

Ags host Lamar Saturday

By CLIFFORD BROYLES
Battalion Sports Editor

What should prove to be an outstanding weekend for the pitchers will be on tap as the Lamar Tech University Cardinals visit Kyle Field for a doubleheader Saturday at 1 p. m.

A&M, currently 5-1 for the season, will meet a team that finished second in the Southland Conference last year and has a 4-4-1 record this season.

The Cardinals return their top three pitchers from last year's 20-17 unit but are having to rebuild their infield, where they lost everybody.

The Cardinals' three pitchers are 6-4 225 senior Danny Hetzel, was 4-0 last year with a sparkling 1.04 era. Rich Leedy was 2-2 with a 1.56 era. David Ben-sen was 3-3 with a 1.78.

The Aggies are hitting the home stretch before conference, as they will have a doubleheader Tuesday on Kyle Field with Sam Houston at 1 p. m., who they split with Tuesday in Huntsville, before opening SWC play next weekend with a three-game home series against Southern Methodist University.

Coach Tom Chandler has named senior righthanders Pat Jamison to start Saturday's opener. Jamison has been used primarily in relief since joining the Aggie staff last year from Blinn Junior College. He has pitched three innings in two games this season with a 0-0 record and 3.00 era. Freshman Jackie Binks, who has pitched 7 scoreless innings in a row after allowing three runs in his first varsity inning, will pitch the second game. Binks shutout St. Edwards for six innings in his last appearance and has a 1-0 record with a 3.37 era.

Only one change is expected in the A&M lineup with Jimmy Langford missing the doubleheader because of the flu. Jimmy Hacker will replace the Aggie shortstop, but will play third base. Butch Ghutzman will move to shortstop.

The starting lineup for the Aggies and their averages were: Ghutzman, shortstop, .318; R. J. Englert, leftfield, .500; Dave Elmendorf, centerfield, .500; Billy Hodge, catcher, .438; Chris Sans, first base, .227; Jim Sampson, right field, .222; Jimmy Hacker, third base, .200; Carroll Lilly, second base, .600; Jamison, 0-0 3.00.

Aggies in fifth

SMU holds big swim lead

By MICHAEL RICE

Jumping off to an early lead in the Southwest Conference Swimming Championships, SMU added up 184 points and swept to first place in all five events Thursday in Austin.

Coach Red Barr's heavily favored Mustangs have won 14 consecutive conference meets. A&M was the last team to win conference before SMU's winning streak started in 1957.

Last year the Mustangs took 15 of the 18 events and made 725 points to outscore runner-up Texas by 334½ points. Out of 11 returning meet champions, nine of them are from SMU.

Turning to the present, A&M is fifth in point totals through the first of three days of competition with 59 points. Texas is second with 102 points; Texas Tech is third with 83 points while Arkansas has a one point lead over A&M with 60 points. TCU is running a close race for last against Rice, with the Frogs leading 18-14.

Coach Dennis Fosdick, in his first year at A&M, feels that his swimmers are doing well.

"We are having some great performances," he said. "Take Dan Sonnenberg for an example. Although he didn't qualify for the finals in the 500 yard freestyle, he swam his lifetime best in the event with a 5:08, seven seconds better than his previous best and only three seconds away from qualifying for the finals."

As always, the good is usually accompanied with the bad as was the case with Eric Wolff and Tom Sparks.

"Eric," continued Fosdick, "was just too over-confident. He wasn't worried about not making the finals and as a result he didn't make them. If he had shaved down like he should have he probably would have qualified. It's a bad break, though, we sure could use the points."

Sparks, who had a strong chance of reaching the finals in the 50 yard freestyle, missed his turn at the hard-to-see deep-end of the pool, and consequently didn't make the finals.

Steve Prentice, freshman swimming ace from Pasadena's South Houston High School, swam in the finals of 200 yard individual medley setting a new school record of 2:01.36. Because he swam slowly in the prelims, he only made the consolation final taking first in his heat of event or seventh overall.

Earlier in the day Mike Hicks had set a record in the same event with 2:03.6, broke that time with a 2:03.1 in the finals, but was still beaten by Prentice's time. Hicks did place fifth in the consolation finals.

John McCleary swam his best time in the 50 yard freestyle with a speedy 22.24, beating his time of 22.5. He also placed fifth in the finals.

The real surprise of the meet came in the one meter diving which saw Duncan Cooper and Greg Rippey both place in the consolation finals, Cooper, tenth and Rippey, twelfth. This was Rippey's first year to dive.

Also pulling in points, but letdown for the Aggies was the 400 medley relay team of Prentice, Sparks, Doug Carson, and Bobby Willoughby, which placed fifth.

"The people that worked hardest," said Fosdick, "are getting rewards. Those who are half-heartedly in workouts as only swimming half-hearted here. But I think we'll have some more surprises."

Trackmen meet Owls again

By JOHN CURYLO

The Texas Aggie track team journeys to Baton Rouge for a meet Saturday with Rice and LSU, in hopes of overcoming numerous injuries to key personnel.

Coach Charlie Thomas' thin-clads are fresh from a second place finish at the Border Olympics in Laredo last weekend, although they ran without some of their top point winners.

