Two Aggies at NCAA swim meet

Aggie swimmers Eric Wolff and Steve Prentice left Tuesday for the NCAA Swimming Championships Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Iowa State University in Ames, Iowa.

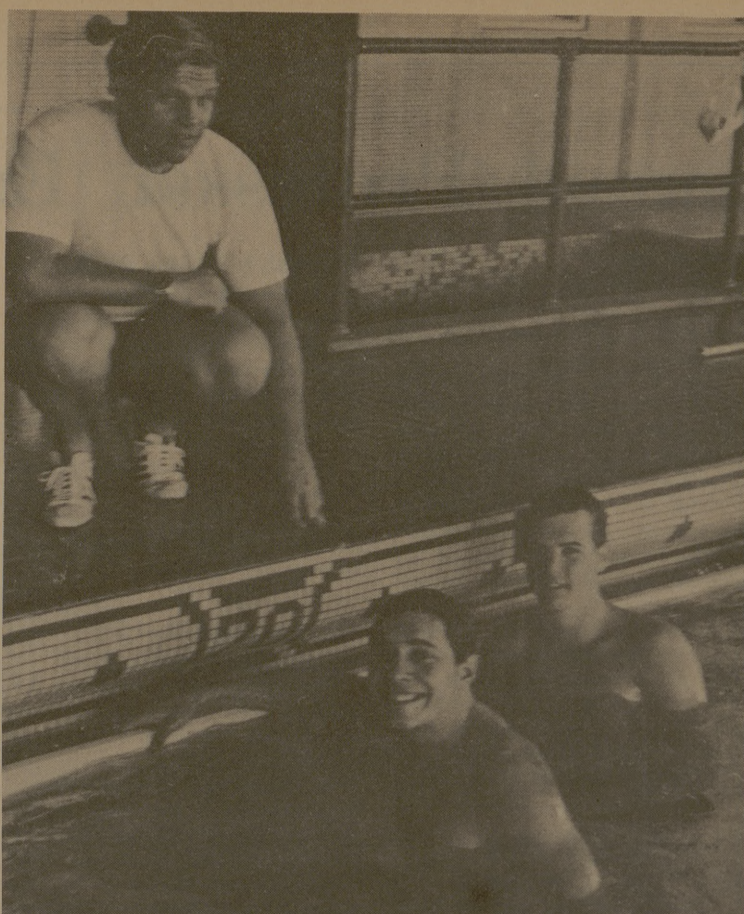

Wolff qualified in two events two weeks ago in the conference swimming meet. Those events are the 100- and 200-yard freestyle. Prentice, who qualified early in the swimming season in the 100- and 200-yard backstroke, also will be entered in the 200-yard individual medley.

Squadron 2 wins volleyball title

Squadron 2 added another championship to its growing list Tuesday by defeating C-2 for the Class A volleyball crown. The Lions Club also won by ousting 57-B in Class C volleyball championships.

Playoffs in Class B softball and Class C tennis begin Wednesday, March 24. On the same day, Class A and C softball will begin.

Class A and B tennis begins Thursday. It will be the first time for the classes to be combined. Lack of time has been the cause of the combining this year.

Stallings happy with first day

Coach Gene Stallings said he was very pleased with the effort Tuesday after he watched his more than 100 football prospects go through about two hours of drills in the first day of spring football practice.

"We had some real good effort, but we've got a long way to go and we'll get there," Stallings said.

The Aggies came through the first day without any injuries and this was especially pleasing at the linebacker spot where Steve Luebbehusen, Gary McCaffrey and Dennis Carruth played little—and when they did, played with injuries—last season. All put in a healthy first day.

Running back Clifford Thomas, who suffered a shoulder separation the first workout last fall and missed the entire season after starting out as the number one right halfback, was back in action Tuesday and according to Stallings also will do some work at the safety spot vacated by All-America Dave Elmendorf, one of four seniors to complete his eligibility.

Linebacker Mike Lord, offensive lineman Andy Philleary and defensive back Chris Johnson, who had surgery last year also being injured, will miss spring practice as they still are in rehabilitation period. They get in some running but will not take part in contact work.

Aggie golfers top Rice 5-1

The Aggie golfers got back to the conference race yesterday by defeating Rice 5-1 in Houston.

Rice's only point came on the ties, with Owl basketball player Gary Reist playing in the number one match.

A&M's Tom Johnson downed Reist by being ahead by 10 holes with one to play. Steve Veriato beat John Scott with the same score.

Tom Gilbert won his match with Allan Ahren 3 and 2. Tom Shelton split his duel with Bill Lee, each getting half of the point.

In team play, Johnson and Gilbert joined to put down Reist and Ahren, while Veriato and Shelton split with Scott and Lee, giving Rice its other half point.

The linksters meet Baylor in another dual match here Saturday, and then they visit Texas Tuesday.

Minnesota test for Ag hurlers

The Texas Aggies have a week where they'll get to see some pitchers who have seen little or no work, as they must save their aces for a crucial three-game series at Rice this weekend.

Coach Tom Chandler has decided to give six pitchers some work in the Wednesday doubleheader and then give the ball to two pitchers who haven't worked any on Thursday as they meet the University of Minnesota in a four-game series.

Bruce Katt and Paul Corvaski, slated to start the two games at Rice on Friday, definitely will not see action in the series.

Charlie Jenkins, now through with basketball season, will play his first action in the Wednesday first game and he's down to four innings. Jackie Binkley is slated for the fifth inning and Pat Jamison the last two.

Jim Wallace will pitch four innings in the second game. Sam Camilli will toss the first and Charlie Kelley the last two. Joseph Garrett, sophomore from Fort Worth, will pitch Thursday's first game and Norm Montgomery is scheduled to win the game.

Both doubleheaders are set for 1 p.m. on Kyle field.
