

Handyman Kelley paces Aggies over Bearkats

By CLIFFORD BROYLES
Battalion Sports Editor

Charlie Kelley did it all Tuesday afternoon in the first game and Pat Jamison came on to get the final out of a wild second game as the Texas Aggies extended their winning streak to five with 3-2 and 8-7 wins over the Sam Houston State University Bearkats.

Kelley relieved Aggie starter Bruce Katt in the fifth inning of the first game, pitched three scoreless innings, started a double play to blunt one rally, helped A&M get its first score with a sacrifice bunt and then won it with a two-run double in the bottom of the sixth.

Jamison relieved Paul Czerwinski in the top of the ninth inning of the nightcap and retired Kelly Smith on a ground out to Butch Ghutzman, who made an outstanding throw on a tough play to prevent the tying run from scoring. Sam Houston already had scored four times in the inning after trailing 8-3.

It was the fifth consecutive game for the Aggies in which the final score had been 3-2, and the fourth they've won, but it was earned hard as David Berger kept the Aggies under complete control until Kelley unloaded his second hit of the year in only five times at the plate for the Ags, now 9-1.

Sam Houston got to Katt for a pair of unearned runs in the opener as the lefthander got in his final tuneup before conference day on Friday.

Carroll Lilly opened the fifth for A&M with a sharp single to right and then Kelley laid down the good sacrifice and Ghutzman punched a hard single to left but Lilly held at third, and finally scored when the Bearkat second baseman dropped a throw on a force play on Ghutzman.

In the sixth, Jim Sampson worked his way for a walk and then Chris Sans, attempting to sacrifice, rolled one by the pitcher for a hit. Then Jimmy Langford moved them up with a sacrifice but Lilly popped out. That brought up Kelley, who stroked a Berger pitch over the center-fielder's head, scoring both runners.

In the second game, The Aggies seemed in command of the situation after scoring two runs in the bottom of the second that tied the score at 2-2. They pushed across two runs each in the third and fifth and then sacrifice fly balls by Ghutzman and Denny Beall sent home the final two runs.

Sam Houston got most of their yardage in the second game on wildness and errors as lefthander Jim Wallace surrounded perfect first and third innings with a very shaky second. After leading the bases on a single, a walk and an infield hit with two on, Wallace walked the next two batters, forcing in runs.

Jackie Binski took over for middle three and was the victim of his own error and a couple bloop singles for a run in the fifth. Like Wallace, his last two innings were flawless.