A&M tied the Owls here two weeks ago, and were barely nosed out last week. The team was not at full strength for either of these meets.

"If we can get everybody well, we should be able to take it," Thomas said. A variety of injuries, a death, and an illness will keep several Aggies from performing in top condition or even making the trip.

Willie Blackmon will attend the funeral of his uncle. He ran a 1:52.7 in the 880 here against Rice. Also not making the trip will be Mitch Robertson, a shot putter, whose wife is ill.

Among the injured are Curtis Mills, Marvin Mills, and Kris Johnson. Curtis was injured in the Border Olympics, hurting his ankle, knee, and shoulder in a fall. Thomas reports that he is coming around pretty good.

Marvin, on the other hand, pulled a hamstring muscle in the Astrodome several weeks ago. He competed for the first time last week, but he did not run in the finals.

"He'll make the trip," Thomas said, "but we've made no decision about what he'll run. We may put him in the mile relay, but beyond that, I really can't say."

Johnson, the number two javelin thrower, is having trouble with his elbow. Marc Black, the top performer in the event for the Aggies, placed first at Laredo with a heave of 231-8. He is expected to do even better this week.

Thomas is also pleased with miler Frank Ybarbo. Ybarbo will compete in the mile at Baton Rouge, but it is not known if he will double by entering the three mile run.

Another reliable bright spot for A&M has been Rockie Woods. Thomas said he is looking "real good" and that he will run in the 100 and the 220. The coach added that the hurdlers and the vaulters have been doing well and working hard.

Other top events should be the 440 yard relay, the high jump, and the pole vault. Depending on the health of some of the sprinters, the sprint relay is an Aggie race. In the high jump, Ben Greathouse and Marvin Taylor have been doing a 6-8, taking a first, two seconds, and a third between them in the season's first two outdoor meets. In the pole vault, Harold McMahan cleared 16 feet for the first time two weeks ago. This may not touch Rice's Dave Roberts, who could go over 17 feet in Louisiana, but it will be interesting to note the comparative progress of the two athletes.

Some of the Aggies to watch will be Steve Barre and Donny Rogers in the 100, Rogers in the 220, Don Kellar in the intermediate hurdles, and the quartet Thomas will pick for the mile relay.

Barre's best in the century came in Laredo when he ran a preliminary of 9.5. Rogers has been clocked in 9.8 in the 100 and 21.7 in the 220. He will probably be on the sprint relay team also. In the 440 yard hurdles, Kellar was second with a 52.0 in Laredo. David Morris was fifth with 53.9 in the same meet.

The mile relay has been both good and bad to the Aggies this year. Against Rice, the final event was the one that gave A&M the tie, but last week the same performance would have meant a team victory for the Aggies. If the right combination is well and rested, A&M could get some valuable points here. The best performance was at Kyle Field, when Robert Brew, Skelly Strong, Kellar, and Curtis Mills ran a winning time of 3:10.3.

The triangular meet can give A&M some valuable experience and a chance to improve. If some of the injured come around, the Aggies will be well on their way to defending the Southwest Conference championship they won in fine fashion a year ago.

Norton elected to Hall

Homer Norton, who guided Texas A&M football to its highest point—a national championship in 1939 and an unbeaten season—was one of four pioneers of college football coaching named to the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame.

All four are deceased and installation into the hall will be made at special ceremonies in the Pioneer category.

Named along with Norton were Jesse Clair Harper, who achieved great success at Notre Dame from 1913-18; George Foster Samford, who was Columbia's first paid coach and won twice as many as he lost in 11 years at Rutgers; and Francis Schmidt, who earned fame at Tulsa, Arkansas, Texas Christian and Ohio State.

In 1939, Norton's Aggies rolled to 11 straight wins, including a 14-13 win over Tulane in the Sugar Bowl. The '39 team set a national record by holding their opponents to a record low of 76.3 yards per game.

That unbeaten season was the middle of the longest winning streak in the school's history, 19. The streak started with a 27-0 win over Rice in the final game of the 1938 season. It ended with a 7-0 loss to the University of Texas (now University of Texas at Austin) in the final game of the 1940 campaign.

Norton headed A&M football for 14 years, winning two outright conference championships and tying for a third tilt. During his 14 years, A&M won 82, lost 53 and tied 9.

He also coached baseball and track at A&M during the World War II years and was named to the Texas A&M Athletic Hall of Fame in 1965.

"Quality First"

The Church.. For a Fuller Life.. For You..

When Tom retired, it seemed as if his dreams had come true. For years he and Grace had been planning. There would be that little pink house in Florida and time to do all the things they wanted. They could keep in touch with their friends back home, and there would be occasional visits back and forth.

What they hadn't realized was how much they would miss their church. It had been such a part of their life! Now it seemed that no other church could fill the gap. In fact, they didn't go to another church their first few weeks in Florida.

But finally one Sunday they went to the little church they had been passing each day on the way to the golf course. True, it wasn't like the church back home—outwardly. But, when you got down to essentials, it was the same.

If you have moved to another community, find a new church home. Regardless of its appearance, remember that it is God's House and in it you will be welcome.
