defeated Bill DeMyers, St. Edwards, 5-7 6-3 6-3.

Doubles: Paul Lotherop and Mike Mills, A&M, defeated Poppe and Castillo, St. Edwards, 6-1 6-0.

Kermit Smith and Jeff Carter, A&M, defeated Goulais and DeMyers, St. Edwards, 6-3 6-4.

Tankers split two meets

By MICHAEL RICE
Battalion Sports Writer

The Texas Aggie swim team came home Saturday night with another win and another loss in its pocket as it thoroughly splashed Eastern New Mexico out of the water Friday night at Portales, N. M., with a runaway score of 98-13.

And while the Aggie basketball team was busy beating Texas Tech at Lubbock, the Raiders' swim team trounced the A&M swimmers by almost the same score the Texas swim team downed the Ags Tuesday, 72-41.

Looking at the ENMU swim meet, the Aggies managed to place first and second in every event except for the 1000-yard freestyle, where Eric Wolff placed first with a time of 11:00.2, and Steve Prentice placed third with an 11:21.4. The other event was the 500-yard freestyle where Dan Sonnenberg qualified first with 5:17.0 and John Allred came in third with 5:56.3.

Other first place finishers were Gordon Taylor in the 200-yard freestyle and the 200-yard backstroke; Mike Hicks in the 50-yard freestyle and the 200-yard butterfly; Tom Sparks in the 200-yard individual medley; and Steve Prentice in the 200-yard backstroke.

Also the medley relay team of John McCleary, Fred Meyers, Duncan Cooper and Sparks, and the freestyle relay team of Steve Sonnenberg, McCleary, Doug Carson and Meyers, placed first in the meet.

Duncan Cooper, an A&M diver, placed first in the 1-meter and 3-meter diving competition. Commenting on the results of the meet with ENMU, Coach Dennis Fosdick said, "We were experimenting at this meet to find the best possible spot to place our swimmers for the conference meet, while giving the boys a break from what they usually swim. I think they swam fairly well considering they usually don't swim these events."

"But the meet in Lubbock was a different story," he said. "Our boys were just swimming tired, so we're going to be easing off this week and only have one workout per day by cutting the morning workouts out of our schedule."

"We did have some good efforts," Fosdick continued. "Eric Wolff did another outstanding job in the 200-yard freestyle with a 1:49:8 and the freestyle relay team of McCleary, Taylor, Wolff and Sparks turned in a 3:29:1, just one second off the school record."

Wolff and the relay team earned first places, and Steve Prentice placed first in the 200-yard backstroke for A&M.

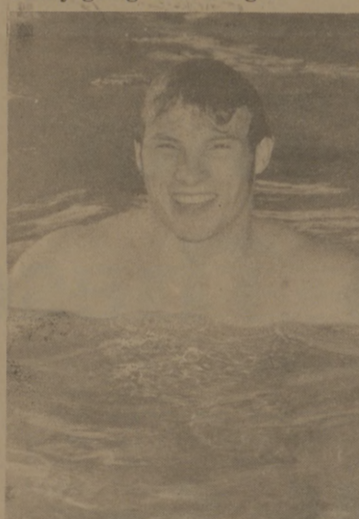

Placing second for the Aggies were Sparks in the 50-yard freestyle; Hicks in the 200-yard individual medley and the 200-yard backstroke; Bobby Willoughby in the 200-yard butterfly; and Carson in the 200-yard breaststroke.

Other point-getters for A&M were Dan Sonnenberg, McCleary, Cooper and Taylor.

"Our times are beginning to come back down," Fosdick said. "They have to, because we're swimming sixth-ranked SMU this coming weekend, and they're really going to be rough."
