A&M Rugby Team bows to Texas

Only managing to score once in the whole game, the A&M II team of the Texas A&M Rugby Club fell to the Austin Rugby Club 5-3, Saturday. "Big" Bob Elmore kicked across the three points for the A&M squad.

"The wind played a large factor in our loss," commented Roger Boos, coach. "We would have scored another time, but the wind blew the ball back in our faces. We kept the ball up with the forwards most of the time and the ball stayed mostly within Austin's 20-yard line. Only frantic efforts on Austin's part kept them from losing."

The club tentatively plays St. Edwards this weekend. It has not been determined where the game will be held, if played.
